

Safety and Convenience

The Safe Deposit Boxes in the new steel vault are a great convenience and a safe place for your valuables. The boxes rent for $1.00 a year and you can well afford to keep your papers and other valuables in a place where you know they are safe from fire or loss from other causes.

We give you the keys and you have access to your box at all times during banking hours.

Our equipment represents the MOST MODERN CONSTRUCTION in steel boxes of this kind.

Call and inspect this new outfit.

Wood County Nat'l Bank

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

OUR STOCK

Good line selected Lumber. We can give you sort you require.

---LUMBER---

In large quantities. We can give you sort you require. In large quantities. We can give you sort you require.

MARLING LUMBER COMPANY.
M. G. Gordon, Manager Phone 169

Market Report.

Wheat 1.00
Barley 1.00
Oats 1.00
Corn 1.00
Clover 1.00
Hay 1.00
Lard 1.00
Butter 1.00
Eggs 1.00
Flour 1.00
Sorghum 1.00
Millet 1.00
Rye 1.00
Soybeans 1.00
Peas 1.00
Beans 1.00
Potatoes 1.00
Onions 1.00
Cabbage 1.00
Carrots 1.00
Turnips 1.00
Squash 1.00
Pumpkins 1.00
Apples 1.00
Oranges 1.00
Lemons 1.00
Grapes 1.00
Pears 1.00
Plums 1.00
Cherries 1.00
Strawberries 1.00
Raspberries 1.00
Blackberries 1.00
Huckleberries 1.00
Currants 1.00
Rhubarb 1.00
Asparagus 1.00
Beans 1.00
Peas 1.00
Lentils 1.00
Mung Beans 1.00
Soybeans 1.00
Peanut Oil 1.00
Cottonseed Oil 1.00
Lard 1.00
Butter 1.00
Eggs 1.00
Flour 1.00
Sorghum 1.00
Millet 1.00
Rye 1.00
Soybeans 1.00
Peas 1.00
Beans 1.00
Potatoes 1.00
Onions 1.00
Cabbage 1.00
Carrots 1.00
Turnips 1.00
Squash 1.00
Pumpkins 1.00
Apples 1.00
Oranges 1.00
Lemons 1.00
Grapes 1.00
Pears 1.00
Plums 1.00
Cherries 1.00
Strawberries 1.00
Raspberries 1.00
Blackberries 1.00
Huckleberries 1.00
Currants 1.00
Rhubarb 1.00
Asparagus 1.00

D. M. HUNTINGTON

AUTO GARGAGE

All kinds of repair work done at reasonable prices.

Auto Supplies and Lubricating Oils

Auto Tires and Tubes

always in stock.

Gas Tanks in Stock.

Agency for the

FORD AUTOMOBILE

LOCAL MEN BUY MOSINEE MARKET

Monday Times—A deal was consummated last Saturday whereby W. Pavlick and R. Polter purchased the Engels meat market in this village. Mr. Pavlick has been employed by Mr. Engels since he opened his shop last spring and has been very popular with the patrons of the market. Mr. Polter, who is also from Grand Rapids, has learned the meat business under his patron's tutelage and is thoroughly conversant with it. The new firm took possession of the business Saturday.

Teaching the Teachers.

Superintendent Varny, assisted by Prof. Book, held a teachers institute at the Wood County Normal on Friday and Saturday of last week which was attended by most of the county teachers in this vicinity. The teachers were being shown a "new" method of writing the one that they used to teach in the schools thirty or more years ago. It was simply a case of history repeating itself.

BIRTHS

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hennings on October 1st.
A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Henry DuWitt.

Prize Chickens.

John Arpin was successful in securing several prizes on his chickens which he had on exhibition at the Stevens Point fair. Leon won two first and two second on his black Cochin and two first and two second on White Orpingtons.

NEARLY KILLED BY N. W. TRAIN.

Rinbolt Daulder had a narrow escape from death on Wednesday evening when he was struck by a freight train on the Northwestern road. As it was he had a hole the size of a dollar knocked in his skull and was otherwise bruised about the head and face.

Daulder was lying on the track when the fast freight came in that evening and was seen by the engineer, but not in time to stop the train. Although the speed had been checked considerably when he was struck.

The man was picked up and taken to the hospital where he was fixed up by a surgeon and has since been getting along all right.

Daulder had been taken up during the day in an intoxicated condition and placed in jail. Later he was allowed to go to his home and as he seemed to be all right he was not taken to the hospital.

He may be considered a lucky man that his injuries did not prove fatal.

INVESTIGATING THE AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS.

S. J. Darga and L. V. DeGuerre left last week for Chicago, Detroit and other cities where automobiles are being manufactured or where they intend to manufacture them, where they have made them and then gone out of business.

The proposition as put up by the Darga Motor company has taken well among a large majority of our people and they have subscribed liberally toward it. In fact many of the men in the city of moderate means have done better along this line than could really be expected of them. But the proposition does not seem to appeal to any capitalist class. The man with the big bag of money seems to be inclined to hang onto the money.

Now this is all right to a limited extent. We expect that there will be a few right waders in a city of seven thousand people but we did not expect to find them all huddled together in a few corners.

A few conservative souls who might otherwise fly off the handle and be inclined to invest their hard earned dollars in some wild scheme that looked good on paper, but was not such a winner when it came to a practical demonstration.

With the idea of finding out where the married men of the city stood on the automobile proposition several of them were interviewed either directly or indirectly. After it was all over it summed down to the fact that most of them did not consider the manufacture of automobiles such a high risk quick scheme as some people had been led to believe. Further, that they did not think the machine could be manufactured for what it was claimed it could be, and that while the putting of money into such a factory might be good as a speculation, it did not amount to much as an investment.

It was to settle some of these questions to the satisfaction of all concerned. Darga and DeGuerre made the trip on a very small scale. They intended to visit the places where such machines are made and to discover if possible what the actual cost of manufacturing such a machine as the Darga 10 is in dollars and cents. Also to visit places where there are automobile factories that have not made a success of the business and find out if possible what their trouble has been and incidentally to secure any other information possible that might throw light onto the business of manufacturing autos.

While there is no question but what the establishment of an automobile factory in this city employing two or three hundred men would be an immense thing for the town, in fact that it would be worth all the money it cost, even if it never paid a cent of dividends still the average small investor might want to know that in time there would be something coming back from it. However, in this case it is the small fellow who is most willing to take a chance while the big fellow, who would be benefited the most, seems to be very timid.

Well it may be all right to investigate the proposition thoroughly, and while the investigation is going on, to make a few things along year after year and never pay a cent of dividend. It may not be as good for the town as if they did pay something. However, they are a good thing for the town, just the same, and do their share toward building up the place and maintaining it after it is built up.

We very much doubt whether anybody can go out and in a week's investigation discover whether a motor car can be manufactured at a profit in Grand Rapids or not, but we do know that they are being turned out at a profit in other cities and with a properly constructed factory, and a force that is organized and systematized in the right way it can be done here. It might not be possible to do it the first year, but it would undoubtedly come in time.

There are very few business propositions that start in at the top of the ladder. Most of them have to get along as best they can for a time until those engaged in the business learn something about it after which it may be possible to put it on a paying basis.

We await with interest the report of the investigating committee.

Funeral of Mrs. Peter Larson.
The funeral of Mrs. Peter Larson was held on Saturday, September 30th, the remains being interred in Forest Hill cemetery. Rev. Johnson of the Scandinavian Moravian church conducted the services.

Will Occupy New Quarters.
Henry Gauke, the second street groceryman, will occupy the lower story of the new Old Fellows building as soon as it is ready, and as most of the work is about completed expects to get settled in his new quarters by the middle of the month.

How He Voted.
At a church choir a pastor had to vote on a delicate question. Either way would estrange some of his flock. So he voted "non liquit," which is equivalent to asking to be excused. The next day a country delegate was asked how this pastor had voted on the vexed question. He said: "The man did not seem pleased. In fact he voted that he did not like it."

Miss Myrtle Paterek is visiting friends in Wisconsin this week. W. O. Weisel departed on Tuesday for Chicago to be gone several days purchasing goods for his store.

WHY NOT HAVE TWO POLLING PLACES.

Since the last legislature convened it is possible for a city to have two polling places than one in each ward, as has been the custom heretofore, and as a consequence many cities are taking advantage of the new law to provide central polling places.

It would seem as if Grand Rapids might take advantage of the new law and get along very well with two polling places, one on each side of the river. The one on the west side might be held in the city hall and the one on the east side in the library building, making it comparatively handy for everybody and very materially a decrease in the cost of holding an election.

Under the new system it would also be much easier to make the returns than in the case now, and the city could even consider the proposition of putting in voting machines without such an awful expense to the municipality.

"The Indian's Secret"

Every man lives to see a thrilling play of intense action well presented. Such is "The Indian's Secret," which is to appear at Daly's Theatre, Wednesday, Oct. 4. A beautiful story of intense human interest, the dash of dare devil bravery, the coming of the redskins, the startling surprise of the story unfolds, the absolute mystery of the plot, the Indian and his belatedly sunny situation of the comedy, the absolute truthfulness of the natural happenings of the story, by the hand of Lincoln L. Carter, who is justly celebrated as the greatest of all our producers and some of his best scenic splendors are in this play. The cheap common trash, exaggerations and impossibilities of the so-called Indian show finds no place in "The Indian's Secret." It is a real play with a real plot presented by real actors and to see it is a real pleasure.

Dolan-Nimtz.
Miss Lora Dolan and Albert Nimtz were married this morning at St. Peter and Paul church. Rev. Quinn performing the ceremony. They were accompanied by Miss Lorraine Dolan and Frank Nimtz. The young people left today for Chicago on a short wedding tour after which they will return and make their home in this city.

Both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known in this city and have many friends to wish them a happy journey through life. The bride wears a white gown and a certain amount of money was kept there to cash checks with. Who her the father-in-law of this and timed his visit accordingly or whether he just happened in at that time is not known.

Had a Good Audience.
Oscar Amundson, the comedian who spoke at the opera house on Monday evening, drew out a really good sized audience and the band to be well pleased with what they heard.

Mr. Amundson is not one of the rabid kind of comedians who believe in revolutionizing things with a gun loaded with buckshot, provided everybody does not come to his way of thinking at once, but takes quite naturally along the line of government ownership of public utilities. He is quite a humorist in his way and kept his audience laughing much of the time, and everybody present seemed to enjoy his talk.

New Hardware Company.
George McManley and Edward Pommeroy have associated themselves in the formation of a hardware company and expect to open a store in the building recently vacated by the Lowell Company on the east side.

Mr. McManley is in the city where he is carrying a stock of goods, and it is expected they will be able to start up about the middle of the month. Mr. McManley has had plenty of experience in the hardware business and there is no reason why he should not make a success of the venture.

Got Ninety Days.
Joseph Butler was before Justice Poniatowski on Friday on a charge of stealing and after listening to the evidence in the case the judge made it ninety days in jail.

Butler was working on the Seattle marsh and stole a suit of clothes and a razor from Alvin Kinsinger who was also working there.

Locals Win at Football.
The boys from the Lincoln high school went to Marshfield on Saturday where they played the high school boys of that city, the score being 12 to 0 in favor of the locals. The boys will play in this city next Saturday.

Notice to Savings Depositors.
All money deposited on or before October 12th will draw interest from Oct. 1st. Interest will be credited to your account on January 1st next. This also applies to new accounts. First National Bank.

Carload of Apples will be received by Johnson & Hill Co. This is good winter stock, 90c per bu.

ABEL & PODAWILTZ CO'S

Fall Opening!

Oct. 7th to Oct. 14th

Oct. 7th to Oct. 14th

The greatest provision ever made in clothes for Men, Boys and Young Men

The greatest provision ever made in clothes for Men, Boys and Young Men

From Saturday, October 7th, to Saturday, October 14th,

we are going to give you some of the Greatest Bargains and Values at our opening ever given in Grand Rapids. Everything we sell at this opening is strictly guaranteed, and if not satisfied with the goods we will give you your money back if you want it. Note carefully all goods listed below:

Men's Overcoats

There is something that nearly every man and young man needs, therefore we have overcoats with the new Konveto collar, in browns, grays, blues and fancy mixtures that sell $15.00, $20.00 and $22.00, which are going at Fall Opening Sale for

$15.00

Remember we have only 14 of these overcoats— all sizes and the best value ever offered for the money

Men's heavy cotton ribbed, blue lined Underwear, floor brown white, each 35c
Men's wool Underwear the kind that wears, each 72c
Men's wool Stockings, black only, 15c, 2 for 25c

MEN'S SUITS The largest and best assortment ever shown for the money— all the newest styles and patterns

Boys' Overcoats

There is no need of the boy going without an overcoat this winter when you can buy overcoats at prices we are selling them at. Forty Boys' Overcoats with velvet collars, all sizes $4.00, $5.00, $7.50 and $8.00 overcoats, Fall Opening Sale

$2.25

Other Boys' Overcoats with fur collars, auto collars and Konveto collars at $3.50, $5.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Men's heavy fleece Union Suits 50c
Boys' ribbed Union Suits, steam shrink $1.25
Boys' flannel and all the new collar Waists 50c

Sweater Coats with large collar, all colors, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 to $7.00.

$10 to $28.50

This is the greatest clothing store in town, and here are the reasons: It is the most modern and attractive store. It is a store planned for and operated in the interest of Men and Young Men. It is filled with the most varied, carefully selected and worthy merchandise brought together in any establishment. Inducements in the way of prices and values are such as to make you a permanent customer after one purchase. You'll find it a pleasure to trade here; you'll be shown 1911 Fall styles only; you'll get service and consideration you've never had before; you'll get smartest styles and most for your money. We're immensely proud of our store. We want you to share it with us and make it your regular trading place.

ABEL & PODAWILTZ CO.

GOOD CLOTHES ONLY.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

Co. This is good stock, 90c per bu.

Harload of Apples
 be received by Johnson Hill Co. This is good er stock 90c per bu

Load of Apples

13 KILLED, 9 INJURED AT NEENAH CROSSING

Northwestern Passenger Train Crashes Into a Hayrack Loaded With Merry-makers Returning from Dance in the Country.

FOUR OF THE INJURED WILL DIE

Most of Victims Were Employees of Menasha Paper Mills—Bodies of Dead Horribly Mangled and Scattered Along Track for 200 Feet—Train Crew Not Blamed.

Neenah, Wis., Sept. 28.—Thirteen persons were killed, ten instantly, and ten others seriously injured when a Northwestern passenger train, northbound, struck a hayrack filled with Merry-makers at a grade crossing on the southern outskirts of this city. Four of the injured are so seriously hurt that they can not live.

Thirty young people, who were returning from a Saturday night dance at the home of Peter Hanson, who lives on the road to Oshkosh, were standing on the hayrack when it was struck by the train. The hayrack was loaded with Merry-makers at a grade crossing on the southern outskirts of this city. Four of the injured are so seriously hurt that they can not live.

The dead, JOSEPH CHURCHICK, JOSEPH CHURCHICK, DOMINIC OMISZNICK, JOSEPH CHURCHICK, CELIA RIES, AGNES ASHOFKE, MR. AND MRS. GUSTAV PINN, FRANK SEAGER, JOHN HARDE, STEPHEN LIEKE, JOHN BRILL, JOSEPH CHURCHICK, JOHN KERNAN, Henry Syring, Joseph Churchock, Mrs. Joseph Churchock, Philip Mack, Benjamin Dombrowski, John Sadoleski, M. Olson, Anna Sadoleski, Amanda Syring. Those who escaped injury are: Martin Golinski, Paul Schelowski, Tony Schelowski, John Schelowski, Tony Schelowski, Mrs. Horzinski and child, Mary Schelowski, Tony Schelowski, Peter Hanson, driver.

Only the driver, Peter Hanson, who did not receive as much as a scratch, was able to give a coherent account of the accident. He saw the headlights of the northbound Northwestern train, understood that distance, and before he could urge his overworked team across the tracks, the monster locomotive had ground over the vehicle with its party of merry-makers.

Not one of the survivors, with the exception of the driver, saw the train or heard its approach; none realized the danger until picked up. The train had passed the scene fully 450 feet before it could be stopped.

Words fail to describe the scene following the collision. Mangled bodies were strewn along the tracks. Six bodies were taken off the pilot of the engine. Disembodied parts of many were left on the trail of blood from the crossing to where the train stopped. Three of the bodies were so frightfully mangled that identification was made possible only by the clothing they wore. One body was shown of head, arms and legs. They were picked up half an hour after the body had been taken to the improvised morgue in the Menasha Furniture company building.

The driver and his horses escaped, but the hayrack was smashed into splinters. Pieces of wood were ground into several of the dead. Philip Mott and Amanda Syring, injured, were thrown through the foundation of the dagman's slum on one side of the track.

Two others of the persons killed were hurled through a dagman's slum with such force as to overturn the little structure. One of them was Mrs. Finn, who was projected through one of the side walls of the house and was still alive when removed. She died a few hours later. Another of the victims killed was thrown high over a barn fifty feet from the right of way. It was with songs on their lips that the merry-makers met death when the engine bore down on them. Two met death instantly. Two died on their way to Clark hospital. Ten were badly crushed and fatal consequences are expected in four other cases.

CLASH IN KANSAS

SECRETARY FISHER AND SENATOR BRISTOW HAVE TILT AT HUTCHINSON, KAN.

BOTH ARE LOUDLY CHEERED

Cabinet Officer Attacks "Demagogic Progressives" and Draws Warm Retort From Kansan, Who Says Insurgent Fight Will Continue.

Hutchinson, Kan.—An unexpected incident that thrilled the thousands of people at the state fair grounds, came at the close of what had been a non-partisan celebration of Kansas' fiftieth anniversary of her birth, in which President Taft had participated.

Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the Interior, just back from Alaska, made a three-minute speech in which he said some things about the differences between "real progressives of the middle of the road type like Mr. Taft" and "hypocritical, demagogic progressives who oppose every practical progressive policy put forth."

Senator Joseph L. Bristow, who is "addicted to rank second only to Senator La Follette of Wisconsin among the progressives, followed Secretary Fisher and quickly took up the challenge.

An address by the secretary was not dov. on the program, but it furnished the most interesting feature of the day. When he arose and faced the big crowd Mr. Fisher was silent for fully a minute. Then he said slowly:

"I am a true progressive," he resumed, "and I believe in true progressiveness and not in hypocritical or demagogic progressiveness who declare for a progressive policy and then oppose every practical progressive measure put forth."

"When President Taft said he was trying to keep in the middle of the road the other day, I believe he meant what he said, and I believe that I am that kind of a progressive. My friends, you should judge men not by what they say, but by what they do."

Senator Bristow was introduced by Governor Stubbs, and was loudly cheered. "We of Kansas," he said, "may at times have been accused of acting before we thought, but we always have had the courage to contend for what we believed was right, and we have worked out right here in this state the greatest moral civilization in the world."

"We are always willing to grant that the other fellow is honest in his views, and we expect him to grant that we are honest in ours. I want to say to President Taft and to Secretary Fisher right now, that in working out the problems that confront us, we of Kansas will have our part and have our say to the end that there shall be equal justice to all and special privileges to none."

Both Secretary Fisher and Senator Bristow were loudly applauded. The throng seemed to appreciate the verbal passage at arms and the practical avowing of notes by the junior Kansas senator that while he was particularly free and glad in the welcome to President Taft in this state, there was to be no let up in the factional fight as soon as the president had left the commonwealth.

No blame is attached to the railroad officials. The engineer was Frank Spoorer of Green Bay, and conductor Keers of Chicago. It was said here, with a charge of the train. The crossing is a dangerous one and is about a mile and a half from Neenah. The train was running easily forty-five miles per hour. It is said, but the tracks in both directions are exposed. It would be possible to see the headlights of a train looking either north or south.

MADISON EULOGIZED BY TAFT

President Pays Tribute to Dead Congressman at Kansas Semi-Centennial Celebration.

Hutchinson, Kan.—The celebration here of the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of the state of Kansas was made notable by the presence of President Taft.

He delivered an address at the fair grounds, was heartily applauded by a immense throng of people, thousands coming from the surrounding towns and country.

In opening, Mr. Taft paid a graceful tribute to the memory of the late Representative E. H. Madison, through whom had come his invitation to speak at Hutchinson. He said:

"His death was a great shock to me, as I doubt not it was to his fellow-citizens. I had not known him long nor can I say that I knew him intimately, but I knew him well enough to know the strong qualities of his mind and heart, his idealism, his intense desire to be fair, and his clear perceptions of the law as a jurist, and his loyal-headedness as a legislator."

400 HEROES SLAIN

MAGAZINES OF FRENCH WAR VESSEL LIBERTE EXPLODE.

Sailors Work Desperately to Save Vessel, Headless of Their Own Safety.

Toulon, France.—An appalling naval disaster attended with enormous loss of life occurred at daylight, when the battleship Liberte, one of the latest vessels in the navy, blew up in this harbor. The death loss is estimated from 300 up to 400 or more. The killed include officers and men of the Liberte, and also a large number of those from nearby warships.

The precise cause of the fire and explosion is still a matter of speculation. The Liberte was anchored in the roadstead, where she had lain since the review of the fleet by President Taft on September 4. Around her and not far away were her companion ships, all of which by the very force of the explosion added from their own crews to the list of the Liberte's dead. The Verte was the nearest at hand, and the flying fragments and burning shells played havoc with the peace-stricken sailors helplessly watching the fire from the decks.

It was 6 o'clock in the morning when the fire was discovered, and many of the Liberte's crew were asleep. The alarm was sounded and the order given to flood the vessel, and the quick rush of the flames.

Almost immediately a series of deafening explosions fell upon the air. The Liberte shook from one end to the other, great holes opened in its armor and the terrified sailors, realizing their peril at last, would have jumped fruitlessly into the sea. The work of the late, already the work of destruction was completed, and the awful explosion infinitely more terrifying than those preceding, tore the great ship in two. The huge fragments shattered, and a moment later the Liberte was at the bottom of the sea.

ITALIANS ISSUE ULTIMATUM

Turkey Has But 24 Hours in Which to Give Answer to Demands in Tripoli Dispute.

Paris.—War within twenty-four hours will be the result unless Turkey returns a favorable answer to Italy's ultimatum on Tripoli in that time, according to semi-official advices from the Italian government.

Turkey has declared that she will look upon this action as a cause for war and will resist the invasion with her entire armament. Foreign residents are fleeing the country, spurred by the fear that fanatical Mohammedans are planning a general massacre of Christians.

With an Italian war fleet off the Tripoli coast and an Italian ultimatum in the hands of the submarine ports in Constantinople demanding for Italy the recognized right to establish a protectorate in the African territory under dispute, the crisis has now reached its most acute stage.

Six thousand soldiers were landed on Italian transports at Palermo, but so stringent is the censorship being exercised by the Italian government that it is difficult to learn whether or not the transports sailed.

FISHER AND TAFT IN ACCORD

Cabinet Official Says He and President Agree on Conservation of Public Domain.

Kansas City.—"I have just come from Hutchinson, Kan., where I had a long conference with President Taft relative to the policy of my department," said Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the Interior, addressing the National Conservation congress here. "I find that his views and mine relative to the conservation of the public domain are in complete accord."

"We especially discussed the Alaska situation, and found that we agree completely on a policy for that much-misrepresented country."

"My idea of the proper conservation is a wise development of all the natural resources in the public interest which recognizes the rights of all."

The following officers for the National Conservation congress were elected without opposition: President, J. B. White, Kansas City; secretary, Thomas R. Shipp, Washington, D. C.; treasurer, D. Austin Latchaw, Kansas City.

Italy Takes Carnegie Gift

Rome, Sept. 28.—The Carnegie gift of $750,000 to found a new fund for Italy was accepted by King Emmanuel. A committee has been appointed.

Geese Gather Golden Grub

Santa Barbara, Cal., Sept. 28.—Thirty gold nuggets, some as large as peas, were taken from the claws of six geese raised by Mrs. Israel Altshuler of this city.

Buydian Is Given Decree

New York.—Walter Lippman Buydian, Jr., the young millionaire of the Point, L. I., was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce against his wife, Louisa White Buydian, who several weeks ago eloped with Fredrick Noble, a plumber's son.

MILWAUKEE GETS M. E. CONFERENCE

Gathering Will Be Held in the Kingsley Church.

DELEGATES ARE ELECTED

Rev. Samuel Plantz of Appleton and Rev. A. J. Benjamin Are Selected—Bishop Attacks the Divorce Courts.

Madison.—The Wisconsin conference of the Methodist church completed its election of delegates at Antioch to the general conference by the selection of Rev. Samuel Plantz of Appleton and Rev. A. J. Benjamin of Waukegan. Kingsley church, Milwaukee, was selected as the next meeting place.

The conference admitted young men to membership in the conference on trial. The following composed this class: H. H. Howe, H. J. Lane, J. E. Brittain, Oscar Schmitt, E. Cartright, Harris Drew, O. L. Goldrick, E. J. Matthews, Fred Rozinski, Henry Johnson, H. C. Berger.

Howard H. Smith, who is in the class received an oral trial, to be assigned to special work among the poles in the city of Milwaukee.

The Milwaukee Methodist City Missionary society came in for special consideration by the conference. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that owing to the great need of missionary work in certain portions of Milwaukee that the city work should receive attention from the church outside the city.

Bishop Hamilton attacked the courts of the country in a speech. He characterized the divorce courts as "largely a counter for domestic profit." He denounced the delay in getting cases heard, citing one instance in New York, where he said, a case had been pending twenty-seven years.

Bishop Hamilton said the country was in a dangerous condition morally because of the great prosperity, but predicted that when financial difficulties again lace the country, a great revival will sweep over the land.

Resignation of A. C. Titus Filed. The resignation of A. C. Titus as first assistant attorney general of Wisconsin was received and filed in the office of Secretary of State Prentiss on October 1.

Mr. Titus resigned because of ill health. During the summer of 1900, when he was preparing to make a canvass as a Republican candidate for the office of attorney general before the primary he was attacked with apoplexy and withdrew from the contest. He continued in the service, however, but within the past year suffered another attack and later went to California, where he now is, with a son, in the hope of improvement.

Mr. Titus, whose home formerly was in Superior, first entered the attorney general's department in 1905 by appointment of Attorney General L. M. Starkevart. He was continued in the position by Attorneys General Gilbert and Linn.

The position is under the civil service rules and an examination to fill it already has been called. The salary is $3,000 per year. It is understood that there are many applicants for the place, but when the civil service commission concludes its examination only three names will be certified to the attorney general from which he may choose.

Wisconsin Pensions. The following Wisconsin pensions have been granted: Richard J. Dutton, $12; William W. Caino, $20; Hardy Dennison, $15; Mary Jane Jankins, $12; James A. Shout, $15; Mary Zilly, $12; Henry Hostie, alias Henry Calvert, $15; Frederick Braun, $15; Henry P. Christman, $15; Orville M. Davis, $15; William P. Ellenberger, $20; Sarah Lehto, $12; Mary Potts, $12; Oliver T. Powell, $24; McKendry J. Rawson, $24; Colin B. Searles, $12; William Sizer, $15; Alvin M. Chas. Field, $12; Anton Hlack, $15; James P. McIntyre, $20; David M. Pulk, $24.

Campbell on Way to Madison. Robert A. Campbell of the University of California, recently appointed secretary of the state board of public affairs, has accepted and is now on his way to Madison to begin work, according to a telegram received by Dr. Charles McCarthy. The new board expects to meet early in October.

Will Boon Wisconsin. According to Commissioner R. Q. Packard, the state board of immigration is preparing to make a great showing of Wisconsin agricultural products at the Illinois state fair at Springfield on September 29-October 7. Pedigreed grains will be the main exhibit.

Mud Arouses a Protest. The first case under the new law giving the state railroad commission control of water powers came up when the commission held a hearing on the petition of W. R. Law and other residents of the town of Madison for an order prohibiting the Madison Electric Light and Power company from using so much water from the small lake formed by the company's dam on the Peconic river that the level of the lake is lowered and cottages on the shore are separated from the water by a strip of impassable mud.

Three-Cent Fare Decision Delayed. No decision in Milwaukee's three-cent fare case will be forthcoming for several weeks, according to Chairman John Roemer of the rate commission. The commission has granted the request of Edgar L. Wood, city attorney of West Allis, for permission to file a brief in favor of a single fare to and from West Allis on the cars of the Milwaukee Electric Light and Power company. Thirty days was allowed.

Pollagra Claims Victim. The first death from pollagra in Wisconsin ever reported to the state board of health occurred in Manitowish, where Charles B. Peck, aged fifty-four, of Louisiana, succumbed to the disease. A committee of sixty was named corresponding to Milwaukee's committee of one hundred. Five representatives of each church. Rev. R. S. Donaldson, chairman of the Milwaukee committee of one hundred, and V. M. Pace, chairman of the evangelistic committee of the Milwaukee organization, were speakers at the meeting.

To Inspect Twine Plant. Before installing the necessary machinery in the binder twine plant in the state prison at Waupun, the board of control has planned to visit the Milwaukee prison at Stillwater to inspect the binder twine plant there.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Madison.—According to rulings made this week by Judge Parish in cases started by State Fire Marshal Purcell at Ashland, the entire work of the marshal in securing convictions in the last two years may be set aside and dozens of people convicted by the fire marshal's force restored to their liberty.

Judge Parish has released from custody Con W. Lloyd, an insurance man accused of conspiracy to write insurance on lumber after it had been destroyed, and Charles Crown, a resident of Madison Island, arrested for setting fire to his own buildings in order to secure the insurance money. Both were arrested upon the complaint of the fire marshal.

Under the law organizing the state fire marshal's force, they are permitted to hold a secret examination in order to determine the facts concerning any fire. In both the Lloyd and Crown cases, before any warrants were issued, the state fire marshal had a secret investigation compelling each man to give up what evidence he had and it was upon the evidence secured that the state fire marshal had the warrants issued.

The point on which Judge Parish dismissed the cases was that the proceedings of the fire marshal in compelling these men in a secret examination to give evidence that was used in the state fire marshal's force, which constituted a right, which guaranteed that no man can be compelled to be a witness against himself.

First Risk Law Action. An accident in the plant of the Pfister & Vogel Leather company at Milwaukee, which caused the loss of three fingers to a seventeen-year-old boy, has brought about the first prosecution under the newly formed industrial commission law of Wisconsin, which is charged with the administration of all labor laws and the workmen's compensation act.

The prosecution is instituted under that section of the industrial commission act which provides penalties for the removal of safety devices on machinery. This first prosecution is a practical demonstration of the desire of the new commission to exert every possible effort toward the prevention of industrial accidents.

In this first exercise of its authority the commission has ordered J. A. Vullier, deputy at Milwaukee, to swear out a warrant against an assistant foreman of the Pfister & Vogel Leather company. According to the original report of the accident on September 1, the assistant foreman had removed a safety device on a chomosing machine, and thus made possible the accident to the seventeen-year-old employee.

The industrial commission exercising its full authority under the law has caused prosecution to be brought against the assistant foreman, the obvious object being, of course, to serve practical and insistent warning upon all other companies that safeguards must not be removed. It is expected that the case will be brought up in a short time in the Milwaukee municipal court, where the assistant foreman under the law is subject to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100 for his offense in removing the safeguard.

The accident at the Pfister & Vogel plant brings to notice a concrete illustration of the operation of the workmen's compensation act passed by the last legislature. It so happens that the injured employee supported his mother and assisted in the support of his younger brothers and sisters. His sworn statement shows that he turned out at the hospital, which was his mother, who lives in the city. Under the operation of the workmen's compensation act the cost of the boy's entire medical attendance, including hospital facilities, medicine, etc., will be paid by the employer. The law requires also that he be paid 65 per cent. of his wages while disabled.

To Revise Bank Laws. One of the matters that will be taken up at the special session, which there is every indication will be called, will be an attempt to revise the state banking laws relative to state banks pledging their assets for securities in order to allow them to be on an equality with national banks in securing the funds from postal savings banks for deposit. Under an opinion from the attorney general handed down recently, state banks are eliminated entirely from gaining postal saving deposits and there has been a general wailing going up ever since the opinion was made known.

Noon Hour for Women. Attorney General Hancock ruled, in response to an inquiry by the state industrial commission, that the law regulating the hours of labor of females requires that a full hour shall be given women at noon, and that this time cannot be divided by giving the employees fifteen minutes in the middle of the forenoon, thirty minutes at noon and fifteen minutes in the middle of the afternoon.

Sanctions Big Bond Issue. The state railroad commission gave the Consolidated Light & Power company, with offices at Detroit, permission to issue bonds to the extent of one-half million dollars. The company, which is composed of J. L. Hudson of Detroit, president, 6,500 shares; F. R. Pons, Detroit, 1,500 shares; Robert Tannehill, 1,000 and Charles Abbott, 1,000, expect to incorporate for $2,000,000.

State Board in Victor. Judge Martin Lueck, in circuit court, dismissed the Andrae complaint which sought to forbid action of the state board of agriculture on the appeal of the state fair grounds. Judge Lueck sustained the demurrer of the state board to the Andrae complaint, declaring that the complaint failed to file sufficient specific cause of action but an appeal to the supreme court will probably be taken by the plaintiff's attorneys, who filed notice that they would probably appeal.

Kenosha Joins Movement. The first state auxiliary to the Men and Religion Forward Movement, organized in Milwaukee, was formed in Kenosha when representatives of the churches of various denominations met. A committee of sixty was named corresponding to Milwaukee's committee of one hundred. Five representatives of each church. Rev. R. S. Donaldson, chairman of the Milwaukee committee of one hundred, and V. M. Pace, chairman of the evangelistic committee of the Milwaukee organization, were speakers at the meeting.

Green Bay. Peter Christian, aged eighteen years, has built a flying machine which is expected to be ready for a trial flight within a few days. The young man has been engaged in its construction for the last three months in this city. The machine has a single wing, with a stretch of about twenty-eight feet. The seat of the operator is placed behind and above the engine, and the propelling wheel is located in front of the machine instead of in the rear, as in some models.

Kenosha. Kenosha has placed a local training station at Lake Butte, and an account of repeated complaints the chief of police had sent a letter to the commandant demanding that the recruits be kept out of Kenosha. In the meantime the saloon men have been notified not to sell liquor to the recruits. Seven were picked up by the police Sunday night, but all were released with orders to leave Kenosha at once and not return.

Jamestown. Leo Carlson, aged twenty-two years, shot and fatally wounded his wife, aged twenty-one years, at his home here, Mrs. Adeline Bahr, and then, drinking the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid, shot himself through the mouth, dying instantly. Mrs. Carlson is in a hospital, where it is said that she has little chance for recovery, as the bullet is lodged at the base of the skull and cannot be removed.

Waupun. The coroner's jury investigation into the cause of the collapse of St. James Catholic church several days ago has returned a verdict that the collapse was caused by the crushing of the north-west pier of the structure, which supported one of the columns supporting the dome, and that the pier was of faulty construction. Albert Schultz of Waupun, one of the injured, died, making two victims of the accident.

Marquette. Rev. C. E. Nordberg of Marquette has been chosen president of the Wisconsin and Michigan district conference of the Norwegian Lutheran church. The other officers elected were: Vice-president, Rev. E. Bernsen, Kenosha; secretary, Rev. S. Ronsdahl, Calumet; treasurer, Rev. J. Tvedt, Clintonville. The next district conference is set for November, will be held in Marquette. Over 150 delegates will attend.

A scientist asserts that there are 400 kinds of fleas. However, they are not all produced by the glorious climate of California.

Most of Victims Were Employees of Menasha Paper Mills-- Bodies of Dead Horribly Mangled and Scattered Along Track for 200 Feet--Train Crew Not Blamed.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Madison.—Friends of Chas. L. Harper, chief clerk in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, are urging him to be a republican candidate for congress in the new Third district.

Beloit.—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Phillips of this city have recently celebrated their seventy-first wedding anniversary.

BOTH ARE LOUDLY CHEERED

Both Secretary Fisher and Senator Eristow were loudly applauded. The throng seemed to appreciate the verbal passage at arms and the practical serving of notice by the junior Kansas senator that while he was participating freely and gladly in the welcome to President Taft in this state, there was to be no let up in the factional fight as soon as the president had left the commonwealth.

MADISON EULOGIZED BY TAFT

Amateur Aviator Killed.
New York—Dr. F. P. Clark, amateur aviator, flying in the Nassau boulevard meet, fell 200 feet and was instantly killed.

Sailors Work Desperately to Save Vessel, Heedless of Their Own Safety.

Six thousand soldiers were loaded on Italian transports at Palermo, but so stringent is the censorship being exercised by the Italian government that it is difficult to learn whether or not the transports sailed.

FISHER AND TAFT IN ACCORD

Carthy believed to have been the oldest person in Massachusetts, died here, aged one hundred and twelve years. For more than fifty years she was a town charge.

M. E. CONFERENCE

In Superior, first entered the attorney general's department in 1905 by appointment of Attorney General L. M. Sturdevant. He was continued in the position by Attorneys General Gilbert and Baneroff.

The position is under the civil service rules and an examination to fill it is $3,000 per year. It is understood that there are many applicants for the chinery in the binder twine plant in the state prison at Waupun, the board of control has planned to visit the Minnesota prison at Stillwater to inspect the binder twine plant there.

in the last two years may aside and dozens of people c by the fire marshal's force to their liberty.

The accident at the Pfister plant brings to notice a illustration of the operation workmen's compensation act by the last legislature. It so that the injured employee su his mother and, assisted in the

of his younger brothers and chairman of the Milwaukee tee of one hundred, and V. M. chairman of the evangelistic tee of the Milwaukee organ-were speakers at the meeting.

Milwaukee.—J. J. McNamara was re-elected by acclamation secretary of the Milwaukee Teachers' Association.

the next district conference, in November, will be held in Marinette. Over 150 delegates will attend.

home or Mayor J. C. Schubert and stole his watch, three dollars in change and a new coat. They ransacked the room occupied by the mayor without disturbing him.

Advertising Rates.—For display matter a rate of 10 cents an inch is charged. The columns in this Tribune are 15 inches long. Making a one column advertisement cost $2.40 for one insertion. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments where an admission fee is charged will be published at 5 cents per line.

They Know It.

The democrats do not need to shoot President Taft full of holes in order to show his weakness, misdeeds and subject submission to the "big interests" as the insurgent republicans are doing this work for them and doing it well.

Senator Works of California, a republican says Taft is a willing tool in the hands of the great trusts and that he has brought his party face to face with the greatest crisis in its history. In a recent speech Senator Clark of Minn., a life long republican and a vigorous supporter of President Roosevelt's administration has denounced President Taft in flaming words for his veto of the bill admitting to Statehood Arizona and New Mexico, which was vetoed simply on the ground that Arizona had "the recall" provision in her constitution. They have gone so far as to charge that President Taft is trying to turn the presidency into an imperial office and thus deprive the people of self government for our judges, if they cannot be recalled, are our masters and real rulers and seat of the power of the great trusts. Our judges are our imperial rulers.—Morrill News.

Stephenson Investigation.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 3 (Special).—With United States Senators Heyburn of Idaho, Sutherland of Utah and Pomerooy of Ohio sitting as his judges, the venerable Senator James Stephenson of Marquette faced the sensational investigating committee of the national body here Monday morning. It is the Wisconsin man's last fight to keep his seat in the upper house at Washington and the conflict promises to be sharp and decisive. It is not believed here that Mr. Stephenson will be long kept in the witness chair and then will follow R. A. Edmunds, Appleton; J. A. VanDerve, Marinette; J. H. Paeleher, Milwaukee; Rodney Sackett, Berlin, and others.

Just what the scope of this investigation will include will not be known until the session progresses. It may deal only with the activity of Mr. Stephenson and his agents during the legislative fight in Madison or it may include the whole primary campaign. This line of action will be determined by the sitting members in executive session as the case progresses.

Other members of the investigating committee are Senators T. H. Paynter, W. O. Bradley, Kentucky. The former will be here for later sessions of the hearing but Senator Bradley will not be able to come because of illness.

Rhodes Scholarship Open to Students Next Year.

President O. R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, chairman of the Wisconsin committee on selections for the Rhodes Scholarships at Oxford University, England, is in receipt of an announcement from the trustees of the Rhodes bequest to the effect that an examination for candidates for the scholarships will be held at the University of Wisconsin in October, 1912, and all those desiring to take this examination should prepare for it this year.

The scholarships are of the value of $1,500 a year, and are held for three years. Candidates will be examined in Latin, mathematics and Greek. If desired, candidates who have passed in the first two subjects and are not prepared to take an examination in Greek, may postpone the examination in that subject until a later date.

In selecting the scholar to represent the state of Wisconsin at Oxford, the committee of selection is instructed to consider the candidate's literary and scholastic attainments, his fondness and success in outdoor sports, his qualities of truth, courage, unselfishness, good fellowship, and devotion to duty, and finally, his exhibition of moral force of character.

Naval Hero Dead.

Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, retired naval officer, dropped dead in New York on Monday, death being caused by heart failure.

Admiral Schley was born in Maryland in 1839 and served in the navy during the civil war. He came into greatest prominence during the war with Spain, being in command of the fleet that destroyed Admiral Cervera's boats near Santiago. He retired several years ago.

GOVERNMENT LAND OPENING 3,000 Homesteads Open to Settlement.

—466,592 acres open to settlement in the Pine Ridge and Rosebud Reservations, located in Bennett and Mallett Counties, S. D. The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the direct route to registration points—Gregory, Dallas and Rapid City, S. D.—and the only line to the reservation border. Dates of registration, October 2 to 21, inclusive. The lands to be opened to settlement are some of the choicest in South Dakota. For printed matter and full particulars, apply to Ticket Agents, Chicago & North Western Ry., or address A. C. Johnson, P. O. 228, W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago.—St.

OFFICIAL WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

In connection with the new weights and measures law now in force in Wisconsin, it is interesting to note that the legislature has officially fixed the weight of a bushel of nearly all the products likely to be found in stores. There is really no use for a bushel measure, since the measurements shall be made by avoirdupois weight, in the absence of special agreement.

Section 4 of the act reads in part as follows:

1. Whenever any of the articles or commodities mentioned in this section shall be sold by the bushel, or fractional part thereof, and no special agreement as to weight thereof shall be made in writing, the measure thereof shall be ascertained by avoirdupois weight, and shall be computed as follows:

2. Sixty pounds for a bushel of wheat, peas, potatoes, clover seed, or beans;

3. Fifty-seven pounds for a bushel of onions;

4. Fifty-six pounds for a bushel of Indian corn, rye, lima beans, wrinkled peas, flax-seed, rutabagas, or tomatoes;

5. Forty-four pounds for a bushel of sweet potatoes;

6. Fifty pounds for bushel of corn meal, rapo seed, millet seed, beans, green cucumbers, apples, rye meal, carrots, buckwheat, hickory nuts, or flax meal;

7. Forty-eight pounds for a bushel of barley or Hungarian grass seed;

8. Fourteen pounds for a bushel of blue grass seed or red top seed;

9. Forty-six pounds for a bushel of canter beans;

10. Forty-five pounds for a bushel of timothy seed or rough rice;

11. Forty-four pounds for a bushel of hemp seed, parsnips, or sea island cotton seed;

12. Forty-two pounds for a bushel of turnips;

13. Thirty-five pounds for a bushel of cranberries;

14. Thirty-four pounds for a bushel of barley malt;

15. Thirty-three pounds for a bushel of dried peaches;

16. Thirty-two pounds for a bushel of oats;

17. Thirty pounds for a bushel of upland cotton seed;

18. Twenty-five pounds for a bushel of dried apples;

19. Twenty pounds for a bushel of bran or shorts;

20. Seventy pounds for a bushel of coarse salt or lime;

21. Eighty pounds for a bushel of unstacked lime;

22. Eight pounds for a bushel of plastering hair;

23. And two thousand two hundred pounds for a cord of hemlock bark;

24. For a fractional part of a bushel a like fractional part of the above weights shall be required;

25. All dry commodities not otherwise specified in this section shall be bought or sold only by standard dry measures, standard weight, or numerical count except where parties otherwise agree in writing.

The bushel in struck measure shall contain two thousand one hundred fifty and forty-two hundredths cubic inches. The half bushel and parts thereof all correspond in capacity to that of the bushel and shall be the standard measure for fruits, vegetables and other dry commodities constantly sold by heaped measure; in measuring such commodities, the half bushel or other similar measure shall be heaped as high as may be without special effort or design.

Catholics Plan a Great Colony.

The biggest colonization idea ever conceived to benefit any one country has recently been organized in the United States by the Catholic church of that country, for the purpose of bringing settlers from all over the world to Western Canada. Pope Pius X has given his sanction to the movement, which, according to R. J. C. Manning of Chicago, now in Winnipeg, bids fair to land 5,000,000 people in Western Canada within the next five years.

Mr. Manning has been engaged by the Catholic clergy of the United States, who have the plan in hand, to come to Canada and negotiate with the railways of Western Canada for several million acres of land. He arrived in the city yesterday.

The original idea, as outlined by Manning last night, was a desire on the part of the Catholic clergy of the United States to benefit the poorer people throughout the world by buying an immense area of Western Canada's fertile farming lands and selling it to them at cost. Religious domination, according to Mr. Manning, will not be a factor, and poor people throughout the world will benefit through the desire on the part of the United States Catholic clergy to do a charitable act that will reach the farthest ends of the world.

MEEHAN

School began in the Steink district Monday with Miss Eva Peterson of Amherst as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Shultz of Rudolph visited with friends here Sunday.

E. R. Kartz of Stevens Point was a business caller here last week.

Katie Boorman of Stevens Point has been enjoying herself here for the last two weeks. She formerly lived here and naturally enjoys herself with old friends.

Owing to the recent heavy rain storms the water has raised high in the river here and threatening to overflow the low lands. Many large fields of farm products are therefore in danger as these bottom lands are mostly planted into crops.

STRAYED—A yellow dog came to my place on October 1st. Owner can have same by paying for this notice and damages.—Will George, Town of Sutton.

There is No Use Talking.—Barker's Cough Remedy is the medicine for colds, sore throat and rheumatism. Johnson & Hill Co.

Daily Thought.—If what you have done yesterday seems big to you today, you have done nothing today.

Miss Harriet Williams
Teacher of Piano
Studio 214, 3rd St. S. Phone 432

NEKOOSA

(From the Times)

Harold, the little son, about eight years old, of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Okunio, met with a very painful accident Saturday afternoon, from which he will not be able to recover for several weeks. He was playing with a number of companions near his own age, using his little express wagon in which to haul things. While going down an incline the "horses" gained too great a start for the driver to check them, and Harold, the driver, was thrown out. The wheels passed over him and a long pole they had in the wagon struck him, the net result being a fractured collar bone and his left shoulder dislocated. Harold went to his father's store, but made so little complaint about his injuries that it was fully half an hour before his mother discovered that he was seriously injured. The family physician was called and gave the necessary treatment and the lad is now getting along nicely.

Dr. Pomainville, John Jackson, Mike Powers and Martin Mollen went to Friendship in the Dr. A. auto, last Friday, to attend the Adams County fair. Of course they witnessed the ball game between Friendship and New Home, in which Fritz Bonta and George Cronus of Nekoosa did the pitching for New Home.

Oliver Bayles and wife returned to Nekoosa last Friday from New Rome, where they had been during the summer, looking after the Neal Cronus farm there. Mr. Cronus recently sold the farm to Ollingo parties, which is the cause of Oliver and his wife vacating.

PITTSVILLE.

(From the Record.)

The Helix Pluck Station closed down for the season Saturday. This has been a good season insofar as it has been a long one. October growing has dragged along late in the season and it commenced early, giving growers one of the longest seasons since the establishment of the Helix plant here.

John Owsley, who has been visiting at the parental home down in Iowa county for the past six weeks, arrived home Thursday last. He reports things in a farming way down there about the same as here. They have had all kinds of grain and hay and corn are bumper crops this season.

Joe R. Carroll has disposed of his farm near Vesper to a party from near Milwaukee. Mr. Peterson, who has been running the place for Mr. Carroll will remain for the new man. Mr. Carroll still has quite an extensive land holding about and this side of Vesper.

Dr. Hansen, Nash Mitchell, O. A. Polow and F. S. Woodworth motored up to Marshfield Friday last on a business trip.

Mrs. J. D. Witter and daughter of Grand Rapids visited at the Woodworth home Saturday, coming up in the auto.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS.

Grand Rapids People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them.

—Sick kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions are dark, contain a sediment, Passages are frequent, sunny, painful.

Backache is constant day and night, Headaches and dizzy spells are frequent.

The weakened kidneys need quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Grand Rapids evidence proves their worth.

Mrs. G. W. Nutter, 325 Lincoln St., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I have often recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I know of many instances where they have been used with excellent results. My kidneys were weak and I suffered from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to good health and proved to be good for kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ARPIN

Pleasant Hill

W. J. Mann, who has been here on matters of business for the past week, left Monday for Waukegan. There must be some attraction for him here if he has sold his farm.

Mrs. P. H. Likes gave a party for her Sunday school class Saturday, Sept. 30th. Joe cream and cake were served. On account of the hard rain they were compelled to stay all night. Those present were Misses Leota Peters, Mary and Ethel Stroppe, Louise and Nina Johnson, Mildred and Mabel Robertson.

Rev. Robinson preached his first sermon Sunday.

Alfred Gronemeyer and Max Peterlik have their silos filled.

The wet weather is bad on the potatoes and some have started to rot. Kurt Zellmer attended a wedding in Rudolph Tuesday.

Will Stroppe and family attended the sale at Frank Hamel's Tuesday.

Will Hiles has his new barn about completed. It is a fine looking building.

Miss Laura Gronemeyer, who has spent the past month with her brother Alfred, returned to her home in Germantown Tuesday.

W. J. Mann purchased a P. Bear's fine team which he will take to Waukegan with him to work on his farm.

There is No Use Talking.—Barker's Cough Remedy is the medicine for colds, sore throat and rheumatism. Johnson & Hill Co.

Daily Thought.—If what you have done yesterday seems big to you today, you have done nothing today.

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

RUDOLPH.

Mrs. Clofas Grottean passed away at her home Tuesday morning, Sept. 26th, at ten o'clock after an illness of four months with cancer of the stomach at the age of 74 years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Shattuck, who has been staying with her mother for some time and Mrs. N. J. Richards of Grand Rapids, her sons are Oscar of Grand Rapids, Curtis of Biron, Jasper of Merrill, Babe or Elmer, who lived with his mother, and Leonard, who lives in Montana and was unable to come. She has been a resident of this place for a good many years and besides being missed at the home fireside she will also be missed at the Catholic church where she was a devoted Christian worker and worshipper always present in all kinds of weather. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of their many friends.

There was a big party at John Kohnen's place last Sunday in honor of their silver wedding. There were about seventy-five people present. Mr. and Mrs. Kohnen received some nice presents. Refreshments were served and after six o'clock when the table was cleared, the young folks started a little hop which lasted till about twelve o'clock. Then everybody went home well satisfied and they all reported a fine time.

Solmer Hassell departed Wednesday noon for a visit with his sister, in Congress Park, Ill., and will also attend the fair in LaCrosse.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hassell, John and Clara attended the funeral of Mrs. Jacobson in your city last Thursday.

Mrs. Corrine Baldwin took her father, Mr. Johnson, to the Rapids last Tuesday night to consult a doctor but he would not have any. He is staying with his daughter, Mrs. Joan Juneau. Mrs. Baldwin returned Wednesday morning on the train.

Mrs. L. Barrett came up from the Rapids Sunday noon and staid until Wednesday noon. She came up to see Mrs. Orottean and returned home after her death.

Frank Root spent Sunday with his best girl in Nollsville.

Mrs. J. Bowker was shopping in your city Monday.

Mrs. Geo. Elliott has had her house and wood shed painted which greatly improves their appearance.

There was no school in District No. 1 Friday. Miss Bado went to the Rapids to attend institute.

Joe Marshall has returned from his vacation but he has not brought "her" here to live.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clark returned home Thursday from a pleasant week's visit with relatives in Fond du Lac.

Nick Marsen has moved his family and household goods here from Biron.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are expected here the last of the week for their annual visit.

Misses Katherine and Maudie Rodmond spent a couple of days here with relatives and friends returning to their home in Daney Tuesday.

Ruby Bates spent Saturday in the Rapids with Selma Kruger.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Koolan of Milladore spent Sunday and Monday with her mother, Mrs. McGregor.

Miss Selma Kruger spent Sunday in Rudolph.

Joe Bluetin has returned to Wausau after a couple of weeks taking Joe Marshall's place at the depot.

Mrs. J. Bowker departed Tuesday for Viola, where she will spend a couple of weeks and Bessie will keep house for her.

Carroll Bowker, who is attending training school in your city, spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday at home.

Alfie Kool has had his new house and barn painted. When it stops raining he expects to have the ornery repainted.

During the storm Thursday Will Provost's wood shed containing ten cords of wood was struck by lightning and burned.

Louie Livornash spent Thursday and Friday at Wausau visiting his brother, Lemore, who was seriously hurt on his train three weeks ago at Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Sharkey have moved in their new home.

Mrs. Frank Shalhout was in Grand Rapids on Monday having some dental work done.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Grottean departed on Tuesday for Plainfield where they will spend a month on Mrs. Grottean's father's farm assisting them in harvesting their crop of potatoes.

The heirs of John Shalhout will hold an auction on Tuesday, October 17.

True Philosophy.

To have what we want is riches, but to be able to do without is power.—George MacDonald.

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Grand Rapids
Brewing Co.
A Home Industry
Phone 177

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood

Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel

Telephone 305

Couldn't Sell His Place

Frequently you hear of a man who had a sale of his property about completed when some defect was found in the title and the buyer wouldn't take property.

*An Abstract of Title is a complete history of the transfers of property by deeds and mortgages from the time of the Government ownership. An Abstract of Title will show whether the title to any particular piece of property is good, or whether mistakes exist in the drawing of the papers or whether or not there are any breaks in the title.

Get an Abstract of Title to your property, have it examined by a competent attorney, and if any mistakes or breaks exist, have them perfected so you can sell without any delay.

C. E. BOLES

Dealer in

Mortgages, Loans, Real Estate, Abstracts of Title and Insurance
Lyon Block Telephone 323

J. A. GAYNOR

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office over the Postoffice on the East side. Will practice in all courts Tel. 142

DR. E. L. GRAVES

DENTIST

Office in the MacKinnon Block. Office phone 254

D. D. CONWAY

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Law, Loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East side, Grand Rapids, Wis. Tel. 338

DRS. BANDELIN & HOUSTON

DENTISTS

Office over Otto's drug Store on west side. Phone 437

MISS E. MacKINNON

Pupil of Philip von Mitterl, New York City

Will give lessons on the violin at her residence 899 3rd Ave. North, West Side. Telephone 347.

B. M. VAUGHAN

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Money loaned. Real estate bought and sold. Wood Block, east side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

J. W. COCHRAN,

LAWYER

Office in Wood County Nat'l Bank Bldg., Grand Rapids, Wis.

Admitted to practice in all courts of the states of New York and Wisconsin, and in Federal Courts. Collections and settlement of estates given careful attention. Confidential correspondence in every city of the United States, Canada and all principal cities of Europe.

J. R. RAGAN

Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker
House phone 69. Store 313. Spafford's Building, east side.

GEO. W. BAKER & SON

UNDERTAKERS AND LICENSED EMBALMERS
65 North Second street, east Grand Rapids, Wis. Business phone 401, night calls 402

J. J. JEFFREY

LAWYER

Loans and Collections. Commercial and Probate Law. Office over Gross & Lyons. Tel. 251

CHAS. C. ROWLEY, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office specialty Osteopathy. 14 McKinnon block. Phones 150 and 466.

GEO. L. WILLIAMS

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office in Wood Block, over Post Office. Telephone No. 91. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

W. E. WHEELAN

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office in Daly Block, East Side. Tel. No. 243. Grand Rapids.

DR. D. A. TELFER

DENTIST

Office over Wood County National Bank on the east side, Grand Rapids, Wis. Tel. 260

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

ORSON P. COCHRAN

PIANO TUNER

Best of work guaranteed. Call telephone 233 or at the house, 447 Third ave. north.

DR. A. L. RIDGMAN

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Telephone No. 9

Explanations will not be in order—for there is never any failure where VICTORIA is used—if you will bake with

Victoria

The lightest of Biscuits, Bread and Pastry is guaranteed where VICTORIA is used. Try it.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

How Is Your Supply of Wood and Coal

We can help you out and at the RIGHT PRICES Prompt Attention Given to Orders

Gust Kruger & Son

Phone No. 237

W. Melvin Ruckle, M. D.
PRACTICE LIMITED TO EYES, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT

Glasses fitted correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon, Riverview Hospital, Office in Wood Co. Bank Building, Tel. 234

GOOD CIGARS

Made Right at Home!

"Father George" and "Don Aurelio" 10c
"Grand Rapids" and "F. C. B." 5c

They are all first class goods for the money. Call for them when you want a smoke.

F. C. BROCKHAUSEN.

LAUGH

and the World Laughs with you.

WEEP

and you Weep alone.

This grave old earth has lots of COAL. It has troubles enough of its own.

Time to order your next Winter's COAL

Bossert Bros. & Company

Phone 416 Residence 54

DONT OPERATE TOO SOON APPENDICITIS

can be removed by spinal adjustments. We remove the cause of the disease. Gall stones, renal calculi, jaundice and all kidney and liver trouble successfully adjusted. For all acute and chronic diseases see

F. T. KOFF

Graduate Chiropractic

Office over Daly's Drug Store

Hours 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 8 p. m.

Chiropractic is not Medicine, nor Surgery, nor Osteopathy.

Buy Your COAL

—of— E. C. Ketchum

Good Service and the Best of Coal

If any of the coal that we deliver to you is not satisfactory call us up and we will make it right, so you are satisfied.

Telephone 410

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mrs. Louis Poyras is confined to her home with diphtheria.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Friedstein returned on Friday from a visit in Chicago.

Mrs. J. H. Shekey of Wausau visited at the Herman Abel home the past week.

J. B. Lovelace of Janesville, was a business visitor in the city on Saturday.

Frank Boyanowski of Stevens Point transacted business in the city on Saturday.

Mark Whitcomb departed on Sunday night for Milwaukee to enter Marquette College.

Messrs. Dave Woodruff and G. Horn of Vesper were in the city on business Saturday.

Miss Estella Johnson of Wausau visited with friends in the city several days the past week.

Jas. K. P. Hiles of Dexterville was in the city Thursday looking after some business matters.

Attorney C. B. Edwards and Edward Gallett of Marshfield were business visitors in the city on Thursday.

Messdames T. E. Nash and A. C. Otto were shopping in Milwaukee several days the past week.

Miss Carolyn Kuntz departed on Sunday for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Manning at Winona.

Emil Scholten purchased forty acres of land in the town of Saucon the past week of Albert Schrader.

J. J. Varney, proprietor of the Mauston House at Marshfield, transacted business in the city on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McLees have gone to housekeeping in the Gottschalk and Anderson flat on Grand Ave.

Miss Selma Peterson of the town of Saucon returned on Saturday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Winona.

Otto Stewart was able to resume his duties at the meat market on Saturday after a two weeks illness with erysipelas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller have been visiting with relatives and friends in LaCrosse the past week and attending the fair.

Postmaster and Mrs. R. A. McDonald returned on Monday from several days visit with their son Bert at Ladysmith.

Ernest Rittelman returned to his home in Muskegon on Friday after spending two weeks in the city visiting at the Arthur Rittelman home.

Attorneys B. E. Goggin, W. J. Conway and T. W. Brazner were in the city several days last week attending the session of circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartschuld brought in a couple of nice pumpkins, a nice onion and a turnip last week to add to our collection of farm products.

Erlo Karslin of the town of Rudolph was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Friday, having dropped in to pay up a year's subscription.

J. R. Ragan returned on Friday from a business trip to New York, having gone out as a delegate to the National Funeral Directors and Embalmers Convention.

Ed Polansky brought in a sample of Japanese millet on Saturday the stalks of which are about 4 feet long. Also several large potatoes to add to our collection.

O. Leroux, one of the prosperous farmers of the town of Sherry, was a business visitor in the city on Saturday. Mr. Leroux reports good crops on his farm this season.

Messrs. J. J. Jeffrey, W. J. Conway, Harold Arpla and Henry Demitz spent Sunday at the Arpla marsh and succeeded in getting a mixed bag of 84 ducks, chickens, grouse and snipe.

E. S. Potter, an experienced restaurant man of Ripon, has rented the place formerly occupied by Joe Sitterly in the Haskinson building and expects to open up his place of business in about a week. Mr. Potter moved his family here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pillar, former residents of this city, but who have been living at Phillips for several years, are visiting at the Dwight Green home for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Pillar are considering moving back to this city.

Roy Parrish, who is operating the John Parrish farm in the town of Sherry, was in the city on Friday and brought in a couple of hogs which were placed in our vegetable display. One of the hogs weighed 104 pounds and the other 114 pounds.

The members of the Cranberry Sales company held a meeting at the city hall on Tuesday for the purpose of discussing conditions of the present season. There was a fairly good attendance considering the bad weather that prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wenzel left on Saturday evening for a week's visit with relatives in Merrill after which they will depart for LaGrande, Oregon, where they will make their future home. Mr. Wenzel having accepted a position with a lumber company.

M. J. Feavel left on Saturday for Madison, where Mrs. Feavel had preceded him several days. Mr. Feavel shipped his stock of goods down to the capital city and it is his intention to open a store there. Their many friends in Grand Rapids will wish them success in their new location.

Julius Nelson of the town of Sigel brought in a sample of alfalfa on Saturday which was raised on his place. He says that about three acres were planted there about three years ago, and that it is getting a fine start, with every indication that it could be raised successfully in this section.

W. O. Boyce, who moved to Clinton, Iowa, from this city about a year ago, was in town for a few days the fore part of the week visiting his friends and looking after some business matters. Mr. Boyce is in the monument business at Clinton and his many friends here will be glad to know that he is getting along nicely. He left for home again on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pousa visited in Green Bay on Thursday.

Dr. J. A. Jackson of Rudolph was a business visitor in the city on Friday.

J. H. Linderman sold the Eliza Gaffney home on Elm street to Fred Hirsch.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McKersher have returned from a visit at Merrill and Wausau.

Sam Church and E. B. Garrison transacted business in Milwaukee on Friday.

Chas. Dixon transacted business in Grey Eagle, Minn., on Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Chas. Fomenville visited at the Fred King home in Merrill the past week.

Messrs. R. W. Parsons and L. T. Fox of Glover were business visitors in the city on Friday.

Mrs. D. D. Conway left on Tuesday for Minneapolis to visit with relatives for a few days.

Mrs. C. E. Boles visited with her mother, Mrs. Reilly at Marshfield several days the past week.

Louis Thompson, of the Marshfield police force, was in the city on Thursday with a prisoner for Sheriff John Somitt.

Paul Juneau, one of the pioneer farmers of the town of Rudolph, was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

B. F. Nelson recently traded 80 acres of wild land near Lindsay for the old Huberty farm in the town of Rudolph.

Will Hill, who has been employed at Tomahawk the past summer, arrived home on Saturday for a visit with his parents.

Miss Ella Peters, bookkeeper at Normlington Bros. laundry, returned on Saturday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Milwaukee.

Frank Krysiak of Milwaukee has been a guest at the home of his brother-in-law, John Jagodzinski in the town of Sigel the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Delap of Winchester were guests at the George Delap home on Friday and Saturday while on their way home from New Lisbon.

P. Mulroy, who is somewhat of a farmer himself, brought us in a rutabaga last week that weighed seventeen and one-half pounds. Pretty good for the first attempt.

George Delap was called to New Lisbon on Thursday to attend the funeral of his brother's wife, Mrs. Will Delap, who died on Tuesday after an illness of four years with cancer of the stomach.

Rev. F. A. Nimitz of Sheboygan spent several days in the city last week visiting with his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Linderman. Mr. Nimitz has been transferred from Sheboygan to Marinette for the ensuing year.

John Murgatroyd, proprietor of the Vesper Brick & Tile Co., transacted business in the city on Saturday. Mr. Murgatroyd reports everything humming out his way and that there are two new brick store buildings under the course of construction at present.

Miss Alice Seehagen was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seehagen on Friday evening by a number of her lady friends in honor of her approaching marriage to Reinhold Kregger, which takes place on October 11th.

Will Haertel of Lindsay spent several days in the city visiting with his son Fred, who is employed at the Wood County bank and friends about town. Mr. Haertel went from here to Northport where he will join his wife who has been visiting there with her relatives for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bevilmer, writing from Amelia, Va., where they have been located for several years, state that they are enjoying excellent health and are getting along nicely. They say that the past summer has been the hottest and driest that has been experienced in that country for years.

George Smith arrived home from Port Arthur, Canada, on Thursday for an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith. George submitted to an operation for appendicitis several months ago, but has not been feeling very well and it is the opinion of his physician that he will have to submit to another operation.

John Omholt, one of the pioneer farmers of the town of Rudolph, was a business visitor in the city on Saturday and incidentally informed the Tribune man that he and his wife expect to depart some time next month for a four months visit with his three sisters in Denmark. Four years ago Mr. Omholt made a visit to his old home in Norway.

Ben P. Moran of Stevens Point and Miss Elizabeth Hughes of Kansas City, Mo., were married on Monday of last week at Kansas City. Mr. Moran is well known here, having made this city in his capacity of traveling salesman for a number of years past. Mr. and Mrs. Moran will make their home at Stevens Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kulisak of the town of Sigel have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Agnes to Mr. John Morzinski, which will take place on Wednesday morning, October 11th, at nine o'clock at the Holy Rosary church in Sigel, followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

"The Indian's Secret" which is to appear at Daly's Theatre, Wednesday, Oct. 4, is not a noisy shooting show of blood and thunder, but a play that holds and enthralls being more on the order of the Squaw Man. The great divide and plays of the character, with a clean human, vivid, truthfully portrayed plot showing the plotreque customs of Indian life at home, on the trail, and in warfare. The Indian's Secret was written by the man who wrote "The Flaming Arrow," that's enough.

Lost—Five dollars in bills on Saturday morning. Five dollars reward for return to John Schlegel, Cashier, Judge's Office, or return to this office.

John Normlington purchased the Arthur Wenzel home on Park street last week.

Mrs. Ed. Whitney of Port Arthur, Ontario, arrived in the city on Monday to visit among friends.

Thos. Andrews, one of the pioneer settlers of Pittsville, transacted business in the city on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bossert were called to Minneapolis on Monday to attend the funeral of a relative.

Miss Lena Klevens returned to Chicago on Tuesday after a three weeks visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jos. Rick.

Rev. O. A. Mellicke and family returned on Friday from a two months visit with relatives in Minnesota and Saskatchewan, Canada.

Art. J. Malroy of Hay City, Kansas, returned to his home on Monday after spending a week in the city visiting with his uncle, Patrick Mulroy.

Messrs. Matt Carey and A. J. Hasbrouck were in Appleton on Tuesday to attend an adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Fox River Oil Co.

Miss Ella Hasbrouck, who has been in Chicago for several weeks past, returned to this city last week and has resumed her old position in the Taylor & Scott office.

Mayor W. L. Wheelan returned on Sunday morning from a month's visit in the northern part of the state where he went to get relief from his annual attack of hay fever.

A. E. Bennett of Cameron spent Monday and Tuesday in the city visiting with friends and attending the meeting of the Cranberry Sales company held in this city on Tuesday.

Mrs. Tillie Zabawa has issued invitations to the wedding of her daughter Verna to Mr. Joseph Rudinski, on Wednesday morning, October 11th, at St. Lawrence church at 8 o'clock a. m.

Dr. Geo. Hopston and Prof. J. W. Merrill, hunted chickens down in Adams county on Friday and Saturday. They report a very good hunt, with enough chickens to make it interesting.

F. J. Wood, who has been in Westley hospital, Chicago, during the past four weeks, returned to this city on Saturday evening. Mr. Wood has so far recovered from his operation as to be able to be about and his many friends here will be glad to greet him again.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Shadkowsky mourn the loss of one of their infant twin girls who died on Saturday after an illness of two days with bowel trouble. The little one was seven months old. The funeral was held on Monday, Rev. Wojak of St. Lawrence Catholic church officiating.

Joe Biseig of City Point was a business visitor in the city on Monday and informed a Tribune man that they had finished picking cranberries on their marsh on Wednesday. Mr. Biseig stated that their crop this season is the largest they have ever had and will be in the neighborhood of 1200 barrels.

The members of the Methodist church will hold a reception at the church parlors on Friday evening of this week in honor of the return of Mr. Pease to this city. All members of the church and others interested in the welfare of that institution are invited to be present and have a good time.

Carl Omholt of Rudolph, who has been logging in the vicinity of Shaugogden for several years, brought down a carload of twenty-five fine hogs which he raised at his camp the past summer and sold them to the Reiland Packing Co. Mr. Omholt expects to start his crew at work logging within the next two weeks and will put in several million feet of logs this winter.

The new law making it a criminal act for any person to jump on or hang onto a car, engine, coach or any wheel carrier, on a railroad, is being posted by the railroads of the state, and distributed to agents. The law makes it the duty of every employee of the system to swear out warrants for the arrest of all offenders. The fine for violating this law is not less than twenty-five dollars or two days in the county jail. The enforcement of such a law would result in a great saving of human life.

LOST—Irish Setter hunting dog on Sunday in the town of Rudolph. Has white spot on breast, and answers to the name of "Spot". Please notify Dr. Jackson at Rudolph or this office.

At a recent meeting of the Retail Grocers' association in Fond du Lac, the membership of which includes most of the grocers of that city, it was voted to entirely discontinue the measure system and adopt the weight scale in both the sale and purchase of vegetables and other articles formerly sold by the measure.

This will apply to potatoes, apples, pears, nuts, rutabagas, turnips, and numerous other staples of commerce formerly sold by the peck or measure. The scale as to pounds per bushel, as provided in a law passed by the last legislature, a synopsis of which is published in the Tribune this week, will be followed. It is stated that several other cities in the state have adopted the same system and that it is giving good satisfaction.

Scandinavian Moravian Church. The Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Andrew Odegard. Thursday evening the Willing Workers will meet in the church. On Sunday morning services will be held in the Scandinavian language. Services will be held in Rudolph at 9:30 p. m.

W. J. Conway, County Judge

Beautiful Language.

A bit of language about as beautiful and about as full of good sense as any to be found in recent utterance is the following from Senator Bob Taylor of Tennessee: "I would rather fill my purse with money and keep its gates ajar to my happy girls while they linger under my roof than to clutch it with a miser's hand until the harp strings of youth are broken and its music forever dead. I would rather spend my last nickel for a striped marble to gladden the hearts of my barefooted boys than to daisy them the childish pleasures and leave a bag of gold to quarrel over when I am gone. I abhor the pitiless hawk that circles in the air only to swoop down and strangle the song of the linnets or bury its talons in the heart of a dove. I despise that soulless man whose greed for gold impels him to strangle the laughter and song of his own family."

Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notice to Creditors

Sept. 20 State of Wisconsin, Wood County, in County

In the matter of the estate of Pauline Boyce, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of Pauline Boyce, late of the town of Rudolph, in said County of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to J. D. Conway.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1912, be and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Pauline Boyce deceased shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That all claims and demands of all persons against the said Pauline Boyce, deceased, be examined and adjusted before the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1912, and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Pauline Boyce deceased shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for said creditors to present their claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four consecutive weeks, once in each week in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the County of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof.

Dated this 19th day of Sept., 1911.

By the Court: W. J. Conway, County Judge

D. D. Conway, Atty.

Sept. 20 State of Wisconsin—Circuit Court for Wood County.

William Huxhold, Plaintiff,

vs. Frank Ross, Dymphna Worester, Solomon Babbit, H. B. Jackson, Armin J. Jackson, John J. Jackson, W. J. Winship, Sally Winship, his wife, W. J. Simmons, H. Stabile, Henry K. Hahne, unknown owners, and wives, if any, and all heirs, grantees, and representatives of the above named persons, Defendants.

The State of Wisconsin, to the said defendant.

You are hereby summoned to appear within seven days after service of this summons, to answer the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid, and cause to be filed in said court, a copy of your answer to the complaint, which will be rendered against you according to the amount of the debt claimed, of which a copy is herewith served upon you.

Chas. E. Helzer, Plaintiff's Attorney, Grand Rapids, Wis.

P. O. Address: Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin.

The above action is brought by the plaintiff to establish his claim and title to and to foreclose the above mentioned mortgages known and unknown, against having or claiming any interest in the premises to which the following premises to-wit: The North Half of the North West Quarter of the South East Quarter of Section Twenty-two, Township Twenty-two, North of Range Six West.

Chas. E. Helzer, Plaintiff's Attorney, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Sept. 13, Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notice to Creditors.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County, in County

In the matter of the estate of Jasper G. Conway, deceased.

Letters of administration with the will of the town of Rudolph, in said County of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to Howard J. Sawyer of this county.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until the 18th day of March, A. D. 1912, be and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Jasper Conway deceased shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That all claims and demands of all persons against the said Jasper Conway, deceased, be examined and adjusted before the 18th day of March, A. D. 1912, and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Jasper Conway deceased shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for said creditors to present their claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the County of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof.

Dated this 13th day of September, 1911.

By the Court: W. J. Conway, County Judge

W. J. Conway, County Judge

What Is Better?

than the best bread and butter? Better buy and tell a better grocer he'd better bring you better butter. Then you'll be happy.

Our Bread

John Wooddell

Removal Notice

To Our Friends and Patrons:

On Monday, October 9th we will be in our store building on the corner of Grand and Fourth Avenues, ready for business, and where we will be pleased to meet all our old customers and also new ones.

Our stock will be one of the best and largest assortments of Fancy and Staple Groceries in the city, and it will be our effort in the future as in the past to give our patrons 100 cents worth for every dollar spent with us.

Gottschalk & Anderson

GROCERS.

SAVE MONEY In Amounts

large or small, but SAVE! On large or small amounts alike Our Savings Department adds 3 per cent interest, thus giving you money an EARNING POWER!

No one can look far into the future, but anyone can prepare to meet it by saving as much as they can to-day!

Let us have your deposit this week.

BANK of GRAND RAPIDS

WEST SIDE

TAKE WARNING

and do not venture to purchase lumber that is apparently cheap. Find out the quality before you part with your money. Though costing little it might be very dear in the end. Better deal at home with a reliable house, who is always ready and anxious to see that you get just what you want.

KELLOGG BROS.' LUMBER CO.

HYGIENIC SHOES FOR WOMEN

Treadsees shoes for women are made on scientifically hygienic principles. They have rubber heels that take all jar off the spine—not just a lift but a full heel made from new rubber—and cork cushion insoles, with an additional layer of cork and rubber between the insole and outsole making them practically damp-proof. Treadsees are always $3.50 the pair.

Sold by I. Zimmerman

Now Is The Time

To buy a Favorite Base Burner

the sooner you do so the sooner

Your Coal Bills Will Shrink

Pretty soon the leaves will begin to turn scarlet and yellow and brown. The cold days are coming—are you ready for them?

It's not too early to plan for heating during the cold months. You'll probably need a new stove—and you want the best one.

You can have every room in your home warm and comfortable day and night this winter—and with less expense than you paid last year for heating one or two rooms—if you buy a Favorite Base Burner.

The Favorite is the only base burner that pours heat into the house from every square inch of its surface. Every nook and corner—upstairs and down—may be luxuriously and evenly warmed with a Favorite.

You cannot afford to buy a stove without investigating the Favorite.

Come and see us now, and we will show you why the mark will throw out more heat, and consume about half as much fuel as other makes.

FOR SALE BY

Centralla Hardware Co.

CALUMET
BAKING POWDER
SEE how much better it makes the baking
SEE how much more uniform in quality
SEE how pure—how good
SEE that you get Calumet
At your Grocer's

NOT MADE BY THE TRUST
CALUMET
BAKING POWDER CO.
CHICAGO

SILENCE IS GOLDEN.

BLIND MAN VICTIM

Run Down and Killed by Speeding Chicago Motorcyclist.

Dr. Willert, Roused by Killing, Says It Is Hard to Believe Some Drivers Have Souls of Their Own.

Chicago.—"Before the motorcyclist had time to realize that the man in his path was blind the machine struck him."

This sentence, an excerpt from a morning newspaper's account of the accident at South State and Sixty-third streets the other day, which resulted in the death of Jacob Snaps, a blind man, from injuries sustained while the helpless victim was groping his way across the street, furnished a text for a sermon on speed fends. It was preached by Dr. Herbert L. Willert, pastor of Memorial Church to Christ and associate professor of Semitic languages and literature at the University of Chicago, when the tragic circumstances of the accident were suggested to him.

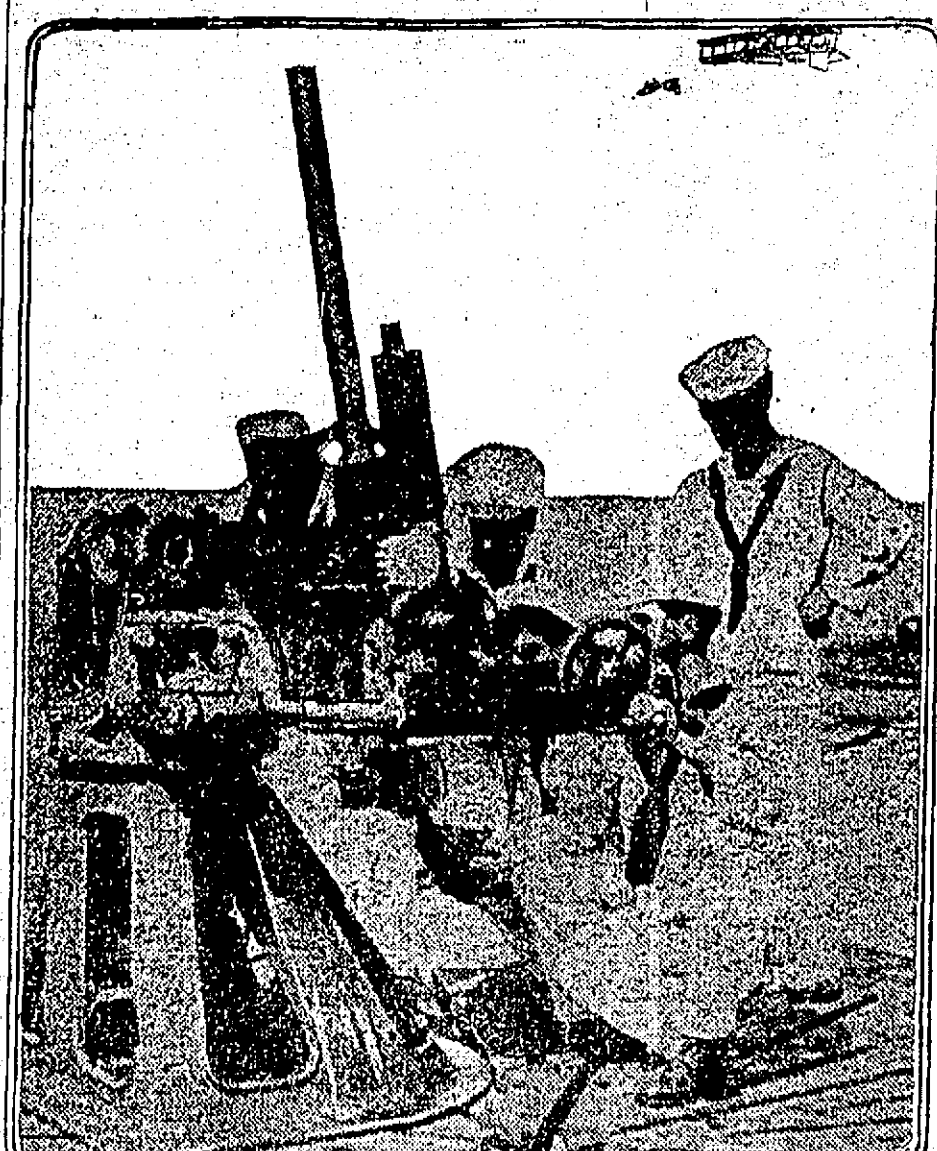

Doctor Willert did not handle the subject with gloves. Any motorcyclist or automobilist whose speed mania has brought him to the stage where he has forgotten that a common ordinary pedestrian is a human being and should have consideration even though not blind or crippled, had such a person overheard the minister's dissertation, would not have needed an interpreter to aid him in determining just how great a menace he has grown to be, in the opinion of the walking population.

"It is hard to believe that some of these reckless autoists and motorcyclists, who imperil pedestrians, mess up our thoughts and tangle our nerves until we are nearly insane as persons with souls," Doctor Willert began, as he launched with fervor into his tirade against the dangerous speeder.

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pass to which things have come in the big city rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? Is the pedestrian obliged legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate no much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his ma-

NAVAL GUN TO DESTROY AIR CRAFT

THE AEROPLANE GUN

WITHIN a short time, each destroyer, cruiser and battleship of the United States will be equipped with one of the new aeroplane guns pictured above. This formidable weapon has a vertical range of three miles, and can fire from 15 to 20 shots per minute. The sighting arrangements are such that the object aimed at can be kept covered as long as it is in range. The adoption of the gun by the authorities is proof positive that the offensive possibilities of the aeroplane have been fully recognized.

NEWS BIG TREE AT TRINITY

Passing of Landmark in Few Green Spots of New York City—Over Three Hundred Years Old.

New York.—Busy passersby in low or Broadway have paused in the last few days before one of the few green spots in the business section to notice the passing of an old landmark. This is a tall tree in Trinity churchyard, on the south side, very near Pine street.

This tree, which is credited with having passed its three hundredth birthday, recently died, and Thomas Floyd, the venerable head gardener of all Trinity's grave yards, who has served in that capacity more than thirty years, decreed it must come down. Mr. Floyd hired a sailor, who has trimmed off all but the trunk and the arms of its main branches. Even yet the tree reaches to the fifth story of the Trinity building and almost touches its windows.

This is the only tree in Trinity church yard which has been cut down for more than a year.

PRINCE OF WALES A SMOKER

English Rulers Allow the Hair Three Cigarettes a Day Since His Seventeenth Birthday.

London.—Since his seventeenth birthday it has just become known, the Prince of Wales has been permitted to enjoy an occasional cigarette. Little, the King of Spain, he shows a preference for the genuine Spanish cigarettes, which are very small and made of choice Havana tobacco. They are not gummed, but are held together by a dexterous inward fold of the paper.

The king and queen did not wish their eldest son to smoke until his seventeenth birthday, and on that date he received many gifts, representing the smoker's little luxuries. If rumor speaks truly the young prince does not show great enthusiasm as a smoker, and is quite satisfied with the three cigarettes a day which are allotted to him until he reaches his eighteenth birthday.

The health of Prince Henry continues to cause anxiety. The experiment of sending him to school at Broadstairs has resulted in an improvement, but the gain in strength is hardly rapid enough to satisfy the royal physicians. It is hoped, however, that a quick change for the better will come during his holiday sojourn in the Highlands.

Prince Henry's lack of vigor is the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and he has the making of a handsome lad. His continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Blissbottle." He is the humorist of the royal children, and his comicalities of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

MACHINE TO CURE DULLNESS

Boston Savant Declares Charging of Schoolroom With Powerful Current Will Stimulate Pupils.

Cambridge, Mass.—Dr. Andrew F. Christian, a Boston physician, believes that "if backward or stolid school children were made to study and read in a room where the atmosphere was charged with electricity, the children would improve, both mentally and physically, and would soon cease to be backward or stolid."

Dr. Christian says: "The plain fact is that the electrification of a room creates what is known as ozone, and the breathing of this has an absolutely stimulating effect, of which the reasons are well known to medical men.

"Not only in the case of school children, but also in relation to the efficiency of adults employed in offices, I think it would be of great advantage if the air of the rooms were subjected to a high-frequency current of electricity."

Continuing, Dr. Christian says: "I have noticed that a person feels better in a room where the air has been electrified; that he does in a room with common air, however well the room may be ventilated. The reason is that a high-frequency current in a room breaks up the atoms of oxygen in the air and creates ozone. The ozone enriches the red blood corpuscles and they become more numerous and more active.

"The blood thus carries more oxygen to the tissues and the result is that an increase of circulation means an increase of assimilation and this in turn means an increase of nutrition. For children or adults an atmosphere that is electrified will have a stimulating effect."

It was with this knowledge that Dr. Christian set about making a machine which would electrify the air in a room thoroughly and quickly. The result of his experiments is a machine which contains the three essential elements of a high-frequency electric coil, an air pump and a vacuum tube. The high-frequency coil charges the vacuum tube, which is inclosed in a glass air chamber.

The air pump draws air into the air chamber and the air, after circulating about the charged vacuum tube, is carried out into the room from tubes provided for the purpose. The oxygen in the air is broken up as it circulates about the charged vacuum tube, and the air, passed out again into the room is full of ozone.

Queer Freak of Lightning.

Mansfield, Conn.—A bolt of lightning threw itself into the hip pocket of Joseph Barrow, a farmer, as he was sitting in the kitchen of his home here. The bolt came into the room via the stove pipe and was attracted to Barrow's hip pocket by the presence there of an iron monkey wrench and a big jackknife. It passed down his leg, burning him severely, and then curved over the door, setting a tin of water and splitting a huge chopping block. In Barrow's pocket the end of the wrench and the blade of the knife were fused into a solid piece of steel.

10,000 DAYS IN SCHOOL

Three Pennsylvania Children Have Most Unusual Sunday School Record—Never Missed a Session.

Philadelphia.—Three children of William M. Smith of 306 South Sixth street, Darby, have respective records of 4,000, 2,800 and 2,400 days of school attendance without a single day's absence. These same children have attended Sunday school for ten, seven and six years, respectively, without a Sunday's absence.

Out in Germantown three sons of Henry F. Doernbach, of 456 East Tulpehocken street have attended Sunday school for eighteen successive years without missing a session.

The father of the children, who told Darby's attendance record to a former policeman, He served twenty-four years and was out only three months.

His son, Robert M. Smith, has completed his school terms and has rather a handsome record. He has been absent only once, and that was for a day when he was ill.

The three boys are Stanley E. Smith, 14, and Warren Doernbach, 12. They attend the Union Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, Diamond street near Twentieth. Stanley E. is superintendent and H. Warren is recorder of this school.

A year ago William M. Smith went to Buffalo, N. Y. to reside. He found a Sunday school as soon as he reached the city and has kept up his record of attendance.

Kills Forty Snakes.

Vandergrift, Pa.—While cutting head holes near the water works in Beaver Run Harry Bagley surprised four copperhead snakes, and himself and his dog, named D. O. Smith, killed them.

Two of the reptiles were killed by the two others, disappeared in a hole in the ground. With picks the underground home was unearthed and two snakes were killed. Four of them measured 41, 35, 36 and 32 inches, respectively. Most of the others were young ones.

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Try a patch of alfalfa.

Gentleness pays best with the colt or horse.

There is a great deal of humanity in axle grease.

The pigs and light porkers should go to market early.

The boar should be well fed but not allowed to get too fat.

A draft horse should have a large chest and square shoulders.

Sows destitute of humor and nitrogen are impotent to produce clover.

Hogs should have clean pastures, beds and water, and a variety of food.

Old ewes and poor breeders should be fattened now, and sent to the butcher.

Always and with any variety of hens variety in feed brings the best egg results.

Pork production appeals strongly to a man of limited means who desires quick returns.

The busy bacteria gets busy in the milk almost at the moment it is drawn from the cow.

If too many rich table scraps are fed to the hens in confinement look out for soft-shelled eggs.

Sell to private customers and deliver on a certain day. Never fail to be there at the appointed time.

Many a bunch of promising feeders go to the country and return with indications of being half starved.

The fairs give a good opportunity to compare breeds, and farmers should use this opportunity intelligently.

The point of keeping the cows clean has been proven to be a saving in feed as well as an increase in milk.

It requires two-thirds of a full ration to keep a cow in fair condition before there is any milk production.

On every farm, where soil and climate conditions are favorable, corn should be grown for fodder purposes.

Locate vines of bitter-sweet and fruiting grapes, that you wish to move from the woods to that porch or arbor next spring.

Work horses should be allowed to run out in the pastures at night in all weather except during very severe cold and storms.

The man who feels that he is bigger than his job is generally mistaken. If he was he would quickly get a job that would fit him.

Homogenized milk is milk treated in such manner as to disrupt the fat globules so that they will not rise in the form of cream.

The vigorous hen and her rooster will start off a chick that will stand much more wear and tear than immature or weakly parents.

Alfalfa is a lime plant, and a dressing of 50 bushels of slacked oyster shells or 30 bushels of slacked lime to the acre should be given.

A simple way of finding out the value of each cow is by keeping a daily record of the quality of milk given by each, and testing it at intervals.

Humus was intended by nature to create and conserve the fertility of the soil for the production of the necessities to conserve the human race.

In feeding value silage compares favorably with other crops, although this will vary with the kind of stock and the grain rations with which it is used.

If the swine are in the fattening stage they should have all they will eat up clean, but growing animals should have just enough to keep them in a thrifty growing condition.

Very cautious about inserting tubes, probes, or quills. Nothing of the kind should be inserted in a cow's nostril, excepting as a last resort, and then only with the most extreme care and cleanliness.

Soils that are heavily manured for cabbage, lettuce, celery and other crops will not need very much manure the following year, when planted with tomatoes, peppers, and root crops, especially if a fair amount of commercial fertilizer is used.

A soil well supplied with humus is practically immune from drought and excessive wet seasons, as the soil is easily permeated with water, and has a greater capacity to stand a drought.

The morning ration of the farm horse should contain about one-fourth of his daily ration. At noon another fourth should be given, and at night the remaining half should be given. Most of the hay should be given at night and before the grain is given.

In filling the silo, extra tramping should be done around the edges, and when the silage is being put in, it should be done so that it will be some one or two inches above the edges of the silo.

Prof. James E. Rice, in his Cornell reading course for farmers, says: "Corn is an excellent grain. It is perhaps the grain most relied upon by farmers. There is the danger of its being so good, that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock, and that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock."

TEACH THE COIT TO DRAW LOADS BY D GRASS.

About ten weeks after shearing dit the lambs.

A horse suffering from colic should be kept quiet.

Keep sows over that have proved to be good breeders.

Keep the ewes in the stable on dry feed for a day or two.

The boar should be of good type and character and of pure blood.

Blood-meal is better for ducks than meat scraps, and it works into a mash fine.

Persistence in milk flow is one of the qualities which makes a profitable dairy cow.

The country fairs are announced. Be sure not miss them, especially this home one.

Poultry cannot be successfully raised without the application of brain and muscles.

Be careful about feeding horses inclined to heaves, too much hay, or hay that is dusty.

A fowl that will not fatten when heavily fed on corn is not in good physical condition.

Extra feed increases the growth of a proper kind and makes larger animals at maturity.

If when the hogs are growing fast their hind legs become weak, feed a little bone meal daily.

Stop the churn as soon as the butter granules if you want to work out all the butter milk.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer who used to keep a savage dog to catch his hogs?

Culling the pullets may seem a small matter to many, but it adds dollars to the year's profits.

A bull tied in the stall will get lazy and useless, besides making extra work in his care and feed.

Use your skim milk. Five pounds of skim milk have been found equal to one pound of grain for pigs.

A drove of hogs of all colors and sizes brings as much money as a drove of the same breed, color and size.

To obtain a maximum supply of milk, small pastures, allowing frequent changes of feed, should be provided.

If a small hatching house is once used, no poultry keeper ever likes to do without its convenience afterward.

As a rule, a large flow of milk is associated with a low per cent. of fat, while a small flow shows a higher test.

Sheep are comfort lovers and the man who neglects to provide them with good, dry shelter makes a costly error.

When teams are working in the fields water should always be offered several times during the working hours.

Grinding the grain makes it more digestible, and the more digestible the feed the more milk from a given amount.

It is not a common sight at any of the stock yards to see a large drove of hogs from one farm all showing the same breed.

Oats, wheat bran, and a little corn or linseed meal is a grain ration that will keep the lambs growing and in good flesh by winter.

There should be no hidden, inaccessible places in milk vessels. The seams should be soldered over smoothly inside and out.

The egg-producing qualities of the hen, like the butter-making qualities of the cow, will determine the hen's value at the end of the year.

Veal calves in hot weather will grow better if kept during the day in a dark, cool stable, but the stable must be cleaned out and well ventilated.

Except in unusual cases of rush work, the teams should cease work in time to cool off before the dampness and falling temperature of evening.

A mixture of barley, corn meal, wheat bran and roots will put flesh on horses fast. With this, of course, a small quantity of hay should be given.

If care is taken to keep the surface of the silage level, two and one-half inches removed daily will be sufficient to keep the silage from decaying.

A horse with blunders on the public road is about as comfortable as a woman wearing a poke bonnet walking through a field where a vicious bill is kept.

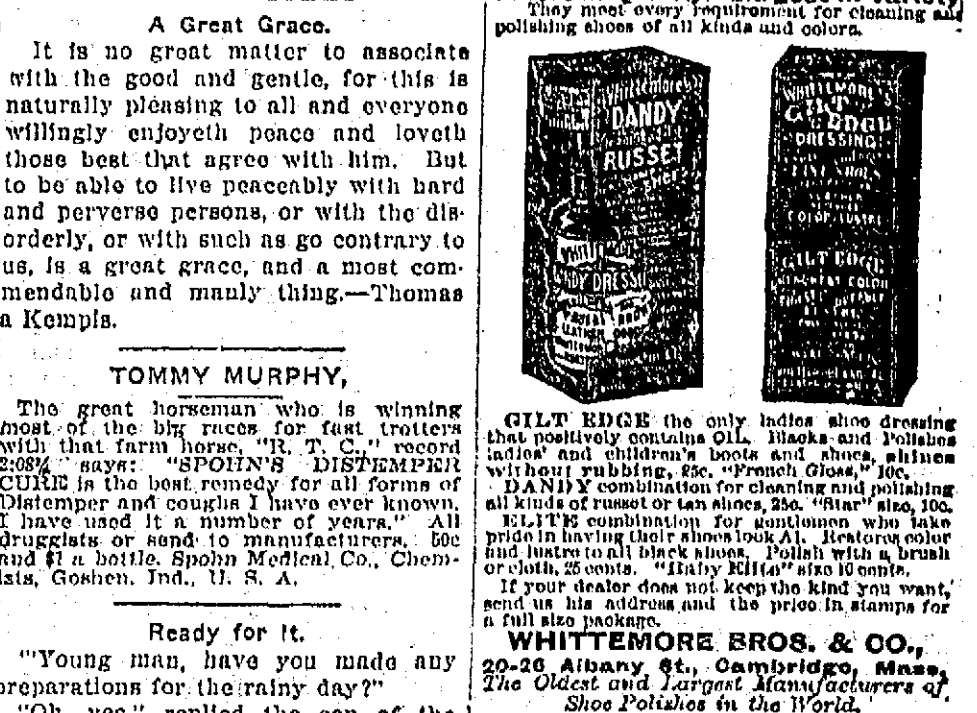

Stable manure comprises valuable humus for the soil, as it adds not only to its porosity and friability, but also contains valuable chemical constituents that are natural plant food.

Grape boxes should be covered with wooden strips if they are to be shipped by train. For the local market they can be covered with fly netting to keep insects from injuring them.

There are often a few sheep in the flock that don't seem to be doing much, cause, and one does not feel at all like being wanted to do them, and has to resort to vigorous means for relief at once. A tablespoonful of spirits of ammonia put in a pint of water, slightly warmed, and poured down the sheep will usually relieve in the first stages.

The gooseberry and the currant are both very easily propagated and if one is not in a hurry for returns it is a simple matter to increase the plantings without recourse to a nursery. Cuttings grow very readily if cut after the leaves fall and planted in moist, rich soil with only about an inch protruding above the surface. Pack the soil firmly around them, careful to leave no air holes at the bottom and mulch with leaves or straw manure. The cuttings should be average eight inches long.

NATURAL HISTORY.

"Do giraffes catch cold when they wet their feet, papa?"

"Of course, my son—but not until the next month!"—Hellerer Welt.

HANDS BURNED LIKE FIRE

"I can truthfully say Cuticura Remedies have cured me of four long years of eczema. About four years ago I noticed some little pimples coming on my little finger, and not giving it any attention, it soon became worse and spread all over my hands. If I would have them in water for a long time, they would burn like fire and large cracks would come. I could lay a pin in them. After using all the salves I could think of, I went to three different doctors, but all did me no good. The only relief I got was scratching."

"So after hearing so much about the wonderful Cuticura Remedies, I purchased one complete set, and after using them three days my hands were much better. Today my hands are entirely well, one set being all I used." (Signed) Miss Ella Narber, R. F. D. 2, Spring Lake, Mich., Sept. 26, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 2, L. Boston.

A Great Grace.

It is no great matter to associate with the good and gentle, for this is naturally pleasing to all and everyone willingly enjoys peace and love with those best that agree with him. But to be able to live peacefully with hard and perverse persons, or with the disorderly, or with such as go contrary to us, is a great grace and a most commendable and manly thing—Thomas a Kempis.

TOMMY MURPHY.

The great heroism who is winning most of the big races for fast trotters and colts, is Tommy Murphy. He is a record maker. "SPOT'S DISTEMPER" CURE is the best remedy for all forms of distemper and colic I have ever known. I have used it a number of years. All druggists or send to Manufacturers, 50c and a bottle of Colic Remedy, Co., Chicago, Goshen, Ind., U. S. A.

Ready for it.

"Young man, have you made any preparations for the rainy day?"

"Oh, yes," replied the son of the prominent millionaire. "In addition to my roaster, I have a corking good housewife that will easily hold six girls."

Important to Mothers.

Example carefully read. Bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams. In Use For Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

His Idea.

"An Ahkound is the best man of his kind, isn't he, pop?"

"I believe so, son."

"Then, pop, if I fill more files than all the others fellows, I will be an Ahkound of Swat?"

Stop the Pain.

The hurt of a burn or a cut stops when Cole's Carbolic Acid is applied. It heals quickly and prevents scars. 25c and 50c bottles. For sale everywhere. Write to J. W. Cole & Co., Black River Falls, Wis.

If a man smokes in the house and his wife is afraid her curtains will be ruined, he should be obliged to take them down.

The Pure Food Law stopped the sale of hundreds of fraudulent medicines. They could not stand investigation. Hamlin Wizard Oil has stood the test of investigation for nearly sixty years.

Few of us can do more than one thing well. Many a man, who has no difficulty in making money is a dismal failure as a spender.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

God is closer to us than any trouble can be.

Mrs. Roloy—Poor dear, he hasn't said a word for three weeks.

Dr. Bull-Frog—Well, you don't want him to croak, do you?—Exchange.

Only a Moose.

"The modern woman isn't a bluff," asserted Mrs. Gobbolink looking up from her newspaper. "This suffrage movement has more in it than mere ideas. The new woman is brave and fearless. Here is a story of a woman up in Canada who killed a mouse. It seems that she—"

"Impossible!" interjected Mrs. Gobbolink. "There must be some mistake—read it again."

Mrs. Gobbolink searched out the paragraph and then blushed vividly. "How stupid of me," she stammered. "I did make a mistake. It wasn't a mouse she killed—nothing but a moose."

Unfortunate Man.

A tourist in the mountains of Tennessee once had dinner with a curious old mountaineer who yarned about hard times for 15 minutes at a stretch. "Why, man," said the tourist, "you ought to be able to make lots of money shipping green corn to the northern market." "Yeg, I orter," was the sullen reply. "You have the land," I suppose, and can get the seed." "Yeg, I guess so." "Then why don't you go into the speculation?" "No use, stranger," said the old man, "the old woman is too lazy to do the plowin' and plantin'."

Roman Gospel.

Munny (the village banker)—What do you suppose the young fellows in ancient Rome did to pass the time?"

Phunny (the village philosopher)—Oh, I don't know. I suppose they used to hang around and talk about what a punk town Rome was.—Puck.

Play It or Raise It!

A German composer has written an attention piece of music called "Hell." There will be any number of people in this country able to play it at a glance.—Houston Post.

The more a woman runs after a man the easier it is for her not to catch him.

Easy Breakfast!

A bowl of crisp

Post Toasties

and cream—the thing's done!

Appetizing
Nourishing
Convenient

Ready to serve right out of the package.

"The Memory Lingers"

POSTUM CEREAL CO., L.H.
Battle Creek, Mich.

alotted to him until he reaches his eighteenth birthday.

The health of Prince Henry continues to cause anxiety. The experiment of sending him to school at Broadstairs has resulted in an improvement, but the gain in strength is hardly rapid enough to satisfy the royal physicians. It is hoped, however, that a quick change for the better will come during his holiday sojourn in the Highlands.

Prince Henry's lack of vigor is the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and he has the making of a handsome lad. His continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Blissbottle." He is the humorist of the royal children, and his comicalities of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

$500,000 CINCED BY BABY

Arrival of Infant Secures Big Estate for Pennsylvania, Nephew of Former Congressman.

Scranton, Pa.—When the stork dropped into town the other night on his usual rounds he called at the home of Charles R. Connell, nephew of former Congressman William Connell, and now Scranton is boasting of a "half million dollar baby" while the baby's mother is proudly displaying its charms to her friends and at the same time showing a $10,000 diamond sunburst, the gift of the proud father.

Under the will of the baby's grandfather, it was provided that if its father died without issue the estate was to go to the children of the former congressman, and inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. Connell had been married eight years without having a child, the estate, blessed by children, it began to look very much as if the behest of the will would stand. The arrival of the baby, however, sets aside this provision of the will and the $500,000 will now remain in the other branch of the family, no provision having been made by the late congressman for his conversion in the event of the child's not living.

Lightning Shocks Many.

Dunkirk, N. Y.—Eight persons who were examining photographs at the home of E. H. Dittler, at Fredonia, were close to death when lightning shot down the chimney. A ball of fire circled the room several times, leaving a charred course in the wall paper and tearing the plaster off the walls. It passed out an open door, shattering a tree in the yard. All in the house suffered from shock.

the eighth grade next year, and his sister, Mabel, are the other record holders in this family. Elmer has attended seven years and Mabel six.

These three attend the Sunday school of the Church of St. James of Kingsessing, where their perfect records have been maintained.

Once Robert broke his arm, and at another time Elmer suffered a similar accident. But after surgeons had placed the fractured bones in splints, the two lads started off to the school house. They said they wouldn't stay out of school on account of a little thing like a broken arm.

The mother of these three children says the average mother is too willing to excuse her child from school on account of slight and petty illnesses. Just the same, she says her children have been unusually healthy and strong, and to this fact is due the remarkable record of the family.

Eighteen years of Sunday school, every one of them spent in Sunday school, is a Germantown family record.

turn means an increase of nutrition. For children or adults an atmosphere that is electrified will have a stimulating effect."

It was with this knowledge that Dr. Christian set about making a machine which would electrify the air in a room thoroughly and quickly. The result of his experiments is a machine which contains the three essential elements of a high-frequency electric coil, an air pump and a vacuum tube. The high-frequency coil charges the vacuum tube, which is inclosed in a glass air chamber.

The air pump draws air into the air chamber and the air, after circulating about the charged vacuum tube, is carried out into the room from tubes provided for the purpose. The oxygen in the air is broken up as it circulates about the charged vacuum tube, and the air, passed out again into the room is full of ozone.

Queer Freak of Lightning.

Mansfield, Conn.—A bolt of lightning threw itself into the hip pocket of Joseph Barrow, a farmer, as he was sitting in the kitchen of his home here. The bolt came into the room via the stove pipe and was attracted to Barrow's hip pocket by the presence there of an iron monkey wrench and a big jackknife. It passed down his leg, burning him severely, and then curved over the door, setting a tin of water and splitting a huge chopping block. In Barrow's pocket the end of the wrench and the blade of the knife were fused into a solid piece of steel.

turn means an increase of nutrition. For children or adults an atmosphere that is electrified will have a stimulating effect."

It was with this knowledge that Dr. Christian set about making a machine which would electrify the air in a room thoroughly and quickly. The result of his experiments is a machine which contains the three essential elements of a high-frequency electric coil, an air pump and a vacuum tube. The high-frequency coil charges the vacuum tube, which is inclosed in a glass air chamber.

The air pump draws air into the air chamber and the air, after circulating about the charged vacuum tube, is carried out into the room from tubes provided for the purpose. The oxygen in the air is broken up as it circulates about the charged vacuum tube, and the air, passed out again into the room is full of ozone.

Queer Freak of Lightning.

Mansfield, Conn.—A bolt of lightning threw itself into the hip pocket of Joseph Barrow, a farmer, as he was sitting in the kitchen of his home here. The bolt came into the room via the stove pipe and was attracted to Barrow's hip pocket by the presence there of an iron monkey wrench and a big jackknife. It passed down his leg, burning him severely, and then curved over the door, setting a tin of water and splitting a huge chopping block. In Barrow's pocket the end of the wrench and the blade of the knife were fused into a solid piece of steel.

the eighth grade next year, and his sister, Mabel, are the other record holders in this family. Elmer has attended seven years and Mabel six.

These three attend the Sunday school of the Church of St. James of Kingsessing, where their perfect records have been maintained.

Once Robert broke his arm, and at another time Elmer suffered a similar accident. But after surgeons had placed the fractured bones in splints, the two lads started off to the school house. They said they wouldn't stay out of school on account of a little thing like a broken arm.

The mother of these three children says the average mother is too willing to excuse her child from school on account of slight and petty illnesses. Just the same, she says her children have been unusually healthy and strong, and to this fact is due the remarkable record of the family.

Eighteen years of Sunday school, every one of them spent in Sunday school, is a Germantown family record.

Try a patch of alfalfa.

Gentleness pays best with the colt or horse.

There is a great deal of humanity in axle grease.

The pigs and light porkers should go to market early.

The boar should be well fed but not allowed to get too fat.

A draft horse should have a large chest and square shoulders.

Sows destitute of humor and nitrogen are impotent to produce clover.

Hogs should have clean pastures, beds and water, and a variety of food.

Old ewes and poor breeders should be fattened now, and sent to the butcher.

Always and with any variety of hens variety in feed brings the best egg results.

Pork production appeals strongly to a man of limited means who desires quick returns.

The busy bacteria gets busy in the milk almost at the moment it is drawn from the cow.

If too many rich table scraps are fed to the hens in confinement look out for soft-shelled eggs.

Sell to private customers and deliver on a certain day. Never fail to be there at the appointed time.

Many a bunch of promising feeders go to the country and return with indications of being half starved.

The fairs give a good opportunity to compare breeds, and farmers should use this opportunity intelligently.

The point of keeping the cows clean has been proven to be a saving in feed as well as an increase in milk.

It requires two-thirds of a full ration to keep a cow in fair condition before there is any milk production.

On every farm, where soil and climate conditions are favorable, corn should be grown for fodder purposes.

Locate vines of bitter-sweet and fruiting grapes, that you wish to move from the woods to that porch or arbor next spring.

Work horses should be allowed to run out in the pastures at night in all weather except during very severe cold and storms.

The man who feels that he is bigger than his job is generally mistaken. If he was he would quickly get a job that would fit him.

Homogenized milk is milk treated in such manner as to disrupt the fat globules so that they will not rise in the form of cream.

The vigorous hen and her rooster will start off a chick that will stand much more wear and tear than immature or weakly parents.

Alfalfa is a lime plant, and a dressing of 50 bushels of slacked oyster shells or 30 bushels of slacked lime to the acre should be given.

A simple way of finding out the value of each cow is by keeping a daily record of the quality of milk given by each, and testing it at intervals.

Humus was intended by nature to create and conserve the fertility of the soil for the production of the necessities to conserve the human race.

In feeding value silage compares favorably with other crops, although this will vary with the kind of stock and the grain rations with which it is used.

If the swine are in the fattening stage they should have all they will eat up clean, but growing animals should have just enough to keep them in a thrifty growing condition.

Very cautious about inserting tubes, probes, or quills. Nothing of the kind should be inserted in a cow's nostril, excepting as a last resort, and then only with the most extreme care and cleanliness.

Soils that are heavily manured for cabbage, lettuce, celery and other crops will not need very much manure the following year, when planted with tomatoes, peppers, and root crops, especially if a fair amount of commercial fertilizer is used.

A soil well supplied with humus is practically immune from drought and excessive wet seasons, as the soil is easily permeated with water, and has a greater capacity to stand a drought.

The morning ration of the farm horse should contain about one-fourth of his daily ration. At noon another fourth should be given, and at night the remaining half should be given. Most of the hay should be given at night and before the grain is given.

In filling the silo, extra tramping should be done around the edges, and when the silage is being put in, it should be done so that it will be some one or two inches above the edges of the silo.

Prof. James E. Rice, in his Cornell reading course for farmers, says: "Corn is an excellent grain. It is perhaps the grain most relied upon by farmers. There is the danger of its being so good, that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock, and that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock."

Try a patch of alfalfa.

Gentleness pays best with the colt or horse.

There is a great deal of humanity in axle grease.

The pigs and light porkers should go to market early.

The boar should be well fed but not allowed to get too fat.

A draft horse should have a large chest and square shoulders.

Sows destitute of humor and nitrogen are impotent to produce clover.

Hogs should have clean pastures, beds and water, and a variety of food.

Old ewes and poor breeders should be fattened now, and sent to the butcher.

Always and with any variety of hens variety in feed brings the best egg results.

Pork production appeals strongly to a man of limited means who desires quick returns.

The busy bacteria gets busy in the milk almost at the moment it is drawn from the cow.

If too many rich table scraps are fed to the hens in confinement look out for soft-shelled eggs.

Sell to private customers and deliver on a certain day. Never fail to be there at the appointed time.

Many a bunch of promising feeders go to the country and return with indications of being half starved.

The fairs give a good opportunity to compare breeds, and farmers should use this opportunity intelligently.

The point of keeping the cows clean has been proven to be a saving in feed as well as an increase in milk.

It requires two-thirds of a full ration to keep a cow in fair condition before there is any milk production.

On every farm, where soil and climate conditions are favorable, corn should be grown for fodder purposes.

Locate vines of bitter-sweet and fruiting grapes, that you wish to move from the woods to that porch or arbor next spring.

Work horses should be allowed to run out in the pastures at night in all weather except during very severe cold and storms.

The man who feels that he is bigger than his job is generally mistaken. If he was he would quickly get a job that would fit him.

Homogenized milk is milk treated in such manner as to disrupt the fat globules so that they will not rise in the form of cream.

The vigorous hen and her rooster will start off a chick that will stand much more wear and tear than immature or weakly parents.

Alfalfa is a lime plant, and a dressing of 50 bushels of slacked oyster shells or 30 bushels of slacked lime to the acre should be given.

A simple way of finding out the value of each cow is by keeping a daily record of the quality of milk given by each, and testing it at intervals.

Humus was intended by nature to create and conserve the fertility of the soil for the production of the necessities to conserve the human race.

In feeding value silage compares favorably with other crops, although this will vary with the kind of stock and the grain rations with which it is used.

If the swine are in the fattening stage they should have all they will eat up clean, but growing animals should have just enough to keep them in a thrifty growing condition.

Very cautious about inserting tubes, probes, or quills. Nothing of the kind should be inserted in a cow's nostril, excepting as a last resort, and then only with the most extreme care and cleanliness.

Soils that are heavily manured for cabbage, lettuce, celery and other crops will not need very much manure the following year, when planted with tomatoes, peppers, and root crops, especially if a fair amount of commercial fertilizer is used.

A soil well supplied with humus is practically immune from drought and excessive wet seasons, as the soil is easily permeated with water, and has a greater capacity to stand a drought.

The morning ration of the farm horse should contain about one-fourth of his daily ration. At noon another fourth should be given, and at night the remaining half should be given. Most of the hay should be given at night and before the grain is given.

In filling the silo, extra tramping should be done around the edges, and when the silage is being put in, it should be done so that it will be some one or two inches above the edges of the silo.

Prof. James E. Rice, in his Cornell reading course for farmers, says: "Corn is an excellent grain. It is perhaps the grain most relied upon by farmers. There is the danger of its being so good, that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock, and that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock."

Try a patch of alfalfa.

Gentleness pays best with the colt or horse.

There is a great deal of humanity in axle grease.

The pigs and light porkers should go to market early.

The boar should be well fed but not allowed to get too fat.

A draft horse should have a large chest and square shoulders.

Sows destitute of humor and nitrogen are impotent to produce clover.

Hogs should have clean pastures, beds and water, and a variety of food.

Old ewes and poor breeders should be fattened now, and sent to the butcher.

Always and with any variety of hens variety in feed brings the best egg results.

Pork production appeals strongly to a man of limited means who desires quick returns.

The busy bacteria gets busy in the milk almost at the moment it is drawn from the cow.

If too many rich table scraps are fed to the hens in confinement look out for soft-shelled eggs.

Sell to private customers and deliver on a certain day. Never fail to be there at the appointed time.

Many a bunch of promising feeders go to the country and return with indications of being half starved.

The fairs give a good opportunity to compare breeds, and farmers should use this opportunity intelligently.

The point of keeping the cows clean has been proven to be a saving in feed as well as an increase in milk.

It requires two-thirds of a full ration to keep a cow in fair condition before there is any milk production.

On every farm, where soil and climate conditions are favorable, corn should be grown for fodder purposes.

Locate vines of bitter-sweet and fruiting grapes, that you wish to move from the woods to that porch or arbor next spring.

Work horses should be allowed to run out in the pastures at night in all weather except during very severe cold and storms.

The man who feels that he is bigger than his job is generally mistaken. If he was he would quickly get a job that would fit him.

Homogenized milk is milk treated in such manner as to disrupt the fat globules so that they will not rise in the form of cream.

The vigorous hen and her rooster will start off a chick that will stand much more wear and tear than immature or weakly parents.

Alfalfa is a lime plant, and a dressing of 50 bushels of slacked oyster shells or 30 bushels of slacked lime to the acre should be given.

A simple way of finding out the value of each cow is by keeping a daily record of the quality of milk given by each, and testing it at intervals.

Humus was intended by nature to create and conserve the fertility of the soil for the production of the necessities to conserve the human race.

In feeding value silage compares favorably with other crops, although this will vary with the kind of stock and the grain rations with which it is used.

If the swine are in the fattening stage they should have all they will eat up clean, but growing animals should have just enough to keep them in a thrifty growing condition.

Very cautious about inserting tubes, probes, or quills. Nothing of the kind should be inserted in a cow's nostril, excepting as a last resort, and then only with the most extreme care and cleanliness.

Soils that are heavily manured for cabbage, lettuce, celery and other crops will not need very much manure the following year, when planted with tomatoes, peppers, and root crops, especially if a fair amount of commercial fertilizer is used.

A soil well supplied with humus is practically immune from drought and excessive wet seasons, as the soil is easily permeated with water, and has a greater capacity to stand a drought.

The morning ration of the farm horse should contain about one-fourth of his daily ration. At noon another fourth should be given, and at night the remaining half should be given. Most of the hay should be given at night and before the grain is given.

In filling the silo, extra tramping should be done around the edges, and when the silage is being put in, it should be done so that it will be some one or two inches above the edges of the silo.

Prof. James E. Rice, in his Cornell reading course for farmers, says: "Corn is an excellent grain. It is perhaps the grain most relied upon by farmers. There is the danger of its being so good, that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock, and that it is being fed to the wrong kind of stock."

the eighth grade next year, and his sister, Mabel, are the other record holders in this family. Elmer has attended seven years and Mabel six.

These three attend the Sunday school of the Church of St. James of Kingsessing, where their perfect records have been maintained.

Once Robert broke his arm, and at another time Elmer suffered a similar accident. But after surgeons had placed the fractured bones in splints, the two lads started off to the school house. They said they wouldn't stay out of school on account of a little thing like a broken arm.

The mother of these three children says the average mother is too willing to excuse her child from school on account of slight and petty illnesses. Just the same, she says her children have been unusually healthy and strong, and to this fact is due the remarkable record of the family.

Eighteen years of Sunday school, every one of them spent in Sunday school, is a Germantown family record.

Try a patch of alfalfa.

Gentleness pays best with the colt or horse.

There is a great deal of humanity in axle grease.

The pigs and light porkers should go to market early.

The boar should be well fed but not allowed to get too fat.

A draft horse should have a large chest and square shoulders.

Sows destitute of humor and nitrogen are impotent to produce clover.

Hogs should have clean pastures, beds and water, and a variety of food.

Old ewes and poor breeders should be fattened now, and sent to the butcher.

Always and with any variety of hens variety in feed brings the best egg results.

Pork production appeals strongly to a man of limited means who desires quick returns.

The busy bacteria gets busy in the milk almost at the moment it is drawn from the cow.

If too many rich table scraps are fed to the hens in confinement look out for soft-shelled eggs.

Sell to private customers and deliver on a certain day. Never fail to be there at the appointed time.

Many a bunch of promising feeders go to the country and return with indications of being half starved.

The fairs give a good opportunity to compare breeds, and farmers should use this opportunity intelligently.

The point of keeping the cows clean has been proven to be a saving in feed as well as an increase in milk.

It requires two-thirds of a full ration to keep a cow in fair condition before there is any milk production.

On every farm, where soil and climate conditions are favorable, corn should be grown for fodder purposes.

Locate vines of bitter-sweet and fruiting grapes, that you wish to move from the woods to that porch or ar

Grand Rapids, Wis., Oct. 4, 1911

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wis., as second-class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One Year.....$1.50
Six Months......75

Advertising Rates.—For display matter a space of 10 cents an inch is charged. The charge in the Tribune is 25 cents per line for one insertion. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments where an admission fee is charged will be published at 5 cents per line.

They Know It.

The democrats do not need to shout President Taft full of holes in order to show his weakness, misdeeds and subject submission to the "big interests" as the insurgent republicans are doing this work for them and doing it well.

Senator Worley of California, a republican says Taft is a willing tool in the hands of the great trusts and that he has brought his party face to face with the greatest crisis in its history. In a recent speech Senator Clapp of Minnesota, a life long republican and a vigorous supporter of President Roosevelt's administration has denounced President Taft in flaming words for his veto of the bill admitting to Statehood Arizona and New Mexico, which was voted simply on the ground that Arizona had "the recall" provision in her constitution. They have gone so far as to charge that President Taft is trying to turn the presidency into an imperial office and thus deprive the people of self government for our judges. If they cannot be recalled, are our masters and real rulers and seat of the power of the great trusts. Our judges are our imperial rulers.—Merrill News.

Stephenson Investigation.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 2 (Special).—With United States Senators Hayden of Idaho, Sutherland of Utah and Pomeroy of Ohio sitting as his judges, the venerable Senator Isaac Stephenson of Marquette faced the senatorial investigating committee of the national body here Monday morning. It is the Wisconsin man's last fight to keep his seat in the upper house at Washington and the conflict promises to be sharp and decisive. It is not believed here that Mr. Stephenson will be long kept in the witness chair and then will follow E. A. Rindfleisch, Appleton; J. A. VanOrman, Marinette; J. H. Paulsen, Milwaukee; Rodney Sackett, Berlin, and others.

Just what the scope of this investigation will include will not be known until the session progresses. It may end only with the activity of Mr. Stephenson and his agents during the legislative fight in Madison or it may include the whole preliminary campaign. This line of action will be determined by the sitting members in executive session as the case progresses.

Other members of the investigating committee are Senators T. H. Paynter, W. O. Bradley, Kentucky. The former will be here for later sessions of the hearing but Senator Bradley will not be able to come because of illness.

Rhodes Scholarship Open to Students Next Year.

President O. R. Van Orman of the University of Wisconsin, chairman of the Wisconsin committee on selections for the Rhodes Scholarships at Oxford University, England, is in receipt of an announcement from the trustees of the Rhodes bequest to the effect that an examination for candidates for the scholarships will be held at the University of Wisconsin in October, 1912, and all those desiring to take this examination should prepare for it this year.

The scholarships are of the value of $1,500 a year, and can be held for three years. Candidates will be examined in Latin, mathematics and Greek. If desired, candidates who have passed in the first two subjects and are not prepared to take an examination in Greek, may postpone the examination in that subject until a later date.

In selecting the scholar to represent the state of Wisconsin at Oxford, the committee of selection is instructed to consider the candidate's literary and scholastic attainments, his fondness and success in outdoor sports, his qualities of truth, courage, unselfishness, good fellowship, and devotion to duty, and finally, his exhibition of moral force of character.

Naval Hero Dead.

Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, retired naval officer, dropped dead in New York on Monday, death being caused by heart failure.

Admiral Schley was born in Maryland in 1830 and served in the navy during the civil war. He came into greatest prominence during the war with Spain, being in command of the fleet that destroyed Admiral Cervera's fleet at Santiago. He retired several years ago.

GOVERNMENT LAND OPENING

4,000 Homesteads Open to Settlement.

—400,563 acres open to settlement in the Pine Ridge and Rosebud Reservations, located in Bonanza and Mellette Counties, S. D. The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the direct route to registration points—Gregory, Dallas and Rapid City, S. D.—and the only line to the reservation border. Dates of registration, October 2 to 31 inclusive. The lands to be opened to settlement are some of the choicest in South Dakota. For printed matter and full particulars, apply to Ticket Agents, Chicago & North Western Ry., or address A. C. Johnson, P. T. M., 226 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago.—St.

THE OPEN DOOR SILDs AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR STAIRS, PORCHES, ETC.
"THE HANDIEST FRAME BUILT"
SOLD BY VESPER WOOD MFG. CO.
VESPER WOOD CO., WIS.
SEE MODELS AND CATALOGS AT

OFFICIAL WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

In connection with the new weights and measures law now in force in Wisconsin, it is interesting to note that the legislature has officially fixed the weight of a bushel of nearly all the products likely to be found in stores. There is really no use for a bushel measure, since the measurement shall be made by avoirdupois weight, in the absence of special agreement.

Section 4 of the act reads in part as follows:

1. Whenever any of the articles or commodities mentioned in this section shall be sold by the bushel, or fractional part thereof, and no special agreement as to weight shall be made shall be made in writing, the measure thereof shall be ascertained by avoirdupois weight, and shall be computed as follows:

2. Sixty pounds for a bushel of wheat, peas, potatoes, clover seed, or beans:

3. Fifty-seven pounds for a bushel of onions.

4. Fifty six pounds for a bushel of Indian corn, rye, lima beans, wrinkled peas, flax-seed, rutabagas, or turnips.

5. Forty-four pounds for a bushel of sweet potatoes.

6. Fifty pounds for bushel of corn meal, rye seed, millet seed, lentils, green cucumbers, apples, rye meal, carrots, blackwheat, hickory nuts, or flax seed.

7. Forty-eight pounds for a bushel of barley or Hungarian grass seed.

8. Fourteen pounds for a bushel of blue grass seed or red top seed.

9. Forty six pounds for a bushel of clover seed.

10. Forty-five pounds for a bushel of timothy seed or rough rice.

11. Forty-four pounds for a bushel of hemp seed, parsnips, or sea island cotton seed.

12. Forty-two pounds for a bushel of turnips.

13. Thirty-five pounds for a bushel of cranberries.

14. Thirty-four pounds for a bushel of barley malt.

15. Thirty-three pounds for a bushel of dried peaches.

16. Thirty-two pounds for a bushel of oats.

17. Thirty pounds for a bushel of upland cotton seed.

18. Twenty-five pounds for a bushel of dried apples.

19. Twenty pounds for a bushel of bran or shorts.

20. Seventy pounds for a bushel of coarse salt or lime.

21. Eighty pounds for a bushel of unshelled lima.

22. Eight pounds for a bushel of plastering hair.

23. And two thousand two hundred pounds for a cord of hemlock bark.

24. For a fractional part of a bushel a like fractional part of the above weights shall be required.

25. All dry commodities not otherwise specified in this section shall be bought or sold only by standard dry measures, standard weights, or unimpaired count except where parties otherwise agree in writing.

The bushel in stork measure shall contain two thousand one hundred fifty and forty-two hundredths cubic inches. The half bushel and parts thereof all correspond in capacity to that of the bushel and shall be the standard measure for fruits, vegetables and other dry commodities customarily sold by heaped measure; in measuring such commodities, the half bushel or other similar measure shall be heaped as high as may be without special effort or design.

Catholics Plan a Great Colony.

The biggest colonization idea ever conceived to benefit any one country has recently been organized in the United States by the Catholic church of that country, for the purpose of bringing settlers from all over the world to Western Canada. Pope Pius X has given his sanction to the movement, which, according to R. J. C. Manning of Chicago, now in Winnipeg, bids fair to land 5,000,000 people in Western Canada within the next five years.

Mr. Manning has been engaged by the Catholic clergy of the United States, who have the plan in hand, to come to Canada and negotiate with the railways of Western Canada for several million acres of land. He arrived in the city yesterday.

The original idea, as outlined by Manning last night, was a desire on the part of the Catholic clergy of the United States to benefit the poorer people throughout the world by buying an immense area of Western Canada's fertile farming lands and selling it to them at cost. Religious denomination, according to Mr. Manning, will not be a figure, and poor people throughout the world will benefit through the desire on the part of the United States Catholic clergy to do a charitable act that will reach the farthest ends of the world.

MEEHAN

School began in the Steinkamp district Monday with Miss Eva Peterson of Amherst as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Shultz of Rudolph visited with friends here Sunday.

E. B. Kartz of Stevens Point was a business caller here last week.

Katie Boorman of Stevens Point has been enjoying herself here for the last two weeks. She formerly lived here and naturally enjoys herself with old friends.

Owing to the recent heavy rain storms the water has raised high in the river here and threatening to overflow the low lands. Many large fields of farm products are therefore in danger as these bottom lands are mostly planted into crops.

STRAYED—A yellow dog came to my place on Monday last. Owner can have same by paying for this notice and damages. Will George, Town of Seneca.

There is No Use Talking

—Barker's Cough Remedy is the medicine for colds, sore throat and rheumatism. Johnson & Hill Co.

Miss Harriet Williams

Teacher of Piano

Studio 214, 3rd St. S. Phone 432

NEKOOSA

(From the Times)

Harold, the little son, about eight years old, of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Okusz, met with a very painful accident Saturday afternoon, from which he will not be able to recover for several weeks. He was playing with a number of companions near his own age, using his little express wagon in which to haul things. While going down an incline the "horses" gained too great a start for the driver to check them, and Harold, the driver, was thrown out. The wheels passed over him and a long pole they had in the wagon struck him, the net result being a fractured collar bone and his left shoulder dislocated. Harold went to his father's store, but made so little complaint about his injuries that it was fully half an hour before his mother discovered that he was seriously injured. The family physician was called and gave the necessary treatment and the lad is now getting along finely.

Dr. Pommiaville, John Jackson, Mike Powers and Martin Mollen went to Friendship in the Dr.'s. auto, last Friday, to attend the Adams County fair. Of course they witnessed the ball game between Friendship and New Rome, in which Fritz Benz and George Crowns of Nekoosa did the pitching for New Rome.

Oliver Boyles and wife returned to Nekoosa last Friday from New Rome, where they had been during the summer, looking after the Neal Crowns farms there. Mr. Crowns recently sold the farms to Chicago parties, which is the cause of Oliver and his wife vacating.

PITTSVILLE.

(From the Record.)

The Heinz Pickle Station closed down for the season Saturday. This has been a good season insofar as it has been a long one. Cucumbers growing has dragged along late in the season and it commenced early, giving growers one of the longest seasons since the establishment of the Heinz plant here.

John Cassidy, who has been visiting at the parental home down in Iowa county for the past six weeks, arrived home Thursday last. He reports things in a farming way down there about the same as here. They have had all kinds of grain and hay and corn are bumper crops this season.

Jas. R. Carroll has disposed of his farm near Vesper to a party from near Milwaukee. Mr. Peterson, who has been running the place for Mr. Carroll will remain for the new man. Mr. Carroll still has quite an extensive land holding about and this side of Vesper.

Dr. Henson, Nash Mitchell, O. A. Eclow and E. S. Woodworth motored up to Marshfield Friday last on a business trip.

Mrs. J. D. Witter and daughter of Grand Rapids visited at the Woodworth home Saturday, coming up in the auto.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS.

Grand Rapids People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them.

—Sick kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions are dark, contain a sediment, passages are frequent, scanty, painful.

Backache is constant day and night, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent.

The weakened kidneys need quick help. Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Grand Rapids evidence proves their worth.

Mrs. G. W. Nutter, 325 Lincoln St., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I have often recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I know of many instances where they have been used with excellent results. My kidneys were weak and I suffered from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to good health and proved to be good for kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ARPIN

Pleasant Hill

W. J. Mann, who has been here on matters of business for the past week, left Monday for Waukesha. There must be some attraction for him here if he has sold his farm.

Mrs. P. H. Likes gave a party for her Sunday school class, Saturday, Sept. 30th. Ice cream and cake were served. On account of the hard rain they were compelled to stay all night. Those present were: Misses Leota Peters, Mary and Ethel Stroppe, Louisa and Nina Johnson, Mildred and Mabel Robertson.

Rev. Robinson preached his first sermon Sunday.

Alfred Gronemeyer and Max Peterich have their silos filled.

The wet weather is bad on the potatoes and some have started to rot. Kurt Zellmer attended a wedding in Rudolph Tuesday.

Will Stroppe and family attended the sale at Frank Hamel's Tuesday.

Will Hiles has his new barn about completed. It is a fine looking building.

Miss Laura Gronemeyer, who has spent the past month with her brother Alfred, returned to her home in Germantown Tuesday.

W. J. Mann purchased A. P. Bean's fine team which he will take to Waukesha with him to work on his farm.

There is No Use Talking

—Barker's Cough Remedy is the medicine for colds, sore throat and rheumatism. Johnson & Hill Co.

Daily Thought
If what you have done yesterday seems big to you today, you have done nothing today.

RUDOLPH.

Mrs. Clovis Crofteau passed away at her home Tuesday morning, Sept. 28th, at ten o'clock after an illness of four months with cancer of the stomach at the age of 74 years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Shaddock, who has been staying with her mother for some time and Mrs. N. J. Richards of Grand Rapids, her sons are Oscar of Grand Rapids, Curtis of Bron, Jasper of Merrill, Babe or Elmer, who lived with his mother, and Leonard, who lives in Montana and was unable to come. She has been a resident of this place for a good many years and besides being missed at the home fireside she will also be missed at the Catholic church where she was a devoted Christian worker and worshipper always present in all kinds of weather. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of their many friends.

There was a big party at John Kohnen's place last Sunday in honor of their silver wedding. There were about seventy-five people present.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohnen received some nice presents. Refreshments were served and after six o'clock when the table was cleared, the young folks started a little hop which lasted till about twelve o'clock. Then everybody went home well satisfied and they all reported a fine time.

Salmer Hassell departed Wednesday noon for a visit with his sister, in Congress Park, Ill., and will also attend the fair in LaCrosse.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hassell, John and Clara attended the funeral of Mrs. Jacobson in your city last Thursday.

Mrs. Corrine Baldwin took her father, Mr. Johnson, to the Rapids last Tuesday night to consult a doctor but he would not have any. He is staying with his daughter, Mrs. Jean Janes.

Mrs. Baldwin returned Wednesday morning on the train.

Mrs. L. Barrett came up from the Rapids Sunday noon and staid until Wednesday noon. She came up to see Mrs. Crofteau and returned home after her death.

Frank Root spent Sunday with his best girl in Neillsville.

Mrs. J. Bowker was shopping in your city Monday.

Mrs. Geo. Elliott has had her house and wood shed painted which greatly improves their appearance.

There was no school in District No. 1 Friday.

Miss Edie went to the Rapids to attend institute.

Joe Marshall has returned from his vacation but he has not brought "her" here to live.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clark returned home Thursday from a pleasant week's visit with relatives in Fond du Lac.

Nick Marston has moved his family and household goods here from Bron.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are expected here the last of the week for their annual visit.

Misses Katherine and Mammie Redmond spent a couple of days here with relatives and friends returning to their home in Daney Tuesday.

Ruby Bates spent Saturday in the Rapids with Selma Kruger.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Kocian of Milladore spent Sunday and Monday with her mother, Mrs. McGregor.

Miss Selma Kruger spent Sunday in Rudolph.

Joe Elstine has returned to Wausau after a couple of weeks taking Joe Marshall's place at the depot.

Mrs. J. Bowker departed Tuesday for Viola, where she will spend a couple of weeks and Bessie will keep house for her.

Carroll Bowker, who is attending training school in your city, spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday at home.

Allie Koch has had his new house and barn painted. When it stops raining he expects to have the ornery repainted.

During the storm Thursday Will Provost's wood shed containing ten cords of wood was struck by lightning and burned.

Louis Livernash spent Thursday and Friday at Wausau visiting his brother, Isadore, who was seriously hurt on his train three weeks ago at Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss Sharkey have moved to their new home.

Mrs. Frank Sheffert was in Grand Rapids on Monday having some dental work done.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O. Crofteau departed on Tuesday for Plainfield where they will spend a month on Mrs. Crofteau's father's farm assisting them in harvesting their crop of potatoes.

The heirs of John Sheffert will hold an auction on Tuesday, October 17.

True Philosophy.
To have what you want is riches, but to be able to do without is power.—George Macdonald

Good Health

Is reflected in person who couple a careful, wholesome diet with the moderate use of an invigorating, healthful food beverage like

GRAND RAPIDS BEER

The ruddy good nature manifest in those who indulge in an occasional good glass of beer, like Grand Rapids Beer, is proverbial. They are good natured because they have gained strength, health and vigor from its use.

In striking contrast are the pessimistic coffee or tea drinkers and the optimistic beer drinker.

Try our beer. It is the acme of healthful liquid refreshments.

Grand Rapids Brewing Co.

A Home Industry

Phone 17

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood

Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel

Telephone 305

Couldn't Sell His Place

Frequently you hear of a man who had a sale of his property about completed when some defect was found in the title and the buyer wouldn't take property.

*An Abstract of Title is a complete history of the transfers of property by deeds and mortgages from the time of the Government ownership. An Abstract of Title will show whether the title to any particular piece of property is good, or whether mistakes exist in the drawing of the papers or whether or not there are any breaks in the title.

Get an Abstract of Title to your property, have it examined by a competent attorney, and if any mistakes or breaks exist, have them perfected so you can sell without any delay.

G. E. BOLES

Dealer in

Mortgages, Loans, Real Estate, Abstracts of Title and Insurance

Lyon Block Telephone 323

J. A. GAYNOR

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office over the Postoffice on the East side. Will practice in all courts Tel. 142

DR. E. L. GRAVES

DENTIST

Office in the MacKinnon Block. Office phone 254

D. D. CONWAY

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Law, Loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East side, Grand Rapids, Wis. Tel. 338

DRS. BANDELIN & HOUSTON

DENTISTS

Office over Otto's drug Store on West side. Phone 437

MISS E. MacKINNON

Daughter of Philip von Mittlel, New York City

Will give lessons on the violin at her residence 280 3rd Ave. North, West Side. Telephone 347.

B. M. VAUGHAN

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Money loaned, Real estate bought and sold. Wood Block, east side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

J. W. COCHRAN

LAWYER

Office in Wood County Nat'l. Bank Bldg., Grand Rapids, Wis.

Admitted to practice in all courts of the states of New York and Wisconsin, and in Federal Courts. Collections and settlement of estates given careful attention. Confidential correspondence in every city of the United States, Canada and all principal cities of Europe.

J. R. RAGAN

Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker

House phone 69. Store 313. Spafford Building, east side.

GEO. W. BAKER & SON

UNDERTAKERS AND LICENSED EMBALMERS

65 North Second street, east Grand Rapids, Wis. Business phone 401, night calls 402

J. J. JEFFREY

LAWYER

Loans and Collections. Commercial and Probate Law. Office over Gross & Lyons. Tel. 251

CHAS. C. ROWLEY, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Office specialty Osteopathy. 14 McKinnon block. Phones 150 and 466.

GEO. L. WILLIAMS

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office in Wood Block, over Post Office. Telephone No. 91. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

W. E. WHEELAN

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office in Daily Block, East Side. Tel. No. 243. Grand Rapids.

DR. D. A. TELFER

DENTIST

Office over Wood County National Bank on the east side, Grand Rapids, Wis. Tel. 260

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

ORSON P. COCHRAN

PIANO TUNER

Best of work guaranteed. Call telephone 233 or at the house 447. Third Ave. north.

DR. A. L. RIDGMAN

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Telephone No. 92. Residence phone No. 23. Office over Church's drug store on West side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Daly's Theatre---One Night Only

</

ADDITIONAL LOCALS
Alvin Schneider spent Sunday with friends in LaCrosse.
Mrs. George Burkey has been confined to her home the past week by sickness.
Mrs. Charles Reiman of Wausau is visiting at the Henry Knoll home this week.
Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hanson of Wausau are in the city to attend the Kellogg-Pishor wedding.
Miss Olga Schreiber returned to Minneapolis on Tuesday evening after spending three weeks in the city visiting with her mother.
Mrs. R. W. Lyons, who has been visiting her friends in this city for a couple of weeks past, has returned to her home at Dowling, Mich.
O. P. Menzel returned on Saturday from Milwaukee where he had been in attendance at the Kestman school of photography. He reports a very pleasant trip.
—The Novelty Store on Vine Street is offering bargains in Enamel ware this week. 50 cents enamel ware at 25c. Come and see them. 5 and 10c line. On Vine Street, M. A. Boggor.
Mrs. F. H. Jackson returned on Friday from Chicago where she accompanied her daughter, Dorothy, who entered the Chicago Art Institute for a three years course.
Mrs. M. J. Kandy was in Milwaukee last week, where she went to attend the Kestman school of photography and also to buy the outfit for her photographic studio which she intends to open in the Wheelan & Kruger building in the near future.
—Have you called at the Novelty Store and seen those bargains on the 5 and 10 cent tables. Goods are really worth twice the price we ask. 5 and 10 cent sign. Vine St., M. A. Boggor.

To Change Location.
Joe Wheeler has rented the corner store in the Hoskinson building for his ice cream parlor and cigar store and expects to move just as soon as the carpenters are thru with the repair work. The corner now occupied by Mr. Wheeler in the MacKinnon building will be for rent.

PEARS! PEARS!
We have a few left at 87 cents per hamper. If you want to can Pears you must get them now.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

FOURTEEN MILE CREEK
Corn cutting is the order of the day in this place.
P. M. Rous purchased a new corn cutter this year.
Mrs. Camp was a Grand Rapids shopper Wednesday.
F. A. Brown is working for Mr. March this week helping build a cement cellar under his home.
O. E. Hewitt of Grand Rapids accompanied by two other men, were seen on our streets Thursday.
Charley Brown is working for F. M. Rous cutting corn.
Miss Eudice Powers is spending her two weeks vacation at her home in Easton. Her father and little brother came up Friday after her returning Saturday.
P. M. Rous took a fine hog to Grand Rapids Wednesday which he sold to the butchers.

BABCOCK
Deloris Ward and Cecil Downing of Grand Rapids were visitors at the L. Ward home between trains on Saturday.
Mrs. Jas. McLaughlin and daughter Helen of Grand Rapids were calling on friends and relatives Saturday and Sunday.
S. Griffith leaves on Thursday for a visit of a few days with his son in Madison, S. D.
H. J. Gribler is in the southern part of the state looking over a business proposition with a view of locating there.
D. Levin of Tomah has been in the village the past week, attending to affairs on his farm.
Thos. James, an old resident of the town of Remington, died of cancer of the stomach, at his farm home about three miles west of Babcock on Sunday.
L. Kammerd has purchased the M. F. Ward home and will take possession soon. O. E. Griswold will move into the Kammerd house, vacated by the Kammerd family.
H. Beattie and family will leave in a few days for Washington to visit a son who is employed in the west.
Mrs. E. Miller was a Grand Rapids visitor on Monday.

Peck's Bad Boy.
—At Daly's Theatre, Friday, Oct. 6, Peck's Bad Boy will put in his annual appearance dressed up in grand new scenery and costumes. He will also have an entirely new play, new songs, new dances, and new and novel specialties. Duets, trios and quartets from the popular operas will be well sung and properly and handsomely dressed. It is not the same old play we have seen for years, but is brand new from start to finish.

ALTDORF.
Again the stork has made his visit here; this time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Mathias, bringing with him a baby boy.
Mr. Henks and Miss Mary Schmidt of Racine were visiting at the Peter Wirtz home last week. They departed for their homes last Friday. Anton Arnold purchased a horse and cow at your city last week.
What is more disagreeable than an officer that is altogether too officious? The Emory Bennett family moved there here last week on their way to Vesper where they will live this winter.
The cheese factory has closed its run for this season.

BIRON
Mr. and Mrs. Nio Maroon have moved to Rudolph. Mrs. J. T. Herrou of your city will take charge of the vacant hotel after proper repairs have been made. Mr. and Mrs. Nio Maroon will be missed here.
Mr. and Mrs. Goff DeMars left for Rochester, Minn., Sunday night. They are in hopes that this is their last trip and their many friends hope the former will soon recover.
Mrs. Eugene Crotteau returned to her home at Mosinee Sunday. Her husband accompanied her home.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akoy Sundayed in your city with friends.
Miss Sadie Baker, our intermediate department teacher, was unable to attend to her duties last week. Miss Lulu Moll acted as substitute.
Charley Brys Sundayed at home with his parents at Rudolph.

ADVERTISED LETTERS
Ladies. Bombenbeck, Mrs. Tialoe; Brown, Mary, card; Kappel, Miss Edith, card; Miller, Laura; Mitchell, Mrs. S. B.; Ohlstrom, Miss Annie; Sorogin letter; Plisko, Victoria, card; Pliskio, Mary, card; Railling, Mrs. Arthur, B.
Gentlemen. Beart, Anton, card; Bushnell, C. D., card; Culyar, E. H., card; Cull, F. A.; DeOoux, Roy, C. J.; Gelsert, Roy, card; Green, Mark, card; Hahnemann, O. G.; Koller, Ed., card; Myers, Sam, card; Railling, Arthur, card; Stern, Morris, 2 cards; Schumacher, O. R., card; Travis, T., card; Wheeler, Watson, card.

Death of Mrs. Vandenberg.
Mrs. Frank Vandenberg died at her home on the east side last Wednesday, Sept. 27th, after a lengthy illness from cancer. Deceased was 66 years, 5 months and 1 day old, and is survived by her husband and a family of children.
The funeral was held on Sunday from the German Lutheran church on the east side. Rev. Mauck officiating.

FROM NEARBY PLACES.
Arnott—E. J. Carley, Chas. Breitson; J. J. Karoh, J. A. Wernchowski and R. E. Newby of Arnott and Alex Kluck of Ouster are among the active promoters of a State bank which they expect to organize at Arnott station on the Green Bay & Western road within the next few weeks. The new institution will be capitalized at $10,000, of which upwards of one-half has already been subscribed and the balance will be secured within a few days. A brick or stone building may be erected this fall, but in the meantime temporary quarters will be secured in one of the two locations at present available. Arnott is located in the midst of an excellent farming community, with a prosperous class of people for many miles around, and those who are at the head of this bank have reason to feel that it will prove a paying institution.
Oashton—O. M. Culver of Oashton secured a verdict against Walter Jones, a West Salem farmer, for obstructing the highway. Culver came up behind Jones in an automobile, and several times requested Jones to allow him half the road that he might pass. Jones, it is alleged, refused to judge and for three miles the auto had to "walk" behind the slow team. The case was rather expensive, as Jones was fined $10 and costs.
Merrill—August J. Stange, actively engaged with his father in the management of the A. H. Stange company, will leave Merrill and locate at LaGrange, Ore., near which city the Stange company has extensive timber holdings. While no announcement has been made of its plans, it is believed that the Stange company intends to build a saw mill at LaGrange.

Waupaca—Chancy Taylor, an inmate of the Veteran's Home, was arrested for hunting squirrels without a license and fined $25.00 and costs amounting to $30.00. In default of payment he was sentenced to thirty days in jail where he is now spending his leisure time.
Plainfield—Last week Ed. Cornwell sold what potatoes he dug from a piece of breaking containing three and three-fourths acres. He dug 611 bushels and sold at market price as he handled, getting all the way from sixty to sixty-seven cents per bushel, receiving a total sum of $371.05—not bad for a revenue from a little chunk of Wisconsin farm land. Wonder if the two-hundred-dollar-an-acre farm land we read about does much better?

Coloma—Last week's News spoke of a Hancock man who marketed $39.80 worth of potatoes from an acre. That man is not in it with Herman Krueger, of this town, who sold 880 bushels from two acres, at seventy cents, bringing him $231 in all, or $115.50 per acre.

LOW COLONIST FARES
To Pacific Coast.
—September 15th to October 15th, inclusive, Colonist one way second class tickets will be sold to principal points in California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, via Chicago, Union Pacific and North Western Line. Tickets available on daily and personally conducted tours in Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars. For full information apply ticket agents, Chicago and North Western Ry.,—26.

Water is High.
The water in the Wisconsin river has been at the five foot mark for a day or two past, the recent rains having increased the flow very materially.

Oct. 4
State of Wisconsin, Wood County in County Court.
In the Matter of the Estate of William F. Sydow, deceased.
Upon reading and filing the application of Hugo Sydow, administrator of the estate of said William F. Sydow, deceased, for the adjustment and allowance of his account as administrator and the assignment of the residue of said estate to such other persons as are by law entitled to the same.
It is ordered that the said account be examined, adjusted and allowed as a regular item of said estate to be paid at the court house in the city of Grand Rapids, in said Wood County, on the first Tuesday, to-wit: the 7th day of November, 1911 at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of said day.
It is further ordered that upon the adjustment and allowance of such account by this court as aforesaid the residue of said estate be paid to such persons as are by law entitled to the same.
It is further ordered that notice of the time and place of the examination and allowance of said account, and of the assignment of the residue of said estate, be given to all persons interested by publication of a copy of this order for three successive weeks before said day in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a weekly newspaper printed and published in the city of Grand Rapids in said county.
Dated September 29th, 1911.
By the Court,
W. J. Conway,
County Judge.
Geo. L. Williams,
Attorney for administrator.

Sept. 8
State of Wisconsin, Wood County, in Circuit Court.
Oshbrook Brothers Manufacturing Company, (a corporation of Illinois), vs.
Jasor H. Noyes and Noyes, his wife, William H. Davis and Davis, his wife, Anna S. Chisney and Chisney, his wife, and their heirs, assigns, successors and all unknown grantors and claimants of the said Noyes, Davis and Chisney, and their heirs, assigns, successors and all unknown owners and persons claiming interest in the lands and interests therein after described.
State of Wisconsin, ss. I, the said defendants and each of them.
You are hereby summoned to appear with twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid, and in case of your failure to do so, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demands of the complaint, which a copy is herewith served upon you.
Geo. L. Williams,
Plaintiff's Attorney.
Post Office address: Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin.
Note: The lands and premises affected by the above entitled action are situated in the city of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin, and are described as follows: to-wit: All that portion of the north-east corner of the south-east quarter of Section 22, Township 22 North, Range 22 East, of the Green Bay & Western Railroad, except a small strip on the north-east corner of said block and block occupied by the right-of-way of the Green Bay & Western Railroad.

FOR SALE OR RENT
90 acre farm, all under cultivation, located on Sigel road in the city limits, formerly known as the Jos Possley farm. Good soil, good buildings and a good proposition. For particulars inquire of
C. H. ZIMMERMAN
Grand Rapids, Wis. R. F. D. 4

FREE
SPECIAL—With every Hart, Schaffner & Marx Suit sold during this sale we will give a guaranteed Ingersoll watch free. These watches are guaranteed to keep correct time. See them in window.

Johnson & Hill Co.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Just received a beautiful line of Silk and Worsted Dresses for Women and Misses, also the popular velvet Dresses in brown, blue and green.

Worsted Dresses at $10.00 and $12.50.
Silk Dresses at $12.50 to $25.00.
Velvet Dresses at $18.00, $20.00 and $22.50.

We Offer the New Polo Coats in $12.50 Quality Like the Illustration at $9.95

This Polo Coat is in the very latest and most popular model. It is made of good cheviot, has a wide belt, with deep collar, and large turn back cuffs. Handsome buttons of the same color complete this very dressy model. A coat that combines good style with comfort, and we specially commend it for motor and street use. We show this coat in tan and navy blue. It's a $12.50 value, sale price 9.95

Sweater Coats
for Ladies, Misses and Children.
A large and complete assortment of the new styles in sweater coats.

Ladies' all wool Sweater Coats from $2.00 to $10.00
Misses' Sweaters from $1.00 to $5.00
Childrens Sweaters from 50c to $3.00

Night Gowns
Women's flannelette Night Gowns of good grade fancy flannelette. Special this sale 48c

Women's plain colors and striped flannelette gown, regular and extra sizes at 75c, 85c, $1.00, $1.15, $1.25 and $1.50.

Furs Furs Furs

of all kinds and descriptions. Persian Lamb sets at $35.00. Natural Mink sets from $35.00 to $150.00. Genuine Seal $50.00. Japanese Mink sets $25 to $50. Beaver sets at $50.00.

Fox, Wolf, Black Pony, Oppossum, Natural Skunk, Caricul and Plush Muffs and Scarfs from $1.00 each to $75.00 each.

Try our Shoe Department for Serviceable and Stylish Footwear.

Steinberg's Store
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Sale begins Saturday, October 7th, and Lasts until Saturday, October 14th. We just bought a new stock of Winter Goods, and bought it so cheap that we are able to sell cheaper than ever before. Below we are quoting a few of the many bargains:

Men's woolen Underwear, all sizes, sold at $1.50, sale price.....	98c
Men's woolen Underwear worth $1.00, our price.....	63c
Men's red woolen Underwear, regular price $1.35, special.....	98c
Men's heavy fleeced lined underwear 50c, our price.....	38c
Children's fleeced lined underwear, sizes up to 34, our price.....	25c
Men's good sweater coats, our price.....	48c
Men's plush lined, fur collar coats, worth $17.50, at this sale.....	$12.50
Men's automobile coats, worth $12.50 sale price.....	$8.00
Men's corduroy sheep-skin lined coats, furcollars, worth $7.50, now.....	$5.25
Men's corduroy sheep-skin lined coat with wombat collar, $7, sale price.....	$4.98
Men's duck sheep skin lined Coats, with sheep skin collar, worth $5.00, our price.....	$3.98
Men's duck Coats worth $2.00 sale price.....	$1.40
Men's duck Coats worth $1.60 at this sale.....	$1.15
Men's woolen Sweater Coats worth $4.00, now.....	$2.98
Men's woolen Overshirts worth up to $2.00, sale price.....	$1.25
Men's Jersey Overshirts worth 50c, now.....	48c
Woolen Blankets worth $3.50 at this sale.....	$2.00
Boys' good Winter Coats, at this sale $1.75 and.....	$2.48

Big Bargains on all Children's Sweaters.

Special Bargains on Shoes and Rubbers and Boys' and Men's Clothing.

Max Steinberg,
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

We are Exclusive Agents for the Celebrated "Crossett Shoes"

And are showing a big line of them from $3.00 to $5.00

A Very Snappy Button Model

This new Crossett creation is sure to be copied.
Decidedly out of the ordinary.
Patent calf vamp—
Dull calf top—
With a style of perforation that gives tone to the four ensemble.
Popular with young men.
And comfortable—
sure!

Kruger & Warner Company
The Home of Bettes Clothes

Crossett Shoe
$4 to $6 everywhere.
Lewis A. Crossett, Inc. Makers
North Abington, Mass.

Crossett Shoe
Something "nifty" in Russia calf.
Made of leather ordinarily used in Summer shoes, but has a heavier sole.
Snappy style effect heightened by a brand new idea in perforation.
Just the shoe for the dressy young man.
Same old Crossett comfort.

3rd Door from Postoffice.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Explanations will not be in order—for there is never any failure where VICTORIA is used—if you will bake with

Victoria

The lightest of Biscuits, Bread and Pastry is guaranteed where VICTORIA is used.

Try it.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

How is Your Supply of Wood and Coal

We can help you out and at the RIGHT PRICES

Prompt Attention Given to Orders

Gust Kruger & Son

Phone No. 237

W. Melvin Ruckle, M. D.

PRACTICE LIMITED TO EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT

Glasses fitted correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon, Riverside hospital. Office in Wood Co. Bank Building. Tel. 254

GOOD CIGARS

Made Right at Home!

"Father George" and "Don Aurelio" 10c

"Grand Rapids" and "F. C. B." 5c

They are all first class goods for the money. Call for them when you want a smoke.

F. C. BROCKHAUSEN.

LAUGH

and the World Laughs with you.

WEEP

and you Weep alone.

This grave old earth has lots of COAL.

It has troubles enough of its own.

Time to order your next Winter's COAL

Bossert Bros. & Company

Phone 416 Residence 54

DONT OPERATE TOO SOON

APPENDICITIS

can be removed by spinal adjustments. We remove the cause of the disease.

Gall stones, renal calculi, jaundice and all kidney and liver trouble successfully adjusted.

For all acute and chronic diseases see

F. T. HOFF

Graduate Chiropractic

Office over Daly's Drug Store

Hours 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 8 p. m.

Chiropractic is not Medicine, nor Surgery, nor Osteopathy.

Buy Your

COAL

-of-

E. C. Ketchum

Good Service and the Best of Coal

If any of the coal that we deliver to you is not satisfactory call us up and we will make it right.

Telephone 410

so you are satisfied.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mrs. Louis Fayrouse is confined to her home with diphtheria.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Friedstein returned on Friday from a visit in Chicago.

Mrs. J. H. Shekey of Wausau visited at the Herman Abel home the past week.

J. B. Lovelace of Juneau County, was a business visitor in the city on Saturday.

Frank Boyanowski of Stevens Point transacted business in the city on Saturday.

Mark Whitbrook departed on Sunday night for Milwaukee to enter Marquette College.

Messrs. Dave Woodruff and G. Horn of Vesper were in the city on business Saturday.

Miss Estella Johnson of Wausau visited with friends in the city several days the past week.

Jas. K. P. Hiles of Dexterville was in the city Thursday looking after some business matters.

Attorney C. B. Edwards and Edward Gallett of Marshfield were business visitors in the city on Thursday.

Messrs. T. E. Nash and A. C. Otto were shopping in Milwaukee several days the past week.

Miss Carolyn Kuntz departed on Sunday for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Manning at Winona.

Emil Schuler purchased forty acres of land in the town of Seneca the past week of Albert Schrader.

J. J. Varnoy, proprietor of the Massion House at Marshfield, transacted business in the city on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McLees have gone to housekeeping in the Gottschalk and Anderson flat on Grand Ave.

Miss Selma Peterson of the town of Seneca returned on Saturday from a two week visit with relatives in Winona.

Otto Siewert was able to resume his duties at the meat market on Saturday after a two weeks illness with erysipelas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller have been visiting with relatives and friends in LaCrosse the past week and attending the fair.

Postmaster and Mrs. R. A. McDonald returned on Monday from several days visit with their son Bert at Ladysmith.

Ernest Rietelman returned to his home in Muskegon on Friday after spending two weeks in the city visiting at the Arthur Rietelman home.

Attorneys B. R. Goggins, W. J. Conway and T. W. Brazner were in Friendship several days last week attending the session of circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hafschild brought in a couple of nice parsnips, a nice onion and a turnip last week to add to our collection of farm products.

Eric Karlsen of the town of Rudolph was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Friday, having dropped in to pay up a year's subscription.

J. R. Ragan returned on Friday from a business trip to New York, having gone east as a delegate to the National Funeral Directors and Embalmers Convention.

Ed Polansky brought in a sample of Japanese millet on Saturday the stalks of which are about 6 feet long. Also several large potatoes to add to our collection.

O. Leroux, one of the prosperous farmers of the town of Sherry, was a business visitor in the city on Saturday. Mr. Leroux reports good crops on his farm this season.

Messrs. J. J. Jeffrey, W. J. Conway, Harold Arpin and Henry Demitz spent Sunday at the Arpin marsh and succeeded in getting a mixed bag of 34 ducks, chickens, geese and snipe.

E. S. Potter, an experienced restaurant man of Ripon, has rented the place formerly occupied by Joe Sitterly in the Hoekinson building and expects to open up his place of business in about a week. Mr. Potter moved his family here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pillar, former residents of this city, but who have been living at Phillips for several years, are visiting at the Dwight Green home for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Pillar are considering moving back to this city.

Roy Parrish, who is operating the John Parrish farm in the town of Sherry, was in the city on Friday and brought in a couple of geese which were placed in our vegetable display. One of the geese weighed 10½ pounds and the other 11½ pounds.

The members of the Cranberry Sales company held a meeting at the city hall on Tuesday for the purpose of discussing conditions of the present season. There was a fairly good attendance considering the bad weather that prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wenzel left on Saturday evening for a week's visit with relatives in Merrill after which they will depart for LaGrange, Oregon, where they will make their future home. Mr. Wenzel having accepted a position with a lumber company.

M. J. Feavel left on Saturday for Madison, where Mrs. Feavel had preceded him several days. Mr. Feavel shipped his stock of goods down to the capital city and it is his intention to open a store there. Their many friends in Grand Rapids will wish them success in their new location.

Julius Nelson of the town of Sigel brought in a sample of alfalfa on Saturday which was raised on his place. He says that about three years ago, and that it is getting a fine start, with every indication that it could be raised successfully in this section.

W. C. Boyce, who moved to Clinton, Iowa, from this city about a year ago, was in town for a few days the fore part of the week visiting his friends and looking after some business matters. Mr. Boyce is in the monument business at Clinton and his many friends here will be glad to know that he is getting along nicely. He left for home again on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pouse visited in Green Bay on Thursday.

Dr. J. A. Jackson of Rudolph was a business visitor in the city on Friday.

J. H. Linderman sold the Eliza Gaffney home on Elm street to Fred Hirsch.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McKeroher have returned from a visit at Merrill and Wausau.

Sara Church and E. B. Garrison transacted business in Milwaukee on Friday.

Chas. Dixon transacted business in Grey Eagle, Minn., on Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Chas. Pomatville visited at the Fred King home in Merrill the past week.

Messrs. R. W. Parsons and L. T. Fox of Glover were business visitors in the city on Friday.

Mrs. D. D. Conway left on Tuesday for Minneapolis to visit with relatives for a few days.

Mrs. C. E. Boles visited with her mother, Mrs. Reilly at Marshfield several days the past week.

Louis Thompson, of the Marshfield police force, was in the city on Thursday with a prisoner for Sheriff John Somitt.

Paul Juneau, one of the pioneer farmers of the town of Rudolph, was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

B. F. Nason recently traded 80 acres of wild land near Lindsey for the old Hubert farm in the town of Rudolph.

Will Hill, who has been employed at Tomahawk the past summer, arrived home on Saturday for a visit with his parents.

Miss Ella Peters, bookkeeper at Normington Bros. laundry, returned on Saturday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Milwaukee.

Frank Krysiak of Milwaukee has been a guest at the home of his brother-in-law, John Jagodzinski in the town of Sigel the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Delap of Winchester were guests at the George Delap home on Friday and Saturday while on their way home from New Lisbon.

P. Mulroy, who is somewhat of a farmer himself, brought us in a rutabaga last week that weighed seventeen and one-half pounds. Pretty good for the first attempt.

George Delap was called to New Lisbon on Thursday to attend the funeral of his brother's wife, Mrs. Will Delap, who died on Tuesday after an illness of four years with cancer of the stomach.

Rev. F. A. Nimitz of Sheboygan spent several days in the city last week visiting with his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Linderman. Mr. Nimitz has been transferred from Sheboygan to Marinette for the ensuing year.

John Margatroyd, proprietor of the Vesper Brick & Tile Co., transacted business in the city on Saturday. Mr. Margatroyd reports everything humming on his way and that there are two new brick store buildings under the course of construction at present.

Miss Alice Seehagen was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seehagen on Friday evening by a number of her lady friends in honor of her approaching marriage to Reinhold Krueger, which takes place on October 11th.

Will Haertel of Lindsey spent several days in the city visiting with his son Fred, who is employed at the Wood County bank and friends about town. Mr. Haertel went from here to Northport where he will join his wife who has been visiting there with her relatives for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Benimler, writing from Amelia, Va., where they have been located for several years past, state that they are enjoying excellent health and are getting along nicely. They say that the past summer has been the hottest and driest that has been experienced in that country for years.

George Smith arrived home from Port Arthur, Canada, on Thursday for an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith. George submitted to an operation for appendicitis several months ago, but has not been feeling very well and it is the opinion of his physician that he will have to submit to another operation.

John Omholt, one of the pioneer farmers of the town of Rudolph, was a business visitor in the city on Saturday and incidentally informed the Tribune man that he and his wife expect to depart some time next month for a four months visit with his three sisters in Denmark. Four years ago Mr. Omholt made a visit to his old home in Norway.

Ben P. Moran of Stevens Point and Miss Elizabeth Hughes of Kansas City, Mo., were married on Monday of last week at Kansas City. Mr. Moran is well known here, having made this city in his capacity of traveling salesman for a number of years past. Mr. and Mrs. Moran will make their home at Stevens Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kupisak of the town of Sigel have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Agnes to Mr. John Morzinski, which will take place on Wednesday morning, October eleventh at nine o'clock at the Holy Rosary church in Sigel, followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

"The Indian's Secret" which is to appear at Daly's Theatre, Wednesday, Oct. 4 is not a noisy shooting show of blood and thunder but a play that holds and enchants, being more on the order of the Squaw man "the great divide" and plays of that character, with a clean human, vivid, truthfully portrayed plot showing the picturesque customs of Indian life at home on the trail and in warfare. "The Indian's Secret" was written by the man who wrote "The Flaming Arrow" that is enough.

LOST—Fifty dollars in bills on Saturday morning. Five dollars reward for their return to John Schuler, Care St. near Cedar St. or return to this office.

John Normington purchased the Arthur Wenzel home on Park street last week.

Mrs. Ed. Whitney of Port Arthur, Ontario, arrived in the city on Monday to visit among friends.

Thos. Andrews, one of the pioneer settlers of Pittsville, transacted business in the city on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bossert were called to Minneapolis on Monday to attend the funeral of a relative.

Miss Lena Kievers returned to Chicago on Tuesday after a three weeks visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jos. Rick.

Rev. C. A. Mellicke and family returned on Friday from a two months visit with relatives in Minnesota and Saskatchewan, Canada.

Art. J. Mulroy of Hay City, Kansas, returned to his home on Monday after spending a week in the city visiting with his uncle, Patrick Mulroy.

Messrs. Matt Carey and A. J. Hasbrouck were in Appleton on Tuesday to attend an adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Fox River Oil Co.

Miss Ella Hasbrouck, who has been in Chicago for several weeks past, returned to this city last week and has resumed her old position in the Taylor & Scott office.

Mayor W. E. Wheeler returned on Sunday morning from a month's visit in the northern part of the state where he went to get relief from his annual attack of hay fever.

A. E. Bennett of Cameron spent Monday and Tuesday in the city visiting with friends and attending the meeting of the Cranberry Sales company held in this city on Tuesday.

Mrs. Tillie Zabawa has issued invitations to the wedding of her daughter Verna to Mr. Joseph Rucinski, on Wednesday morning, October 11th, at St. Lawrence church at 8 o'clock a. m.

Dr. Geo. Houston and Prof. J. W. Merrill, hunted chickens down in Adams county on Friday and Saturday. They report a very good hunt, with enough chickens to make it interesting.

F. J. Wood, who has been in Wesley hospital, Chicago, during the past four weeks, returned to this city on Saturday evening. Mr. Wood has so far recovered from his operation as to be able to be about and his many friends here will be glad to greet him again.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Shadkowsky mourn the loss of one of their infant twin girls who died on Saturday after an illness of two days with bowel trouble. The little one was seven months old. The funeral was held on Monday, Rev. Wojak of St. Lawrence Catholic church officiating.

Jos. Bissig of City Point was a business visitor in the city on Monday and informed a Tribune man that they had finished picking cranberries on their marsh on Wednesday. Mr. Bissig stated that their crop this season is the largest they have ever had and will be in the neighborhood of 1200 barrels.

The members of the Methodist church will hold a reception at the church parlors on Friday evening of this week in honor of the return of Mr. Pease to this city. All members of the church and others interested in the welfare of that institution are invited to be present and have a good time.

Carl Omholt of Rudolph, who has been logging in the vicinity of Shangolden for several years, brought down a carload of twenty-five hogs which he raised at his camp the past summer and sold them to the Roiland Packing Co. Mr. Omholt expects to start his crews at work logging within the next two weeks and will put in several million feet of logs this winter.

The new law making it a criminal act for any person to jump on or hang onto a car, engine, coach or any wheel carrier, on a railroad, is being posted by the railroads of the state, and distributed to agents. The law makes it the duty of every employee of the system to swear out warrants for the arrest of all offenders. The fine for violating this law is not less than twenty-five dollars or twelve days in the county jail. The enforcement of such a law would result in a great saving of human life.

LOST—Irish Setter hunting dog on Sunday in the town of Rudolph. Has white spot on breast, and answers to the name of Sport. Please notify Dr. Jackson at Rudolph or this office.

At a recent meeting of the Retail Grocers' association in Fond du Lac, the membership of which includes most of the grocers of that city, it was voted to, entirely, dispense with the measure system and adopt the weight scale in both the sale and purchase of vegetables and other articles formerly sold by the measure. This will apply to potatoes, apples, pears, nuts, rutabagas, turnips, and numerous other staples of commerce formerly sold by the peck or measure. The scale as to pounds per bushel, as provided in a law passed by the last legislature, is a synopsis of which is published in the Tribune this week will be followed. It is stated that several other cities in the state have adopted the same system and that it is giving good satisfaction.

Scandinavian Moravian Church. The Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Andrew Odgaard. Thursday evening the Willing Workers will meet in the church. On Sunday morning services will be held in the Scandinavian language. Services will be held in Rudolph at 2:30 p. m.

FOR SALE—Singer sewing machine, as good as new. Inquire at the Grand Rapids Color Shop, 100 McKinley street. Mrs. Max Swatke.

ANOTHER CAR OF GRAPES. This is the third carload received by Johnson & Hill Co. 16c a basket or 5 baskets for 75c.

Beautiful Language.

A bit of language about as beautiful and about as full of good sense as any to be found in recent utterance is the following from Senator Bob Taylor of Tennessee: "I would rather fill my purse with money and keep its gates ajar to my happy girls while they linger under my roof than to clutch it with a miser's hand until the harp strings of youth are broken and its music forever fled. I would rather spend my last nickel for a striped marble to gladden the hearts of my barefooted boys than to deny them the childish pleasures and leave a bag of gold to quarrel over when I am gone. I abhor the pitiless hawk that circles in the air only to swoop down and strangle the song of the linnets or bury its talons in the heart of a dove. I despise that soulless man whose greed for gold impels him to strangle the laughter and song of his own family."

Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notice to Creditors

In the matter of the estate of Pauline Boyce, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of Pauline Boyce, wife of the late Dr. Rudolph, in said County of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to D. D. Conway.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until and including the 3rd day of March, A. D. 1912, and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Pauline Boyce deceased, shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That all claims and demands of all persons against the said Pauline Boyce, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court at its Court Room in said County, at the regular term thereof appointed to be held on the fourth Tuesday, being the 26th day of March, 1912, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for said creditors to present their claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice, for four consecutive weeks, once in each week in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the County of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof.

Dated this 19th day of Sept., 1911.

W. J. Conway, County Judge.

D. D. Conway, Atty.

Sept. 20, State of Wisconsin—Circuit Court for Wood County.

William Huxhold, Plaintiff,

vs.

Frank Joss, Drantha Worcester, Solomon Babbitt, H. B. Jackson, Arthur J. Jackson, his wife, A. J. Summons, Henry J. Summons, his wife, W. J. Summons, known owners, and wives, if any, and heirs, grantees, and assigns, defendants.

The State of Wisconsin, to the said defendant.

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid, and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint, if which a copy is herewith served upon you.

Chas. E. Hefner, Plaintiff's Attorney.

P. O. Address: Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin.

The above action is brought by the plaintiff to establish his claim and title to and forever bar the above mentioned defendants known and unknown, against having or claiming any right or interest in the land hereinafter described, to be held on the 3rd Tuesday, being the 26th day of March, 1912, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until and including the 3rd day of March, A. D. 1912, and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Frank Joss, deceased, shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That all claims and demands of all persons against the said Frank Joss, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court at its Court Room in said County, at the regular term thereof appointed to be held on the 3rd Tuesday, being the 26th day of March, 1912, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for said creditors to present their claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice, for four consecutive weeks, once in each week in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the County of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof.

Dated this 9th day of September, 1911.

By the Court: W. J. Conway, County Judge.

What Is Better?

than the best bread and butter? Better buy and tell a better grocer he'd better bring you better butter. Then you'll be happy.

Our Bread

John Wooddell

To Our Friends and Patrons:

On Monday, October 9th we will be in our store building on the corner of Grand and Fourth Avenues, ready for business, and where we will be pleased to meet all our old customers and also new ones.

Our stock will be one of the best and largest assortments of Fancy and Staple Groceries in the city, and it will be our effort in the future as in the past to give our patrons 100 cents worth for every dollar spent with us.

Gottschalk & Anderson

GROCERS.

SAVE MONEY

In Amounts

large or small, but SAVE!

On large or small amounts alike. Our Savings Department adds 3 per cent interest, thus giving your money an EARNING POWER!

No one can look far into the future, but anyone can prepare to meet it by saving as much as they can to-day.

Let us have your deposit this week.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS

WEST SIDE

Another Car of Grapes

This is the third carload received by Johnson & Hill Co. 16c a basket or 5 baskets for 75c.

TAKE WARNING

and do not venture to purchase lumber that is apparently cheap. Find out the quality before you part with your money. Though costing little it might be very very dear in the end. Better deal at home with a reliable house, who is always ready and anxious to see that you get just what you want.

KELLOGG BROS.' LUMBER CO.

HYGIENIC SHOES FOR WOMEN

Treadeasy shoes for women are made on scientifically hygienic principles. They have rubber heels that take all jar off the spine—not just a lift but a full heel made from new rubber—and cork cushion insoles, with an additional layer of cork and rubber between the insole and outsole making them practically damp-proof. Treadeasies are always $3.50 the pair.

Sold by I. Zimmerman

Now Is The Time To buy a Favorite Base Burner

the sooner you do so the sooner

Your Coal Bills Will Shrink

Pretty soon the leaves will begin to turn scarlet and yellow and brown. The cold days are coming—are you ready for them?

It's not too early to plan for heating during the cold months. You'll probably need a new stove—and you want the best one.

You can have every room in your home warm and comfortable day and night this winter—and with less expense than you paid last year for heating one or two rooms—if you buy a Favorite Base Burner.

The Favorite is the only base burner that pours heat into the house from every square inch of its surface. Every nook and corner—upstairs and down—may be luxuriously and evenly warmed with a Favorite.

You cannot afford to buy a stove without investigating the Favorite. Come and see us now, and we will show you why the base burner that bears this mark will throw out more heat, and consume about half as much fuel as other makes.

FOR SALE BY Central Hardware Co.

By George Barton

An Episode in the Life of James J. Brooks, once Chief of the United States Secret Service.

A black and white illustration of a detective in a trench coat and hat, holding a revolver, confronting a horse-drawn carriage. Two men are seated in the carriage. The detective is shouting "HALT!" and the text below reads "COMMANDED THE DETECTIVE."

That was opened and that, like the other, yielded only Alderney milk.

"Now," said Brooks, "let me see the contents of the can in the middle."

"Oh," exclaimed Davis, "this carrying a joke too far."

The can was opened, however, and it was found to contain high priced water. Every one of the other cans were filled with distilled spring water. Davis was arrested, tried and convicted, and the far-reaching conspiracy of defrauding the government defeated. Brooks was highly complimented by Commissioner Rollins, and shortly afterwards was assigned to Philadelphia where he won new laurels in ferreting out and punishing the scoundrels who cheat Uncle Sam of his legat dues.

Waiting for an Opinion.

"Now Rastus," roared the major, "what is the use? Don't you know that I know you are lying?"

"Yessuh," replied Rastus, "but y see, Marsus Henry, I kind o' thought I'd like to hab yo' opinion on de subject befo' I decided dat I was lying."

"You are lying, Marsus Henry," yelled Marsus Henry. "I see yo' way. I know I is, sub-?"

"Harpah's right."

Students in Paris Parade on Anniversary of the Lendit, Celebration of Centuries Ago.

First came a squad of archers and mounted trumpeters, then the heralds of the city on foot. Behind him appeared the rector of the university with a mounted man carrying his banner, the provost of the parchment sellers, professors and members of the faculty in the robes of their order. Then came a yeoman, who followed like the "King of the Thimble," who was mounted on a donkey and accompanied by his clowns. This column consisted of the students of the four nations—France, Anjou, Picardy and Normandy, each with its band of music.

While the only object of the pageant was that it was ostentatiously costume, the freemen of the Sorbonne furnishing all the information needed, the participants and the crowds of spectators enjoyed it so much that it may be made an annual affair.

Dean of London Bar 100 Years Old.

A Gordon Blake, the dean of the London bar, celebrated his one hundred birthday recently at his home at Brighton. Mr. Blake is a first class lawyer, speaks English, French, Italian and Spanish—and reads Horace, Virgil and Montaigne.

He attributes his long and healthy life to plenty of riding—he had five years a favorite horse named Daisy—and to walking and to abstemious living. He has never carried much for modern varieties of dress.

Mr. Rex T. Blake tells a good story of his father's rough and ready toilet. Dr. Charles Hanson once called on him at his chambers and asked permission to put on his barrister's wig and gown. "Now," he said, "lend me a looking glass." He was handed a razor—the nearest approach to a mirror possessed by his friend.—L.A. Herald.

Belonged to Father.
Every one knew Jonathan Skinfint as a millionaire, with the exception so it appeared, of Skinfint himself. He invariably wore the shabbiest of clothes and is reported to have dined one day on a couple of peas and grape skin.

One day an old friend endeavored to persuade the miser to dress better. "I am surprised," he said, "that you should let yourself become so shabby."

"But I am not shabby," expostulated Skinfat.
"Oh, yes, you are," replied the friend. "Remember your father. He was always neatly, even elegantly dressed. His clothes were very handsome."
Skinfat gave utterance to a hearty laugh. "Why," he shouted triumphantly, "these clothes I've got on were father's!"—Idcas.

Vacation Bromidiads.

"I don't care anything about it, you know, but the women folk insist on it."
"No, I don't expect to have a good time. I'll feel worse tired out when I catch back than when I went away."
"It's such a bore. Don't you know this thing of having to pack up your gadding all over the country under the pretext you need a rest."
"The misery of it is that you can get good coffee anywhere."
"And, besides, it always rains when I go on my vacation."
"It's summer anyway but selfish people at summer resort."
"I'll be mighty glad when it's over."

reply. "I thought you might. It would have been how isn't natural for a woman to be living alone. As the Bible says, there ought to be a man around the house."

"I never read that in the Bible! Leastwise, I shouldn't want a man around under foot. It must be a relief to you not to have a wife musing around."

"But it ain't widow-it ain't," replied Moscon. "I'm so dinged I don't know what to do. Sarah knows

"Did she name any one?"
"Well, no, but she might if she hadn't got short o' breath. I guess the naming was to be left to me."
"And have you picked the person you want?"
"I have, widow, and that's where I brought me here today. Yes, her name is Dushana, and I'm going to ask her right out if she'll have me."
"Why, Moses Frazer!" exclaimed the woman as she threw up her hands in pretended astonishment. "You can't be speaking to me! You can't be speaking to me!"
"Dibvery last word of it! I'm benighted by your heart and hand!"
"My stars! But this is no way to court a woman!"
"I'll allow it's a little sudden, but then you ain't young folks who have got to speak around. I thought I'd tell you how I felt, and then give you a week to make up your mind."

"Moses, perhaps it's my duty to marry you."
"I know it is."
"But if I do I'm going to have many a way about certain things."
"You shall, widow."
"We must be married in a ballroom. I'm not at all romantic, but I want to be married in a ballroom."

something different from just calling in the minister."

"But how am I going to fix for balloon?" he asked.

"I don't know, but that's what you have to do. No balloon, no marriage."

Moses went riding through all the villages for twenty miles around asking questions about balloons, and was two weeks before he returned to the widow as yet:

"I'm willing to oblige, but we cannot get no balloon here short of a thousand dollars, and mebbe not for that."

All Can be

Little Story Goes to Show That N
Man "Knows It All," as the Prophet Said.

Every man can be sold, says a journal of salesmen. Not easily, of course, necessarily. Some resist. Yet even the most obstinate of men is susceptible of "conversion," and yields when a salesman "shoots the bullet" of personal appeal from the gun of concentration." He yields still more

"I guess we had better drop the matter for now,"

Moses begged for another chance and was taking three days to consider it. The women said:

"Well, perhaps I'm a little too particular to want balloons and explosives and so I'll be content with my flying machine. You can surely get one of those. I read in the papers every day of their carrying passengers at the rate of a mile a minute. Why can't we be carried at the rate of a mile a minute?"

"Lauda, woman, it would cost over a dollar we are both worth," groaned Moses. "And if we got a machine and went up it would be the preacher's gain. We couldn't hire one to fly with us. Preachers ain't taking chances. I don't see why we can't go to a preacher's house or have one come here."

"We must look at the sentiment of the thing. It's for a woman to have her way about such things. Moreover, there is a tall tree anywhere around

"Yes, there's a big elm about a mile beyond the bridge," the minister said. "You can build a platform in the top and then run ladders up."

"Ladders, but do you want to be trapped in a tree-top?"

"I do. You have disappointed me about the other things, but you mustn't about this."

Moses went out to survey the tree in close range, and to talk to carpenters and masons. The carpenters said it could be done, but when the minister was approached he replied with a shiver:

"What? Climb a tree to marry a couple? You can have little reason for the elch to propose such a thing."

The good man consented, however, to call on the widow at a moderate hour, and after an hour of waiting two hours a compromise was effected. The marriage was to take place from a platform on top of haystack, and two weeks later it came off with the whole village as captivities. Later on, when the bride was asked why she was so bent on the unusual she smiled and replied: "Why, I was never married, but I think I had been a widow for eight years before any man asked me to marry him!"

Lost the Lake.

Our British cousins have been accused of being devoid of humor for so long that the following yarn is told to remove the imputation in measure. Not so very long ago a Englishman, just across, visited San Paulo, and saw the large lumbering towns in the northwest. Practical the entire town and country was owned by a company. The Englishman was taken out into the great pine forests, where immense white pine tower on every side.

he asked.

"To the Humbird lumber company," was the answer.

He was shown through the large lumber plant and informed that it belonged to the Humbirds. The first bank building, the great department store, rows upon rows of dwelling houses, all belonging to the same corporation.

As a crowning treat he was taken for a spin around lake Pend d'Oreille in a swift launch. Upon their return while standing upon the dock, he asked:

"May I ask who owns this lake?"

"Oh, it belongs to God."

"Aw, really, is that so? Now, would you mind telling me how he manages to get it away from Mr. Humbird?"

Outing Magazine.

Well-Preserved Statesman.

There are thirty-five senators and forty representative in congress who are 60 or more, and they seem to be in their prime.

---

Made Victims

Col. One of the board said he wouldn't bet $5 you would live two years. I knew from your appearance and the investigations I have made among your friends that the case was not quite so bad as represented, are going to the home office tonight and fight for you, and if I succeed I wire. Good-by!"

Naturally, the "prospect" experienced a scare. He became male weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it. He said it was too good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a f

"I know of so many cases where the men have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if the medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANET KATZ, 3063 Arville, Chicago, Ill.

There is no question as to the fact that women who want a cure should look upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and accept everything else on which the doctor has failed to cure them.

Women who are passing through the critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every case it has been found to be the best and restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If afflicted with red eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

Sergeant—"All! Take Murphy name for talkin' in the ranks.
Corporal—"W-y, sergeant, 'e was talkin'.

Sergeant—"Wasn't 'e? Well, excuse 'im in the general room for doin' 'im in—"The Tattler.

His Christmas Check.

Al Ryan, the hospitable flint glass worker of Lockport, N. Y., and former ly organizer of the socialist local at that place, was being congratulated by the boys at the glass factory
"Hey," said Al, "my uncle on Tiffin is mighty good to me. 'He before Christmas he sent me a check for $100 just as little a Christmas gift."

After the usual congratulatory re-ments had been duly made all around.

Al added:

"Yes, but certainly in a fine old law. In the peremptory of his letter containing the check, he said:

"'Dear Al, if you manage to get the check cashed, please send me $4. I need a pair of shoes.'—The Communist Nation.

The Old Love Possible.

Mrs. Chum, last Friday, at a garden party at Hampstead, praised the working girl.

"How much nobler," she said, "work than to marry for money. I know a pretty girl who gave up a good position to marry a man of sixty-nine."

"Why not marrying for love, she then asked.

"'And the old fellow,' said the chum, indignantly, 'is worth $7,000,000!'

"'You,' was the reply. 'It's $7,000,000 I'm in love with.'"

Folly of Vain Regrets.
The late John W. Gates, an incapable optimist, harped continually the futility of pessimism. One of Mr.
Gates's epigrams, still quoted on the Chicago Stock Exchange, ran:
"He who nurses foolish hopes may be an ass, but he is not such an ass as he who nurses vain regrets."
Of Course He Cried.
"Mimmy! What on earth are you crying about now?"

"Tommy Jones dreamed last night that he had a whole pile to eat and didn't."

-----

Some men never reach the top of the elevator last running.

-----

FOOD AGAIN
A Mighty Important Subject to Ever One.

A Boston lady thinks entertaining of food and the changes that can be made in health by some knowledge of that line. She says:

"An injury to my spine in early manhood left me subject to severe headaches which would last three or four days at a time, and a violent course of drugging brought on complication with all the ills that follow."

"My appetite was always light and uncertain and many kinds of food distressed me."

"It began to eat Grape-Nuts food two or three years ago, because I liked the taste of it, and kept eating it because soon found it was doing me good."

"I eat it regularly at breakfast, frequently at luncheon, and again before going to bed—and have no trouble

Simply Old English Tongue

Interesting Account of the Origin of What is Known as the Irish
"Brogue."

Perhaps nothing illustrates better the vicissitudes of pronunciation in English than a study of what is called the "Irish brogue." This lingual motif, for it is scarcely to be called a dialect, is usually presumed to be a deterioration of language due to lack of education and contact with legitimate sources of English. It proves after a little study to be a preservation of the old method of pronouncing English, which has come down to a great degree unchanged in Ireland from Shakespeare's time.

In Elizabeth's time, however, it came to be realized that for there was to be any real assimilation of the two countries, then the Irish language must be supplanted by English, and a definite effort in this direction was made. This change of speech, resented and resisted, was nevertheless successfully accomplished all over the island, except in the west, within a decade after Shakespeare's death. This fact takes on a new significance when we study what we now call the Irish brogue in connection with what is known to have been the pronunciation of English at that time. The two are found to conform in practically every respect. Irishmen pronounce English as their forefathers learned it; and have preserved its pronunciation because they have been away from the main current of English speech variation ever since.—James J. Walcott, D., in Harper's Magazine.

Ingenious Etymology.
In a recent article in the Nineteenth century the Rev. A. H. T. Clarke created Prof. Richard Porson with a philological job d'esprit. Porson was a great English scholar, who, among other astounding feats of memory, could repeat all of Gibbon's footnotes roto.

A farmer, once meeting him in public house, challenged him to derive his own name, which was Jeremiah
King, from cucumber. The farmer thought he had "stumped" the scholar, but Porson immediately accepted and won the challenge.

"Jeremiah King" he began, "Jeremiah
King, Jerry King, Jerry King, Jerkin Gherkin." Porson triumphantly concluded, "which is a cucumber."
Youth's Companion.

A story is told of a certain "producer" who was set upon by a life insurance agent and wheedled into buying yards and yards more insurance than he could afford. Hardly had he resolved to write and cancel the agreement when a voice over the wire said, "I've been working mighty hard to get you through. Medical board kicked on a certain point in the examination report and turned you down."

was his relief, three days later, when the agent telegraphed, "By threatening to resign, have obtained president's special consent to put you through."

Joy filled the prospect's soul. He bound himself to pay tribute to the insurance company in the sum proposed, and blessed his gods. Only recently has he learned that his examination report contained no flaw—it, indeed, pronounced him a capital risk.

Yes, verily, every man can be sold.

Read the little book, "The Road Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a treasure Ever read the above letter? A good one appears from time to time. It are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

ADVENTURES of the WORLD'S GREAT DETECTIVES

By George Barton

The Milk Punch Revenue Fraud-

An Episode in the Life of James J. Brooks, once Chief of the United States Secret Service.

IN THE summer of 1885, Interior Revenue Commissioner Hollins summoned James J. Brooks to Washington. The officers of the government were greatly perplexed. Congress had placed the almost prohibitive tax of two dollars per gallon on whiskey, immediately met distilleries sprung up in all parts of the country. Commissioner Hollins very much desired to break up the illegal traffic, and he had selected Brooks as the man for the purpose. The interview between the two men was long and important. "Brooks," said the commissioner, "the frauds connected with the production and removal of spirits are becoming alarming. Great public dissatisfaction has arisen from the failure to collect this tax. Besides it is ruining discipline in the service, and unless some remedy is obtained, I fear further demoralization."

"Are the conditions as bad as that?" "Worse!" I have figures which show that 90 per cent. of the whiskey reported made and warehoused has been sold without payment of the revenue tax. Such extensive fraud is not possible without the knowledge of responsible revenue officers. It is exceedingly difficult for officers in Washington to detect collusion on the part of their subordinates in other places. These frauds have not only robbed the national treasury, but have corrupted many men of honorable acknowledged integrity. Men of capital but without conscience have sometimes been found to be partners of those who have put to the front for bribery or perjury and the evils of detection. Brooks, I want you to help me break up this business."

After outlining the general situation, the commissioner became specific in his statements and informed the detective just what he expected him to accomplish. That night Brooks departed on his assignment, which was to a little town near Cincinnati, and which for the purposes of this narrative, shall be known as Mendon. He wore no disguise. He never did. He was in the habit of saying humorously that his actual appearance was all the disguise he ever needed.

The man who alighted from the train at Mendon was a tall, commanding figure. He had a benevolent look which seemed to say: "I am not with all the world." Only two parts of his organism could be said to talk. His eyes bespoke intelligence, and his lips expressed determination. He was about 40 years of age, but his willing hair gave him the appearance of being much older than that. Before he had been in the little village long, it was whispered about the town that a trust distributor and an agent for some charitable institution. He registered at the only hotel in the place under an assumed name. It did not take him long to get into conversation with the proprietor and so some of the townsmen about the place. The talk, at first, was about the weather and horses, and politics, and church matters, finally turned on Mendon and its inhabitants.

He learned that John Davis was probably the most important man in the locality. He combined the business of a distiller and a dairy man. He had 30 cows and a distillery, and a farm of a hundred acres. Everything seemed to be open and above board. Davis apparently worked hard, and with a son and his hired men, did not seem to have much spare time on his hands.

Brooks managed to come in contact with Davis, but there was nothing about the personality of the man that gave him any clue. Davis was a look-alike though he wore constantly exhausted through lack of sleep. His countenance did not give any indication of the operation of his mind. He had preferences, but no friendships. The dull horizon of his life seemed unfettered save by occasional streaks of tact in business matters. One of the townsmen in the hotel credited him with having once brought about a corner in pork on a limited scale. Another indicated that he had once mixed blue white meal with his hard. These things did not seem very important in themselves, and yet they were traits of character which made it possible to believe the charge that he had habitually withheld from taxation nearly three-fourths of his yield of whiskey.

Brooks contrived to visit his farm on various occasions. He went through the dairy, examined the live stock and managed to get a peep into the distillery. He arranged his visits so that one day he went in the morning, another in the afternoon, and still another in the dusk of evening, but he was never able to find anything out of the way. From time to time whiskey was sent out in casks, but it was always properly gauged and the government appeared to be receiving its tax.

Among other persons with whom the detective became acquainted was a quaker old character named Ezra Wallace. He was a Scotch Presbyterian, and was the sexton of the village church. He was an intensely religious man and hungered for discussion of theological subjects more than once, and it was not long before he found himself among the

At this psychological moment the detective gave a terrific sneeze. "If you had been in your warm bed last night," said Ezra, now making his accusation direct, "you probably wouldn't have had that cold."

"Oh, that's all right," was the cheerful reply.

"It is not all right," retorted the sexton, "and I'll thank you to give me back that key."

Brooks handed it to him with some misgivings.

"What are you going to do?" asked the detective.

"I don't know yet," was the reply. "I'll find out first whether anything's been taken out of the church. After that I'll decide what to do."

It took Brooks nearly an hour to pacify the old man, and in convincing him that although he was traveling under an assumed name, and spent the night in the steeple of the church, he was engaged in a legitimate business, and assured him that in a short time he would explain it all to his satisfaction.

The day after his night in the church steeple, Brooks was very busy. He telegraphed to Cincinnati several times, and during the afternoon and evening it was noticed that several strangers alighted from the way train that stopped at Mendon. The detective was very stiff from his exposure, but he managed to conceal his discomfort in the thought of the important work that lay before him.

He was up at daylight the following morning. He stationed himself in the road that led from the Davis farm to the station. The two-horse team that was in the habit of hauling the milk to the train was due at six o'clock. It rumbled along just at the hour. Davis, himself, occupied a place on the seat beside the driver. The detective stood near a turn in the road. Behind him, concealed in a clump of bushes, were two able-bodied assistants. As the team reached that point Brooks stepped in front of the horses.

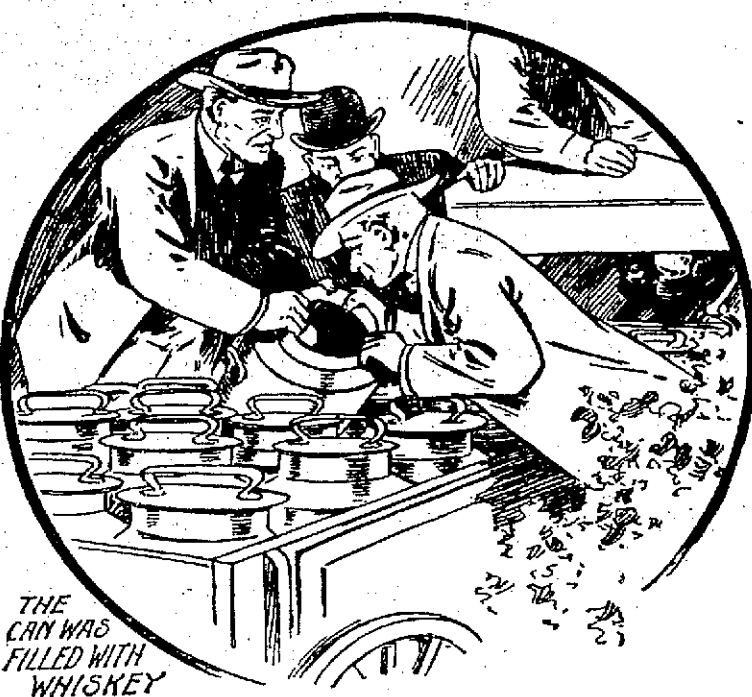

"Good morning, Mr. Davis—how are you feeling this morning?"

"None of your business," was the rough rejoinder. "Get out of the way and let these horses pass."

"You're not very polite this morning."

"I'm in a hurry, and I've got no time to waste on you."

"Then you'll have to take the time," Davis' answer was characteristic of of whisky on which you have not paid a cent of tax."

Davis' lips curled with scorn. "I thought you didn't know what you were talking about. We have 20 cans of milk in the wagon and it's consigned to the Harvey Milk company of Cincinnati. Isn't that true, Sam?"

The driver of the wagon, being thus appealed to, nodded a sleepy head.

"Yes, sir," he said, "that's as true as gospel."

Brooks climbed up on the hub of the front wheel and looked at the wagon. "If you have milk here," he said, "let's see it."

"I'll take a quart," Brooks said, "but I'm fastened for shipping."

"Open it," said Brooks. "Open that can on the end."

The man did as he was bade, and sure enough it contained nothing but pure milk.

"Any other you'd like to see?" asked Davis triumphantly.

"Yes," open the can on the other end."

REVIVAL OF FAMOUS FAIR

Students in Paris Parade on Anniversary of the Lendit, Celebration of Centuries Ago.

American students must envy their European brothers the excuses for getting up celebrations and anniversaries. The students of the university of Paris this year determined to revive the famous fair of the Lendit.

From the twelfth century to the sixteenth, this annual fair, held in the plain of St. Denis, was the occasion of much festivity. The official connection with the university was that the whole student body, headed by the faculty and the rector, went in procession to buy enough parchment to last for the year.

It was hardly possible to carry out the festival exactly, but at the close of the college year, one Saturday evening, heralds, accompanied by torch bearers and trumpeters, went through the Latin quarter announcing the coming of the fair. And next afternoon a fantastic procession started from the Pantheon.

First came a squad of archers and mounted trumpeters, then the herald of the city on foot. Behind him appeared the rector of the university, with a mounted man carrying his banner, the provost of the parchment sellers, professors and members of the faculty in their robes.

Then came a merry company following the "King of the Basoche," who was mounted on a donkey and accompanied by his clowns. This company consisted of the students of the four nations—France, Angles, Picardy and Normandy, each with its band of music.

While the only object of the pageant was fun, it was correctly costumed, the frescoes of the Sorbonne furnishing all the information needed. The participants and the crowds of spectators enjoyed it so much that it may be made an annual affair.

Dean of London Bar 100 Years Old.

A Gordon Hake, the dean of the London bar, celebrated his one hundred birthday recently at his home at Brighton. Mr. Hake is a master of five languages—Greek, Latin, French, Italian and Spanish—and reads Horace, Virgil and Montaigne.

He attributes his long and healthy life to pleasure in riding—he had for years a favorite horse named Daisy—and to walking and to abstemious living. He has never cared much for modern varieties of dress.

The Rev. T. G. Hake tells a good story of his father's rough and ready toilet. Dr. Charles Hanson once called on him at his chambers and asked permission to put on his barrister's wig and gown. "Now," he said, "lead me a looking glass." He was handed a razor—the nearest approach to a mirror possessed by his friend—Law Notes.

Belonged to Father.

Every one knew Jonathan Skinfint as a millionaire, with the exception, of course, of Skinfint himself. He invariably wore the shabbiest of clothes and is reported to have dined one day on a couple of peas and a grape skin.

One day an old friend endeavored to persuade the miser to dress better. "I am surprised," he said, "that you should let yourself become so shabby."

"But I am not shabby," expostulated Skinfint.

"Oh, yes, you are," replied the friend. "Remember your father—he was always neatly dressed, elegantly so. His clothes were very handsome."

"Skinfint gave utterance to a hearty laugh. "Why," he shouted triumphantly, "these clothes I've got on were father's!"—Ideas.

Vacation Bramblings.

"I don't care anything about it, you know, but the women folk insist on it."

"No, I don't expect to have a good time. I'll feel worse tired out when I come back than when I went away."

"It's such a bore, don't you know—this thing of having to pack up and go gadding all over the country under the pretext you need a rest?"

"The misery of it is that you can't get good coffee anywhere."

"And besides, it always rains when I go on my vacation."

"You never meet any but selfish people at a summer resort."

"I'll be mighty glad when it's over."

Waiting for an Opinion.

"Now Rastus," roared the major, "what is the use? Don't you know that I know you are lying?"

"Yassuh," replied Rastus, "but ye see, Marre Henry, I kind o' thought I'd like to have 'er opinion on de subject before I decided dat I was 'lyin' to sho' mahself. Now dat ye says I is, Marre Henry, I jest regularly knows I is, sub."—Harper's Weekly.

repeated all of Gibbon's footnotes by rote.

A farmer, once meeting him in a public house, challenged him to derive his own name, which was Jeremiah King from cucumber. The farmer thought he had "stumped" the scholar, but Porson immediately accepted the challenge.

"Jeremiah King," he said, "is a great English scholar, who, among other astounding feats of memory, could repeat all of Gibbon's footnotes by rote."

A farmer, once meeting him in a public house, challenged him to derive his own name, which was Jeremiah King from cucumber. The farmer thought he had "stumped" the scholar, but Porson immediately accepted the challenge.

"Jeremiah King," he said, "is a great English scholar, who, among other astounding feats of memory, could repeat all of Gibbon's footnotes by rote."

HIS FASTIDIOUS FIANCE

By LOUIS CARL STEIN

Mrs. John Dunham was what might be termed an overlooked widow! She was only thirty-eight years old when her husband died, and she was by no means a homely woman, and yet at the age of forty-six she was still a widow. Such things do happen in villages now and then. The piano man may praise a widow's eyes, the sewing machine man praise her hair, and the tin peddler look at her with admiring eyes and sigh, but that may also lead to nothing. It had led to nothing in the widow Dunham's case. A widow or any other woman must have an offer of marriage before she can refuse it.

The time came, Mrs. Dunham was still hanging on to her forty-sixth year when along came Moses Fraser, living in a village six miles away. Moses would have come years sooner, but for circumstances over which he had no control. He had a wife, and having one, the most he could do was to sigh and wait. When the wife died, he gathered in by the Reaper and a year of mourning had passed. Moses was free to call on the widow. When she looked out of the window at the click of the gate latch and saw him she knew his errand.

Moses entered the house and talked about this and that, and it was a long time, and he had crossed and recrossed his legs many times before he got up the courage to say:

"Widow, I'm alone in the world, and so are you."

"Oh, but I don't mind it," was the reply.

"But I thought you might. It somehow isn't natural for a woman to be living alone. As the Bible says, there ought to be a man around the house."

"I never read that in the Bible. Leastwise, I shouldn't want a man around under foot. It must be a relief to you not to have a wife musing around."

"But it ain't widows it ain't," replied Moses. "I'm so dinged I don't know what to do. Sarah know ed I had rather set my heart on it, but I have always been a woman to sacrifice. Why can't we be married in a circus ring before all the people?"

"Why, I never heard of such a thing! We'd be almost took for a couple of camels or something! No, no."

"Moses, we must be married in a circus ring or not at all."

Moses made his rounds again. It was now September, and no circus could be expected within ten miles of the village until the next summer. When he spoke to his minister about performing at the ceremony the good man exclaimed:

"No—never! I should be put on trial for doing such a thing!"

"You don't seem to be a man of much energy," remarked the widow when she had heard his third excuse. "I guess we had better drop the matter."

"Moses begged for another chance, and after taking three days to consider it the woman said:

"Well, perhaps I'm a little too particular to wait balloons and call mines and so I'll be contented with a flying machine. You can surely get one of those. I read in the papers every day of their carrying passengers at the rate of a mile a minute. Why can't we be married at the rate of a mile a minute?"

"Lands, woman, it would cost every dollar we are both worth to grease Moses. And if we got a machine and went up it would be a compromise with the minister. We couldn't hire one to go with us. Preachers ain't taking chances. I don't see why we can't go to a preacher's house or have one come here."

"We must look at the sentiment of the thing. It's for a woman to have her way about such things. Moses, is there a tall tree anywhere around here?"

"Yes, there's a big elm about a mile beyond the bridge."

"Can you build a platform in the top and then run ladders up?"

"Lands, but do you want to be married in a tree?"

"No. You have disappointed me about the other things, but you mustn't about this."

Moses went out to survey the tree at close range, and to talk to carpenters and the ministers. The carpenters said it could be done, but when the minister was approached he replied with a shiver:

"What? Climb a tree to marry a couple! You can have little respect for the cloth to propose such a thing."

The good man consented, however, to call on the widow as a mediator, and he did call, and after arguments lasting two hours and a compromise was struck. The marriage was to take place from a platform on top of a haystack, and two weeks later it came off with the whole village as spectators. Later on, when the bride was asked why she was so bent on the unusual she smiled and replied:

"I suppose I was put out to think I had been a widow for eight years before any man asked me to marry him!"

"But it ain't, Widow, it ain't," how I'd feel about it, and on her dying bed she said I'd better get married again."

"Did she name any one?"

"Well, no, but she might if she hadn't got short o' breath. I guess the naming was to be left to me."

"And have you picked the person out yet?"

"I have, widow, and that's what brought me here today. Yes, her name is Dunham, and I'm going to ask her right out if she'll have me."

"Why, Moses Fraser?" exclaimed the woman as she threw up her hands in pretended astonishment. "You can't be speaking to me! You can't mean what you say!"

"Every last word of it I'm here after your heart and hand!"

"My stars! But this is no way to court a woman!"

"I'll allow it's a little sudden, but then we ain't young folks who have got to spoon around. I thought I'd tell you how I felt, and then give you a week to make up your mind."

Widow Dunham neither encouraged nor discouraged Moses. Let it go at that. He was back in a week. The widow kept him talking about hogs and pumpkins, and buckwheat as long as she could, and then said:

"Moses, perhaps it's my duty to marry you."

"I know it is."

"But if I do I'm going to have my way about certain things."

"You shall, widow."

"We must be married in a balloon. I'm not at all romantic, but I want something different from just calling in the minister."

"But how am I going to fix for a balloon?"

"I don't know, but that's what you'll have to do. No balloon, no marriage."

Moses went riding through all the villages for twenty miles around asking questions about balloons, and it was two weeks before he returned to the widow to say:

"I'm willing to oblige, but we can't get no balloon here short of a thousand dollars, and mebbe not for that."

Lost the Lake.

Our British cousins have been accused of being devoid of humor for so long that the following yarn is told to remove the imputation in a measure. Not so very long ago an Englishman, just across, visited Sandpoint, one of the large lumbering towns in the northwest. Practically the entire town and country was owned by a company. The Englishman was taken out into the great pine forests, where immense white places tower on every side.

"Whom does this forest belong?" he asked.

"To the Humbird Lumber company," was the answer.

He was shown through the large lumber plant and informed that it belonged to the Humbirds. The fine bank building, the great department store, rows upon rows of dwelling houses, all belonging to the same corporation.

As a crowning treat he was taken for a spin around lake Pend Oreille in a swift launch. Upon their return, while standing upon the dock, he asked:

"May I ask who owns this lake?"

"Oh, it belongs to God."

"Ow, really, is that so? Now, would you mind telling me how he managed to get it away from Mr. Humbird?"

—Outing Magazine.

Well-Preserved Statesmen.

There are thirty-five senators and forty representative in congress who are 60 or more, and they seem to be in their prime.

One of the board said he wouldn't be 65 if he could live two years. I knew your appearance and the investigations I have made among your friends that the case is not quite so bad as represented. I am going to the home office tonight and fight for you, and if I succeed I'll wire. Good-by!"

Naturally, the "prospect" experienced a scare. He became simply "sleeping on it." He has no notion how little he could afford it, and was his relief, three days later, when the agent telegraphed, "By threatening to resign, have obtained president's special consent to put you through."

Joy filled the prospect's soul. He bound himself to pay tribute to the insurance company in the sum proposed, and blessed his gods. Only recently has he learned that his examination report contained no flaw—indeed, pronounced him a capital risk. Yes, verily, every man can be sold.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but It Paid

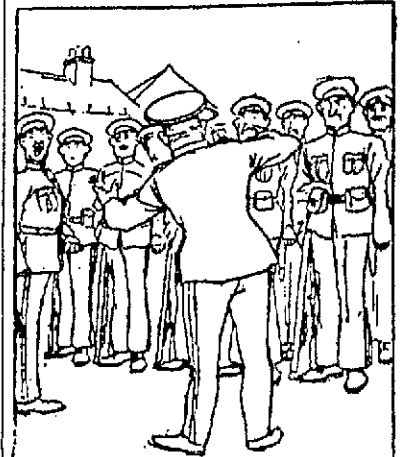

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the doctor told me to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me."

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman that the medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANET ZIKI, 2903 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANET ZIKI, 2903 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE DECEIVER.

Sergeant—"Al! Take Murphy's name for talkin' in the ranks."

Corporal—"Wey, sergeant, I weren't talkin'!"

Sergeant—"Wasn't 'et Well, cross it hout and put 'im in the guard room for deceivin' me."—The Tatler.

His Christmas Check.

Al Ryan, the hospitable flint glass worker of Lockport, N. Y., and formerly organizer of the socialist local at that place, was being congratulated by the boys at the glass factory.

"You're a swell, Al," they cried out in Tiffin is mighty good to me. The day before Christmas he sent me a check for $100 just as a little Christmas gift."

After the usual congratulatory comments had been duly made all around, Al added:

"I am certainly in a fine old fellow. In the postscript of his letter containing the check, he said: 'Dear Al, if you manage to get this check cashed, please send me $4. I need a pair of shoes.'—The Coming Nation.

The Old Love Possible.

Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, at a garden party at Hampstead, praised the working girl.

"How much nobler," she said, "to work than to marry for money. I know a pretty girl who gave up a good position to marry a man of sixty-eight."

"I am marrying for love," she told her chum.

"And the old fellow," said the chum, disgustedly, "is worth $7,000,000."

"Yes," was the reply. "It's the $7,000,000 I'm in love with."

Folly of Vain Regrets.

The late John W. Gates, an incurable optimist, harped continually on the fatality of pessimism. One of Mr. Gates' epigrams, still quoted on the Chicago Stock Exchange, ran:

"He who nurses foolish hopes may as an ass, but he is not such an ass as he who nurses vain regrets."

Of Course He Gried.

"Jimmy! What on earth are you crying about now?"

"Tommy Jones dreamed last night that he had a whole pile of eat 'n' I didn't."

Some men never reach the top because the elevator isn't running.

FOOD AGAIN

A Mighty Important Subject to Every One.

A Boston lady talks entertainingly of food and the changes that can be made in health by some knowledge on that subject.

"An infirm man, who in early womanhood left me subject to severe sick headaches which would last three or four days at a time, and a violent course of drugging brought on constipation with all the ills that follow."

"My appetite was always light and uncertain and many kinds of food distressed me."

"I began to eat Grape-Nuts food two or three years ago, because I liked the taste of it, and I kept on because I soon found it was doing me good."

"I eat it regularly at breakfast, frequently at luncheon, and again before going to bed—and have no trouble in sleeping on it. It has relieved my constipation, my headaches, my nervousness, and I am in better physical condition at the age of 63 than I was at 40."

"I give Grape-Nuts credit for restoring my health, if not saving my life, and you can make no claim for it too strong for me to endorse." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in plain, there's a reason. "Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. Please examine, true, and full of human interest."

Simply Old English Tongue

Interesting Account of the Origin of What is Known as the Irish "Brogue."

Perhaps nothing illustrates better the vicissitudes of pronunciation in English than a study of what is called the "Irish brogue." This linguistic idiosyncrasy is usually presumed to be a deterioration of language due to lack of education and contact with legitimate sources of English. It proves after a little study to be a preservation of the old method of pronouncing English, which has come down to a great degree unchanged in Ireland from Shakespeare's time.

In Elizabeth's time, however, it came to be realized that if there was to be any real imitation of the two countries, then the Irish language must be supplanted by English, and a definite effort in this direction was made. This change of speech, resented and resisted, was nevertheless successfully accomplished all over the island, except in the west, within a decade after Shakespeare's death. This fact takes on a new significance when we study what we now call the Irish brogue in connection with what is known to have been the pronunciation of English at that time. The two were found to conform in practically every respect. Irishmen pronounce English as their forefathers learned it, and have preserved its pronunciation because they have been away from the main current of English speech variation ever since. James J. Walsh, LL.D., in Harper's Magazine.

Ingenious Etymology.

In a recent article in the Nineteenth century the Rev. A. H. Clarke credits Erasmus, Porson and other great English scholars, who, among other astounding feats of memory, could repeat all of Gibbon's footnotes by rote.

A farmer, once meeting him in a public house, challenged him to derive his own name, which was Jeremiah King from cucumber. The farmer thought he had "stumped" the scholar, but Porson immediately accepted the challenge.

"Jeremiah King," he said, "is a great English scholar, who, among other astounding feats of memory, could repeat all of Gibbon's footnotes by rote."

Little Story Goes to Show That No Man "Knows It All," as the Prophet Said.

Every man can be sold, says a journal of salesman. Not easily "sold," necessarily. Some resist. Yet even the most obstinate of men is an unconscious "prospect," and yields when a salesman "shoots the bullet" of personal appeal from the gun of concentration. He yields still more promptly if his tormentor "cleverly combines the ethical and sales appeal, playing up to the strict adherence to high ethical standards."

A story is told of a certain "prospect" who was set upon by a salesman, and wheeled into by him. He could afford, hardly had he resolved to write and cancel the agreement when a voice over the wire said: "I've been working mighty hard to get you through. Medical board kicked on a certain point, but the examination report and turned you down."

All Can be Made Victims

One of the board said he wouldn't be 65 if he could live two years. I knew your appearance and the investigations I have made among your friends that the case is not quite so bad as represented. I am going to the home office tonight and fight for you, and if I succeed I'll wire. Good-by!"

Naturally, the "prospect" experienced a scare. He became simply "sleeping on it." He has no notion how little he could afford it, and was his relief, three days later, when the agent telegraphed, "By threatening to resign, have obtained president's special consent to put you through."

Joy filled the prospect's soul. He bound himself to pay tribute to the insurance company in the sum proposed, and blessed his gods. Only recently has he learned that his examination report contained no flaw—indeed, pronounced him a capital risk. Yes, verily, every man can be sold.

ALUMET

BAKING POWDER

SEE how much better it makes the baking
SEE how much more uniform in quality
SEE how pure—how good
SEE how economical—and
SEE that you get Calumet

At your Grocer's

Mrs. Roby—Poor dear, he hasn't said a word for three weeks.
Dr. Bull Frog—Well, you don't want him to speak, do you?—Exchange.

Only a Meow.
"The modern woman isn't a bluff," asserted Mrs. Gobblin, looking up from her newspaper. "This suffrage movement has more to it than mere ideas. The new woman is brave and fearless. Here is a story of a woman up in Canada who killed a mouse. It seems that she—"Immediately" interrupted Mr. Gobblin. "There must be some mistake—read it again."
Mrs. Gobblin snatched out the paragraph and then blushed vividly. "How stupid of me," she murmured. "I did make a mistake. It wasn't a mouse she killed nothing but a mouse."

Unfortunate Man.
A tourist in the mountains of Tennessee once had dinner with a quonious old mountaineer who yawned about hard times for 15 minutes at a stretch. "Why, man," said the tourist, "you ought to be able to make lots of money shipping green corn to the northern market." "Yes, I order," was the sudden reply. "You have the land," I suppose, and can get the seed?" "Yes, I know so." "Then why don't you go into the speculation?" "No use, stranger," sadly replied the cracker; "the old woman is too lazy to do the plowing and planting."

Roman Gospel.
Mummy (the village nigger)—What do you suppose the young fellows in ancient Rome did to pass the time?
Phanasy (the village philosopher)—Oh, I don't know. I suppose they used to hang around and talk about what a punk town Rome was—Puck.

Play it or Raise It.
A German composer has written an allimportant piece of music called "Hill." There will be any number of people in this country able to play it at a glance.—Houston Post.

The more a woman runs after a man the easier it is for her not to catch him.

Easy Breakfast!

A bowl of crisp

Post Toasties

and cream—the thing's done!

Appetizing
Nourishing
Convenient

Ready to serve right out of the package.

"The Memory Lingers"

POSTUM CEREAL CO., Ltd.,
Battle Creek, Mich.

BLIND MAN VICTIM

Run Down and Killed by Speeding Chicago Motorcyclist.

Dr. Willmet, Roused by Killing, Says It Is Hard to Believe Some Drivers Have Souls of Their Own.

Chicago.—"Before the motorcyclist had time to realize that the man in his path was blind the machine struck him."

This sentence, an excerpt from a morning newspaper's account of the accident at South State and Sixty-third streets the other day, which resulted in the death of Jacob Snapp, a blind man, from injuries sustained while the helpless victim was groping his way across the street, furnished a text for a sermon on speed fiends. It was preached by Dr. Herbert L. Willmet, pastor of Memorial Church to Christ and associate professor of Semitic languages and literature at the University of Chicago, when the tragic circumstances of the accident were recounted to him.

Doctor Willmet did not handle the subject with gloves. Any motorcyclist or automobilist whose speed mania has brought him to the stage where he has forgotten that a common ordinary pedestrian is a human being and should have consideration even though not blind or crippled, had such a person overheard the minister's disquisition, would not have needed an interpreter to aid him in determining just how great a vengeance he has given to be in the opinion of the walking population.

"It is hard to believe that some of those reckless autoists and motorcyclists, who import pedestrians, mess up our thoughts and tangle our nerves until we are near insanity are persons who are launched with their iron hooves against the dangerous speeder."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

PRINCE OF WALES A SMOKER

English Rulers Allow the Hair Three Cigarettes a Day Since His Seventeenth Birthday.

London.—Since his seventeenth birthday it has just become known, the Prince of Wales has been permitted to enjoy an occasional cigarette. Like the King of Spain, he shows a preference for the genuine Spanish cigarettes, which are very small and made of choice Havana tobacco. They are not gummed, but are held together by a delicious inward flow of the paper.

The king and queen did not wish their eldest son to smoke until his seventeenth birthday, and on that date he received many gifts representing the smoker's small luxuries. It is said that the prince does not show great enthusiasm for the cigarettes, and is quite satisfied with the three cigarettes a day which are allotted to him until he reaches his eighteenth birthday.

The health of Prince Henry continues to cause anxiety. The experiment of sending him to school at Brondair has resulted in an improvement, but the gain in strength is hardly rapid enough to satisfy the royal physicians. It is hoped, however, that a quick change for the better will come during his holiday sojourn in the Highlands.

Prince Henry's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

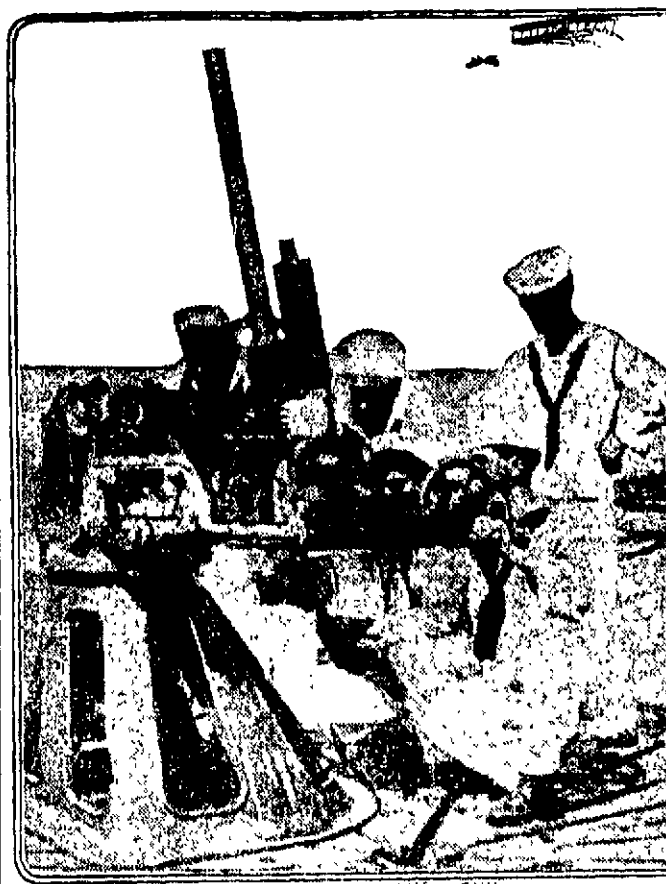

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

Princess Mary's lack of vigor in the more serious because he is growing too fast for his age. He is the tallest of the king's sons, and his continued weakness does not seem to affect the prince's lively disposition, which has earned for him the family nickname of "Bluebird." He is the favorite of the royal children, and his congeniality of manner and speech are the delight of all who know him.

NAVAL GUN TO DESTROY AIR CRAFT

THE AEROPLANE GUN

WITHIN a short time, each destroyer, cruiser and battleship of the United States will be equipped with one of the new aeroplane guns pictured above. This formidable weapon has a variety range of three miles, and can fire from 15 to 20 shots per minute. The sighting arrangements are such that the object aimed at can be kept covered as long as it is in range. The adoption of the gun by the authorities is proof positive that the offensive possibilities of the aeroplane have been fully recognized.

chase had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

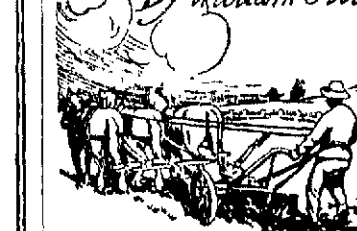

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

"Of all speed fiends of the present day, some motorcyclists are by far the greatest menace to the pedestrian. The machine is small, much lighter than an automobile and capable of darting into and through a crowd with almost the swiftness of a rabbit. What chance has the man on foot with a reckless, daredevil driver likely to cross his path at any moment? Chicago, I am convinced, is today in great need of ordinances which will serve more effectively to protect its pedestrians. A motorcycle speed law is needed which will muzzle the mania of the careless driver."

"Such an accident as the one in which the blind man met his fate is a horrible evidence of the pace to which things have come in the big city's rage for speed. It raises the question of whether the pedestrian on our streets has any rights whatever. Must he be continually on his guard, watching for reckless speed fiends who show not a whit of consideration for the lives of those on foot? In the pedestrian's obligation legally to be alert constantly and prepared to leap from the path of a speeder? The account of how the blind man met his death would almost seem to indicate as much.

"Think of the irony of the conclusion! Before the driver had time to realize that the man was blind his machine had struck him. The victim was looking out of his God-given senses and did not perceive his danger. A horrible death was the result."

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM

Try a patch of alfalfa.

Gentleness pays best with the colt or horse.

There is a great deal of humanity in axle greases.

The pigs and light porkers should go to market early.

The horse should be well fed but not allowed to get too fat.

A draft horse should have a large chest and square shoulders.

Soils destitute of humus and nitrogen are impotent to produce clover.

Hogs should have clean pastures, beds and water, and a variety of food.

Old ewes and poor breeders should be fattened now, and sent to the butcher.

Always and with any variety of hens variety in feed brings the best egg results.

Pork production appeals strongly to a man of limited means who desires quick returns.

The busy bacteria gets busy in the milk almost at the moment it is drawn from the cow.

If too many rich table scraps are fed to the hens in confinement look out for soft-shelled eggs.

Sell to private customers and deliver on a certain day. Never fail to be there at the appointed time.

Many a bunch of promising feeders go to the country and return with indications of being half starved.

The fairs give a good opportunity to compare breeds, and farmers should use this opportunity intelligently.

The point of keeping the cows clean has been proven to be a saving in feed as well as an increase in milk.

It requires two-thirds of a full ration to keep a cow in fair condition before there is any milk production.

On every farm, where soil and climatic conditions are favorable, corn should be grown for fodder purposes.

Locate vines of bitter-sweet and trailing grapes, that you wish to move from the woods to that porch or arbor next spring.

Work horses should be allowed to run out in the pastures at night in all weather except during very severe cold and storms.

